U. S. INSISTS ON 5-5-3 CRUISER RATIO FOR JAPAN

Also Opposes Any Political Pact.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 19.—The American delegation touched off a diplomatic bombshell within the purlieus of the London naval conference today, shortly before it was adjourned for a week because of the French cabinet crisis. The Americans served notice on Europe and Japan just how far they may be expected to go in the negotiations for the limitation and reduction of armaments.

Senator Joseph T. Robinson, at the luncheon of the American Association of Newspaper Correspondents in London and in the presence of Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson and other members of the American delegation, delivered an address which had been approved by the delegation. He made three outstanding declarations:

First—America stands for the extension of the 5-5-3 naval limitation ratio for capital ships, established at the Washington conference, to all classes of warships. By virtue of this ratio Japan is entitled to substantially 60 per cent of the American tonnage in cruisers, destroyers and submarines.

Opposes Political Pact.

Second—America will not join a Mediterranean security pact or any political agreement requiring the United States to employ armed forces to enforce "obligations assumed with other nations."

Senator Robinson's declaration foreshadows an impasse with Japan unless it yields to the American contention. The Japanese are demanding 70 per cent of the American big cruiser tonnage quota and parity in submarines. America proposes to hold Japan to her present 12 eight-inch gun cruisers, which have been built, or are in the process of building, aggregating 143,500 tons, or 60 per cent of the tonnage of the 18 big cruisers that the United States has under the Anglo-American agreement.

Japan is demanding 14 big cruisers, aggregating 126,000 tons. America, with 18,500 tons of submarines, proposes to reduce to 60,000 tons, and would limit Japan to 40,000 tons, or 63½ per cent, compared to the 78,000 tons of submarines that Japan now possesses.

Japan Declines Comment.

The Japanese declined tonight to comment on the Robinson statement, beyond calling attention to the senator's qualification that the Washington conference ratio should be substantially extended to auxiliary ships. They take great comfort in the word "substantially."

They hold that 70 per cent of the big cruiser tonnage and parity in submarines would leave the average ratio at substantially 60 per cent.

The Robinson declaration has left no doubt that the American delegation is unqualifiedly committed against the Mediterranean security pact that France is demanding. As to the Atlantic pact, or a pact to put teeth into the Kellogg anti-war treaty, it was not definite.

U. S. Wants No Entanglements.

"My understanding," Senator Robinson said, "is that the people of the United States quite generally adhere to the traditional policy of our government to avoid, if possible, involvement in European politics. They would repudiate emphatically any treaty expressly or impliedly obligating our government to employ the army or the navy for the enforcement of obligations assumed by other nations. It is for this reason that they do not encourage their delegates to this conference to join in guarantees of security in troubling areas remote from territory or possessions of the United States.

"Americans realize no power will deliberately violate its undertaking for limitation or reduction of armaments. They believe that no sanction necessary to assure good faith performance of any treaty for that purpose.

"This attitude does not only imply indifference or lack of sympathy for the problems of others. It is grounded in the American conception of sound policy and constitutional limitations."

Sees Only Big Ship Slash.

The least interesting disclosure in the Robinson speech is the expectation of the American delegation that the only reduction in armament will be in capital ships at this conference, but that limitation and reduction of cruisers, destroyers, and submarines will be sought in a future parley.

ALL STAR CAST DEPICTS EVILS FOR CONGRESS

Wickersham Scored by Henry B. Joy.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—[Special.]—Three wealthy business executives, a famous novelist and an equally well known dramatist laid down a new and devastating barrage upon the 18th amendment today at the third public hearing on prohibition before the house judiciary committee.

COL. GRAYSON M. P. MURPHY.

For nearly five hours, before a row of a dozen congressmen and flanked by a crowd which jammed the hearing room to capacity and spilled into the hallways, the citizen witnesses presented a kaleidoscope view of prohibition at its worst—a ruinous, tyrannical, and farcical failure.

It was a day of triumph for the wets, probably the biggest they have had at this session of congress, because it was the first time during the dry era that a congressional committee has heard anti-prohibition evidence from a group of witnesses all of whom are listed in "Who's Who in America."

A Noteworthy List.

Those appearing were:

Henry B. Joy, Detroit millionaire, founder and director of the Packard Motor company, who denounced both his party and his church because they have joined hands with the Anti-Saloon league.

Col. Grayson M. P. Murphy, New York banker, director of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, Goodyear Rubber and Tire company, and other large corporations. He condemned prohibition as an economic and social blunder.

Owen Johnson, New York, author of "The Wasted Generation," "The Varmint," "The Salamander," and several other novels. Fully 80 per cent of the authors of America are militantly opposed to prohibition and striving against it, he testified.

Channing Pollock, New York playwright and lecturer, author of "The Sign on the Door," "The Fool," "The Enemy," and other dramas, who described the dry law as a monumental joke, both in this country and abroad.

Capt. William H. Stayton, New York, president of the Baltimore Steamship company and other shipping concerns and chairman of the board of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment. He demanded absolute repeal of the 18th amendment.

Chicagoans to Be Heard.

Another series of prominent witnesses will appear before the committee tomorrow, and, under an agreement reached at today's session, there probably will be more on Wednesday and Thursday of next week, before the drys appear. Representative J. Charles Linthicum [Dem., Md.], manager of the wet testimony, was granted an indefinite extension of time, in view of the fact that proceedings in the house have slowed down pending senate action on the tariff bill.

This means that several Chicagoans already invited will be given an opportunity to testify, probably next Wednesday. Representatives James Igoe and Adolph Sabath [Dem., Ill.], after a conference with Mr. Linthicum, announced that it is now certain that the Chicagoans will have a half day hearing.

Attorney Ralph M. Shaw of the law firm of Winston, Strawn & Shaw, a director of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, is the only Chicagoan on the program for this week. He will appear tomorrow.

Shots Fired from Every Angle.

Nearly every conceivable aspect of prohibition was discussed at today's hearing by the various witnesses. Beginning with a legal argument by Capt. Stayton, the testimony centered about the menace of dry and religious lobbies in the speech of Mr. Joy. It dug deep into the psychological and emotional situation as Mr. Johnson spoke, and wound up with a machine gun fire of epigrams and witticisms from the quick tongue of Mr. Pollock.

Swanson Gets Hot Retort for Police Rebuke

Gun Sales Tripled

Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—[Special.]—Despite the nation-wide campaign to restrict the sale of firearms, there was almost a threefold increase in the purchase of pistols during the first seven months of the current fiscal year, according to a report issued today by the bureau of internal revenue. Excise taxes on these weapons totaled $272,555 in the seven months, compared with $94,011 for the same period of the previous year.

State's Attorney Swanson received a hot rejoinder from the police department last night after he had criticized the organized drive against Chicago crime and had sought to blame the police for his failure to convict gun toters.

After rebuking the police for bringing in too many minor gunmen the prosecutor sent some of his own men out to arrest more important gangsters. The police assigned to the prosecutor's office strapped on their guns and started out. They reported meeting one automobile load of gunmen, who fired on them and got away. Later they raided a saloon and picked up six men whom they described as real gangsters. But the suspects turned out to be small time hoodlums. No "big shots" were in jail up to a late hour last night as a result of the prosecutor's efforts.

Chief Egan Makes Reply.

Acting Chief of Detectives John Egan was stung to a warm retort by Mr. Swanson's criticisms.

"Mr. Swanson is playing the old army game of 'blame it on the police,'" said Egan. "When they are running for office these prosecutors go around declaiming, 'Elect me, and I'll drive all the gunmen out of town.' After they are elected they sing a different tune. 'I'm not a policeman, but a prosecutor,' they say then. 'Let the police bring the gunmen in and I'll prosecute them.'

"Well, Swanson has been attempting to prosecute them. And if the men he had before the courts in the last two days are the kind of gunmen he has indicted all the way through—if his prosecutions of the last two days are a sample of what's to come—then we can't have much hope of results there."

Three Freed in Courts.

The acting chief of detectives referred to the cases of Thomas Vinceri, cabinetmaker, and Joseph Henzik and Jerry Van Cura. These three had been indicted by Swanson for gun toting, had been brought before the courts and released because they had no previous criminal record of any kind. Moreover, all had shown some legitimate reasons as citizens for having revolvers in their possession.

Swanson, ignoring the fact that his own aids had indicted these men, had called up Commissioner Russell and told him it was no use to "clutter up the grand jury" with minor violators.

"Minor violators!" ejaculated Chief Egan. "I'll grant they may have been; but if they were, what did Swanson indict them for? The police found them with guns on them. It was Swanson's duty, after they were turned over, to determine whether they should be indicted or not. If his office had investigated and obtained the facts as they were later brought out in court these men should never have been indicted.

"Blaming the police department seems to be a favorite pastime of state's attorneys. What are the facts

BUSINESS MEN SUBSCRIBE TO BUY WARRANTS

Set Goal of Pledges at $50,000,000.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The prospect became brighter yesterday of getting the cash to operate the city, county, schools, and sanitary district until July 1, but each on a reduced ration. The mass meeting of large taxpayers called by the Strawn citizens' committee at the Mid-Day club was attended by about 70 business representatives. Nearly every one present was asked his view and each promised coöperation. Not a discordant note was sounded.

No written pledges were requested, but at the conclusion of the session Silas H. Strawn said:

"It was indicated here that we could probably raise $43,000,000."

The plan of operation will not become operative until pledges or cash are obtained totaling $50,000,000. Mr. Strawn thought that this goal might be reached by Saturday.

Plan to Create Taxpayers' Trust.

The plan is the creation of "the Cook County Taxpayers' Warrant Trust." The corporate trustee will be the Continental Illinois bank. Each participating taxpayer will subscribe for a certain interest in the trust, which in turn will buy tax anticipation warrants so that the local governments can obtain cash on which to keep going.

When a minimum of $50,000,000 has been subscribed, although the local governments desire $74,000,000, the trust will begin operation—not before that total is reached.

The chief interests which indicated an intention to go along with the plan, if it is approved by their lawyers or executive committees, are the loop banks; the railroads, which pay more than $11,000,000 in taxes; a group of large industries which pay between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000; the building managers, whose office buildings pay about $12,000,000 in taxes; the public utilities, which contribute more than $14,000,000; the large hotels; the department stores, and the meat packers.

Field & Co. Already a Buyer.

Marshall Field & Co. announced that it has already bought $500,000 worth of the 1928 tax anticipation warrants. Robert F. Carr said that he would buy $100,000 worth in addition to what the Dearborn Chemical company, of which he is president, will take.

"The emergency is equal to that of 1917 and 1918," Mr. Carr told the gathering.

"The banks will do more than their share," said Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National bank. "The situation is approaching a very serious point. It is all damn nonsense for you, one after another, to say that you will go along with the plan if your lawyers say it is legal. We might just as well quit if you do that.

"The banks have $186,000,000 of these tax anticipation warrants now. No bank would ask you to buy them, if they were not legal. The money is needed in 48 hours."

Pirie Willing to Help.

John T. Pirie of Carson Pirie Scott & Co. said that his concern always tries to do its part in every civic movement.

"We will do our part," announced W. E. Storey, president of the Santa Fé railroad. Favorable comments were added by H. R. Kurrie, president of the Monon; F. E. Williamson, president of the Burlington; W. G. Bierd, receiver of the Alton; and representatives of the Baltimore and Ohio, the Pennsylvania, and the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroads.

"And they will continue to do it," added Philip Reid of Armour & Co. Other packers followed.

Manufacturers Pledge Aid.

Secor Cunningham, executive secretary of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, said that the 2,000 members of the association in Cook county pay between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 a year in taxes and that the association, by resolution of its directorate, has already pledged itself to give full support to the movement.

Theodore W. Robinson, vice president of the Illinois Steel company, and G. A. Ranney, president of the International Harvester company, were prominent among the representatives from large manufacturers.

"We'll do our part," said Tracy Drake of the Drake and Blackstone hotels. Walter L. Gregory of the Palmer house also expressed the sympathy of hotel operators with the program.

"Let me tell you, if I may," said

NECKING IN MOVIE O. K., JURY HOLDS; BRIDE WINS $1,250

The quaint old custom of "necking" in motion picture theaters received the sanction of the law yesterday in the court of Circuit Judge George Fred Rush. A jury not only decided that such pastimes are unobjectionable, but decided also that a bride who is forcibly ejected from a theater for indulging in the practice is entitled to damages and returned a verdict of $1,250 for Mrs. Ruby Dogert, 27 years old, 4916 Jackson boulevard, against the Crawford theater, 19 South Crawford avenue.

Mrs. Dogert and her husband, Peter, were newlyweds when, according to her testimony, they rubbed shoulders in the Crawford theater in May, 1926. On their next visit to the theater on May 22, 1926, the doorman warned them that they must not "neck" or "shoulder" in the theater.

The Dogerts resented the warning and demanded an apology, but instead of an apology, Mrs. Dogert said, the manager threw their admission fees at them and pushed them through a crowded lobby to the sidewalk. Mrs. Dogert sued the theater.

IDLER ARRESTED FOR BEATING HIS MOTHER, AGED 84

Tony Stepka, 47 years old, was arrested by the West Chicago avenue police last night on the complaint of his wife, who charged him with beating his mother, Mrs. Anna Stepka, 84 years old, in her home at 711 Temple street. Mrs. Stepka told the police that she worked as a scrubwoman to support Stepka and that he spent the money on moonshine. Last night, she said, he returned home drunk, and when his mother remonstrated with him after he had abused his wife, Stepka knocked the aged woman down and then drove her from the house. A charge of disorderly conduct was placed against him.

Louis Friedman, 36 years old, 1132 North Lawndale avenue, a tailor, who was fined $200 on Feb. 13 after he had evicted his mother, Mrs. Sarah Friedman, 75 years old, from his flat, attempted to end his life by turning on the gas in his apartment last night. Police supposed he was remorseful over his act. He was revived.

Farnham Bishop's Widow Dies of Pneumonia; Son Ill

Berkeley, Cal., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Mrs. Miriam Supple Bishop, 38, widow of Farnham Bishop, noted novelist of New York, died here today after being stricken with pneumonia. Her husband died last Sunday, also a victim of pneumonia. A son, Brewster Bishop, is so ill with the same ailment that physicians have not told him of his parents' deaths.

Killing Brings Vigilantes to Guard Women

With their womenfolk terrified because of a number of attacks by morons, climaxed Monday night by the slaying of Mrs. Agnes Lavander, 35 years old, one hundred men residents of the Forest Glen district in the far northwest side of Chicago last night decided to form a vigilance committee.

A number of the men will ask Sheriff Traeger today to deputize them as special deputy sheriffs so that they may carry arms and patrol the lonely neighborhood which is bordered by the forest preserve. There are not enough policemen in the Irving Park station to guard homes in the district properly, the property owners declared.

"Hiding Place for Morons."

"The forest preserves out here are a favorite hiding place for morons of the worst type," declared Edward L. Feth, who was nominated one of the leaders of the vigilance committee. "We have had two attacks upon women recently and a number of minor burglaries and other annoyances. Our women are in a state of terror and we must do something to protect them."

Mrs. Lavander's slaying, however, seemed destined to be added to the list of unsolved murders in Chicago: After lengthy questioning of John Seibel, 2811 North Central Park avenue, who was found wandering in the forest preserves near the scene of the crime, police were practically convinced that Seibel had nothing to do with the crime.

The authorities at Ottawa, Ill., wired the detective bureau that they were holding John Newman, 35 years old, as a suspect in the case. Newman, they said, could not give a coherent account of his doings during the last few days.

Scratched Cheek Clew Fails.

The story of Station Agent Harry N. Abitz, who told of being accosted by an unshaven man, with a scratched cheek, Tuesday night, led to no new information, an investigation revealed. The theory that the stranger had been scratched by Mrs. Lavander in a scuffle was discarded when it was pointed out that the slain woman had worn gloves.

Acting Chief of Detectives Egan ordered an investigation of the movements of inmates of Dunning, an insane asylum located two miles from where the murder took place. A lunatic probably killed the woman, Egan said, inasmuch as the murdered had apparently no motive.

An inquest held by Deputy Coroner James Gleason failed to throw any light on the woman's death. Her husband, Stanley, said he could think of no motive for the killing.

"She had no enemies," he wept. "She was the most pleasant and agreeable woman in the world."

N. U. FRATERNITY BOY DISAPPEARS; SEARCH STARTED

Members of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity of Northwestern university yesterday started a search for their vice president, Henry R. Manahan, 19 years old, a sophomore. Manahan, the son of Mrs. John L. Manahan, a widow living at 4241 North Ashland avenue, has been missing since Monday morning.

Manahan, who resides at the fraternity house at 2023 Orrington avenue, Evanston, visited his home over the week end and rode to Evanston with a brother on Monday morning. He did not appear at the fraternity house and has not returned home since then.

Find Body of Eielson in Wreckage of Plane

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Feb. 19.—(AP)—The body of Pilot Carl Ben Eielson was found yesterday (Tuesday) in the wreckage of his plane ninety miles southeast of North Cape, Siberia, Pilot Joe Crosson radioed from the fur trading ship Nanuk at North Cape tonight. Eielson and his mechanic, Earl Borland, were lost Nov. 9 last while flying from Teller, Alaska, to the Nanuk. Borland's body was found last Thursday.

Mr. Traylor, "that you have had governmental protection and service for two years without paying for it. From what I know of business during the last two years, I believe that you have made a good return on the money you have set up for taxes. Now is the time to settle."

"The emergency is not a matter of days but of hours," added Lewis E. Myers, school trustee and one of those who aided in developing the plan. "Every one needs the protection of the policemen and firemen and there are certain health services which must be maintained."

John Redmond of the Building Managers' association said that the directors of that association are willing to recommend that the members pay four-fifths of their taxes.

"If all the members act favorably on that suggestion," he said, "the large buildings would participate to the extent of about $10,000,000."

Public Utilities to Coöperate.

The public utilities announced without exception that they will be glad to coöperate. This promise includes the Edison company, for which Edward J. Doyle, vice president, spoke; the gas company, represented by George F. Mitchell, and the telephone company. It was regarded as probable that the surface and the elevated lines would join the movement, because they have set aside sufficient cash to pay both 1928 and 1929 taxes.

Practically all the large loop banks were represented at the meeting. Eugene Stevens, president of the Continental-Illinois group, said that he indorsed the remarks made by Mr. Traylor. Philip Clarke of the Central Trust followed suit. Solomon Smith of the Northern Trust added another word, and a representative of the Harris Trust said that that institution has been a purchaser of tax anticipation warrants for years.

Harold Foreman of the Foreman banks went along with the others in the banking business. Rufus C. Dawes, also of the Central Trust, and David R. Forgan of the National Bank of the Republic were among the bankers in the gathering.

Sprague Indorses Relief Plan.

Col. A. A. Sprague, who has spent much of his time for years in civic movements, indorsed the plan. Victor Olander, secretary of the Illinois Federation of Labor; Prof. Charles E. Merriam of the University of Chicago; George O. Fairweather, assistant business manager of the university; Harris Keeler of the bureau of public efficiency; John O. Reese of the joint tax commission, and Prof. Simeon O. Leland were others at the gathering.

The relief which the large taxpayers are expected to supply will be dealt out without conditions. Mr. Strawn told the audience that the private citizens have no power to dictate how the money shall be spent. He said that the elected officials are responsible to the people and that they must continue to bear that burden.

However, the Strawn citizens' committee will have the controlling voice in saying how much shall be given to each governmental agency and at what periods. To that extent there will be a curb on waste, because it is not proposed to raise enough money to meet the budgets of all the governments.

Some Legislative Suggestions.

That the large taxpayers may have an idea of what will probably be asked of the generally assembly in the way of legislation, after emergency relief has been administered, Mr. Strawn gave the meeting six suggestions drafted by the technical staff of the citizens' committee. Those suggestions are as follows:

"1. Validation of any tax anticipation warrants, the legality of which may be questioned.

"2. To make general obligations of the issuing municipalities the deficiency caused by failure to collect taxes for 1928 and 1929 equal to the face of the tax warrants and interest thereon issued against said taxes.

"3. To make solvent the general fund of Cook county, the corporate fund of the city of Chicago, and the educational fund of the schools.

"4. Systems of budgetary control to confine expenditures for each year to the revenue of that year.

"5. Simplification of the assessment organization and procedure in order to centralize authority and to remove the paralysis resulting from political rivalry and easy evasion of responsibility.

"6. Provision for the collection of 1929 and subsequent years' taxes at definite times and as promptly as may be deemed practicable, consistent with the needs of the government and the interest of the taxpayers.

Caldwell Isn't Mentioned.

Apparently the news brought from New York yesterday by H. Wallace Caldwell, president of the board of education, did not interest the taxpayers. Mr. Strawn said that it was not mentioned at the meeting. Mr. Caldwell claimed that in his two weeks' sojourn in the east he had found four buyers for $48,750,000 worth of school tax anticipation warrants "on certain conditions." He would not disclose yesterday what these conditions are. While in New York Mr. Caldwell said that local bankers must approve the purchase.

CITY FINANCIAL ILLS CAN'T STOP FAIR, DAWES SAYS

Rufus Dawes, president of the Century of Progress exposition, yesterday gave positive assurance that the world's fair will be held here in 1933. Addressing more than 1,000 members of the Chicago Association of Commerce at a luncheon in the La Salle hotel, Mr. Dawes put aside rumors spread in other cities that plans for the fair had been abandoned, due to the city's financial troubles.

"You may have your doubts as to the size of the celebration," said Mr. Dawes. "You may have your doubts as to the ability of the men who have it in charge to make it all it ought to be, but it is slander upon Chicago for any one to express the slightest doubt as to whether there will be such a celebration.

"This calamity, serious in its consequences and unprecedented in its nature, does not, however, reflect discredit upon our governing bodies. Our balance sheet is good and by far the best of all great American cities."

"Reputation Not Deserved."

"We are better than the world believes us to be," Mr. Dawes asserted. "We admit our character needs bracing, but our reputation is much worse than we deserve. We can improve it by making ourselves better known and understood."

Dr. F. R. Moulton, formerly of the University of Chicago and now chairman of the exposition's astronomy committee, explained the completed and final ground plan for the fair. The main group of buildings will be located between 16th and 25th streets. They will form an amphitheater around the lagoons where numerous water pageants are to be held.

Between 31st and 38th streets will be the transportation exhibits. The present outer drive will be within the gates, and a temporary drive will be built outside the fair grounds for the use of city traffic.

Predicts 10,000,000 Guests.

Dr. Moulton predicted the centennial will bring 10,000,000 visitors to Chicago from all parts of the world, and said that between 80,000,000 and 100,000,000 paid admissions might be expected during the 150 days of the fair's duration.

Visitors from out of the city will bring some $500,000,000 to Chicago. Paid admissions will bring in $80,000,000 as compared to $21,000,000 during the Columbian exposition in 1893, he said.

WAUKEGAN, LACKING CASH, DEMANDS ITS WATER BILLS BE PAID

With only $40,000 on hand to meet a $60,000 payment due on March 1 on Waukegan's new municipal water plant, Finance Commissioner Albert F. Carney announced yesterday that the water supply of 300 citizens would be cut off on the first of the month unless their water rent is paid before that time. Carney said that the list of delinquents included many wealthy Waukegan residents, some of whom ars a year in arrears.

BYFIELD FOUND TO BE SUFFERING FROM CONCUSSION

Eugene Byfield, hotel owner and sportsman, was still in an unconscious condition last night after a fall from his horse during a polo game at the Chicago Riding club Tuesday night. Physicians took X-ray pictures and found his skull was not fractured, but that he was suffering from a severe concussion. His condition was said to be satisfactory.

Mr. Byfield was playing in the first chukker of the game when his horse suddenly bolted and he was hurled over the animal's head. Frank Bering, business associate and friend of the injured man, was in the club at the time and he rushed Mr. Byfield to the Passavant hospital. He is under the care of Dr. Loyal E. Davis.

HOWARD STREET SUGGESTS TRIAL OF CITY MANAGER

Business Men Say City Needs Honest Rule.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Why not a city manager for Chicago?

That is what some of the Howard street business men who were approached yesterday for their ideas on the present administrative muddle in Chicago are asking.

Howard street is farthest north, a fast growing community. It has a strong community spirit, but is also deeply interested in the welfare of the city as a whole.

Jacob L. Zender, florist, a leader in the Business Men's association of the district and in the work of the local Kiwanis club, had this to say:

"Want Honest Men to Run City."

"The people want honest men to run the city and there are plenty of them but the people do not know where to turn for them in politics.

"We have a good spirit out here but we must be square shooters or they will ride us to death. Conditions are bad with many government employés who have not been paid and they are trying to borrow money. We have had to send around groceries to some.

"We are tired of the city hall gang. The city hall is full of fixers. They stand around there ready to fix anything, but it takes money. If you go to pay a bill they run you all around the place.

"Why Not Like Business?"

"Why not run the city as a business proposition and let each job out on a contract basis and force them to keep within that figure?

"I think it would be a good idea to have a committee representing all the communities, as well as the loop, good men that the people will trust, and have them go to Cincinnati and Baltimore and find out how they cleaned things up in those cities. Cincinnati, I understand, used to be in as bad a political fix as we are. Let the committee make a report on these things that the people will know is true."

Bruce E. Hakes, vice president of the Illinois State bank and member of the Howard Street Business Men's association, said:

"No one seems to know what ought to be done, although Chicago is in a very serious situation. While our activities are naturally directed first toward the welfare of our own neighborhood, we are willing to do anything we can to help the city.

Calls Reassessment Farce.

"The reassessment seems to be another political farce. I talked with one of the men who was put to work on the assessment and he did not know what it was all about, had no idea how to value property.

"What is the matter with having a city manager for Chicago? I don't know how it would work in such a large city but it has worked well in smaller cities. It may be the best move for us.

"In the meantime why not get in the 1928 taxes under the old assessment? There was no great grief attached to that. There is plenty of money to run the city, but the people will not be prepared to pay two years taxes in one. The banks cannot take the scrip as they do not know when it will be paid and must keep their assets liquid."

Wife Is Granted Divorce from Walter Greenebaum

Mrs. Adah S. Greenebaum of the Ambassador hotel yesterday won a divorce from her husband, Walter J. Greenebaum, a director of Greenebaum Sons Investment company, before Superior Judge Sabath. She charged cruelty and was awarded the custody of their son, Richard, 9 years old. Alimony was waived. Mrs. Greenebaum testified that her husband pushed her against a window frame three years ago and that last Jan. 31 he struck her with his fist.

MONACAN PRINCE SUES HIS WIFE FOR SEPARATION

MONTE CARLO, Feb. 19.—Prince Pierre, son-in-law of Louis of Monaco, has filed an application for separation from his wife, Charlotte, duchess of Valentinois, the hereditary princess of the principality of Minaco, it became known today. The princess left for San Remo three days ago in the company of Dr. Dalmas, her physician, and she has refused the repeated commands of her father to return.

Mystery surrounds the affair and today officials here refused to discuss the subject. The details of Prince Pierre's suit are not known, but it is said that he has asked for the custody of his two children, the 10 year old Princess Antoinette and the younger Prince Rainier, who is heir to the principality.

Prince Louis, the present head of the state, is rumered to be inexorably opposed to a divorce in order that the succession of the little prince may be assured. Just how Dr. Dalmas figures in the affair is not certain. He accompanied the princess to the Ospitaletto nursing home two months ago when it was said that her illness made a change of climate necessary.

WOMAN ROBBED IN HER HOME.

Mrs. Laura O'Harran, 5518 Cornell avenue, was robbed of $1 and jewelry valued at $80 yesterday by a burglar whom she surprised in her home when she returned from a visit. The burglar locked her in a closet while he ransacked the house.

DISMISS MURDER CHARGE AGAINST DR. EFFIE LOBDELL

Charges of murder by abortion against Dr. Effie Lobdell, prominent woman physician, were nolle prossed yesterday when she was arraigned in the Felony court. Assistant State's Attorney Frank Mast, in asking the dismissal order, said that an investigation failed to reveal sufficient evidence to warrant further prosecution.

Dr. Lobdell was arrested on the complaint of Frank Sobbry, 816 West 76th street, who charged that his wife, Signa, died Dec. 1 following an alleged operation performed by the physician on Nov. 22. It developed that Sobbry had in the past been interested in several other lawsuits.

NORTHUP TO ASK U. S. FOR CANAL RECORDS TODAY

First Assistant State's Attorney John E. Northup yesterday prepared to go before Federal Judge Wilkerson this morning and ask for a modification of the order impounding the records of the U. S. A. company, electrical contractors for the old sanitary district régime and other municipal governments.

When the new order is entered the prosecutor will serve the subpoena duces tecum issued on Tuesday by Acting Chief Justice McGoorty of the Criminal court to clear the way for investigation of charges that the U. S. A. company maintained a $1,000,000 fund for the bribery of public officials.

Mr. Northup disclosed yesterday that his plan is to seek individual bribery indictments if the evidence warrants. Such indictments, he explained, would expedite the trials of any public officials who might be named in true bills. It is understood that the evidence will be placed before the March grand jury.

The Englewood police last night were asked by Mrs. Laura Robbins, 9014 South Racine avenue, to search for her two daughters, Henrietta, 14 years old, and Juanita, 16, who have been missing since Sunday. Mrs. Robbins said the girls left home with $1 to attend a movie and did not return.

MRS. BRANDON RAGES ON STAND AT GILLESPIE

Tells More of "Holy Love" That Faded.

New York, Feb. 19.—[Special.]—The story of a woman's five year campaign of hate against a man who could not remember a wedding date was told from a witness stand in Supreme court here today, and every word was a hiss.

Seated among her brief cases, encyclopedia-like diaries, newspaper clippings, and personal letters, Mrs. Frances Marion Brandon, growing middle-aged and plump, but still fighting, consented to tell in an intimate, detailed manner of her dual love and business life with George J. Gillespie, president of the board of water supply, but to Mrs. Brandon a "sanctimonious sheik." With lawyers bickering on all sides and Justice Louis Valente growing firmer and sterner, Mrs. Brandon stuck to her theme song of revenge in her suit for $574,165.66 damages for "breach of promise and progressive fraud."

She Told the World.

The triangle lady's campaign of hate led her to high places in church and beef circles. She told her love troubles to "every member of the bench and bar" in New York in a pamphlet history of her life with Gillespie, and even mailed a copy of the book to the pope, to Cardinal Hayes, to every priest in the city, to 25,000 persons throughout the world, and finally to "my holy man" Gillespie. Mr. Gillespie's copy arrived on Christmas eve in 1923 and bore this red-inked message on its cover:

"To George Jackass Gillespie, the dirty dog."

Cross-Examination Begins.

Under cross-examination by Theodore Kiendl, attorney for Gillespie, Mrs. Brandon began to suffer serious lapses in memory. Mr. Kiendl sticks out his chin, bites his words in three parts, and then barks them at his witness. He also has a change of pace that can coo, when necessary, with considerable sarcasm. There were a lot of barking and cooing contests between Mr. Kiendl and Mrs. Brandon this afternoon.

"Now Miss Brandon [the witness prefers to be called miss], just how old are you?" asked the lawyer.

"I am 41," snapped Mrs. Brandon. "But I'll concede any age you wish up to 100 years."

Mr. Kiendl rubbed his chin, reflected and then began over. The next question brought this reply from the witness:

"Now, my dear Mr. Kiendl! What do you mean by——"

"Don't you call me dear; I'm not your dear," barked the lawyer.

Endearments Cease.

After that there was no pulling of punches. Mrs. Brandon tacked this phrase onto almost every question she answered:

"I am doing all this so Gillespie, that holy man, that gospel talker, cannot destroy another woman as he destroyed me. My life is a living hell because of that debaucher."

Under cross examination Mrs. Brandon succeeded in recounting certain details of her blighted romance that she overlooked yesterday.

"He was as gentle as a little lamb and I was as helpless as a new born babe," the witness testified.

"Was he gentle as a lamb that night on Jan. 30, 1922, when he unfastened the back of your dress?" asked Lawyer Kiendl.

"Well, he was a little rough," said the triangle woman.

Playful as a Kitten.

"Was he playful?"

"As playful as a kitten, then. But after it was the old story of the glove coming into the iron hand. Why, that man could snatch a wisdom tooth from your head and you wouldn't know it."

"Miss Brandon, did you have a nervous breakdown?"

"I certainly did after Gillespie came into my life. I had all kinds of doctors, but they told me they could do nothing for me until I got Gillespie off my mind."

"Did you ever at any time accuse Mr. Gillespie of murdering his wife?" asked the lawyer.

"Thank you, thank you, so much, very, very much for asking me that," shouted the witness. "I told him that to his face. I told it to the world. I say that under the circumstances the body ought to be exhumed. Only three people know how Mrs. Gillespie died and I am one of them. He destroyed one woman and he would destroy another."

Lawyer Kiendl sought to win an admission from Mrs. Brandon that in December, 1921, she had "entered into a personal arrangement with Gillespie."

This was heatedly denied by the witness who took occasion to tell of her early days with the churchman.

"Gillespie sent me a lot of hot house flowers and showered me with gifts when we first met," she testified. He told me God had sent him to me. 'I am your friend from heaven,' he said, 'and have come to comfort you'."

WIFE SAYS HUBBY SLEPT WHENEVER SHE HAD GUESTS

Mrs. Lillian Marie Woida, 21 years old, 8810 South Ada street, yesterday filed suit for divorce in the Superior court against her husband, James A. Woida, 22 years old. The bill, drawn by Attorney Harry X. Cole, charges that Woida was always sleepy. The Woidas were married on Aug. 18, 1928, and separated last Jan. 2. Whenever Mrs. Woida's friends visited them her husband fell asleep on the floor or left the company and went to bed, the wife charges, and when they went to visit her friends he had a habit of falling asleep in his chair. Only when his friends came to their home would he remain awake. The wife also alleges that he purchased her a diamond engagement ring by making a down payment of $5 and she was forced to make the remaining payments to keep it. The bill asks for a decree on charges of cruelty.

COOLIDGE "500 WORD HISTORY" MAY BE MORE

Hot Springs, S. D., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Gutzon Borglum, the sculptor, telegraphed the Hot Springs Evening Star from Jackson, Miss., today that the confusion over Calvin Coolidge's brief history of the United States which is to be engraved on Mount Rushmore, S. D., was due to a "guess by some reporters," as to the possible number of words to be used.

"Have seen Mr. Coolidge's brief denial regarding five hundred word history. The entire confusion is over the five hundred word guess made some time ago as a possible number of words. In long conference with Mr. Coolidge en route on train, we discussed the inscription fully. I am now calculating the space we can allow on the first two paragraphs dealing with the Declaration of Independence and the framing of the constitution years. He has promised to have these ready for me by May so that it can cut them."

House Committee to Draft General Veterans Measure

Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—(AP)—The house veterans committee today directed a subcommittee of five to draft a general legislative bill for the benefit of world war veterans after considering all the bills that have been introduced at this session dealing with veterans' legislation.

A wide variety of proposals to liberalize and smooth out difficulties that have arisen from the present laws have been introduced, and all of these will be gone over by the subcommittee with a view to drafting into a general bill the most desirable features of each.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

Illinois officially took off its winter "undies," greatcoats and galoshes yesterday and made its debut in spring finery under blue skies and a sun which seemed determined to have hyacinths and daffodils up and blooming before long.

In Chicago the mercury soared to 65 degrees at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, surpassing by three degrees the old record of the warmest Feb. 19, in 1913. In Quincy the temperature reached 80 degrees in the afternoon, and the weather man there reported that buds were swelling and ducks flying north and that Quincy's "first robin" had appeared.

Records for Warmth Broken.

Throughout most of the country spring was making a premature appearance. Records for high temperature were broken in many places throughout the country, except in the southeast, where many Chicagoans are wintering.

With a temperature of 60 at 3 p. m. yesterday Milwaukee experienced the warmest Feb. 19 in its history and its second warmest February day.

At Eau Claire, Wis., the mercury rose to 60 yesterday, the highest February temperature in 28 years, according to the United States weather bureau observer, R. D. Whitford. A year ago yesterday it was 26 below zero in Eau Claire, and a year ago today the official reading was 30 below.

Only two days in February in all the history of Chicago's weather bureau surpassed yesterday's 65 degree mark. On Feb. 15, 1921, the mercury rose to 66 degrees; on Feb. 22, 1922, to 68 degrees.

Baseball to the Fore.

Several amateur baseball teams were seen warming up yesterday; girls, coatless, skipped their way home from school; games of packs, hopscotch, and marbles were the rule, and certain neighborhoods echoed with shrill voices last night as the games continued past sundown.

In the loop women shoppers carried their coats and lingered before windows where tempting spring suits and dresses were shown. A vagrant was seen to gaze longingly in a men's clothing store window at a piece of smart luggage suggestive of Palm Beach.

As for spring styles, they are more alluring if anything, than those for winter. As one loop store buyer said: "Any woman who has held out this long against longer skirts, clinging to her sensible short ones, is bound to weaken now."

Short sleeves, peplum effects, normal waistlines, pleats—these are making demure but charming ladies this spring. Spring is no strident boyish lass this year, but a fluttering young thing who hides her artful ways beneath an innocent exterior.

Shades for Spring.

Here are a few spring shades: Opaline pink, which has a glow like that of an opal; dusty peach, crayon green, hyacinthe blue, pirate blue, and froth green. Dinner dresses of chiffons, tea gowns with little cap sleeves of pleating, ending in tight bands, and suits with little flared jackets and short sleeved blouses of embroidered batiste, are in vogue.

The shirtwaist girl of Charles Dana Gibson is back, and the bustles of the early nineties, and the frills and furbelows of Victorian vintage are in full force this spring, and the feminists apparently are rebelling less and less.

Men's clothes for spring will run to "dusted gray blues" and "green blues" and "gray tans." Their trousers are more trim: they no longer flap about the ankles. Spring ties, refined and subdued, but nevertheless faintly suggesting spring with their small figures, are ready. And for formal day wear the Ascot tie has returned.

BOY BURGLAR CAUGHT; NAMES "FAGIN" WHO PLANNED 100 THEFTS

A modern Oliver Twist, who confessed more than 100 burglaries, many of them on the gold coast, was being held by the police last night with his mother, Mrs. Helen Joiner, 33 years old, 604½ North Clark street, and her friend, George Weber, 36 years old, 347 North Clark street, who according to the boy, enacted the dual rôle of Fagin and Bill Sikes.

The boy, Harry Straus, 13 years old, was arrested as he was looting an apartment at 61 Cedar street, when Policeman Herman Dorf and Edward Walsh of the East Chicago avenue station arrived there in answer to a call from neighbors. Straus told the police that he had been paroled from the St. Charles school for boys.

Weber selected the places which were to be robbed and then schooled him in the methods to be employed, the boy said. Weber was wearing a $500 ring which the boy said was taken from the home of Frank Rose, 9 West Pearson street. Pawn tickets for jewelry on which he had obtained $700 were found in Weber's pockets, and in Mrs. Joiner's apartment the police found watches and other jewelry valued at $25,000.

It May Be 65 in Chicago, but It's Near Zero in Spain

WAR VETERANS' BODIES SENT TO RIGHT HOMES

The bodies of two war veterans, which arrived at the wrong destinations on Tuesday, upsetting preparations for military burials, were reshipped yesterday and delivered to their respective families. The bodies were those of William E. Wagner of Murphysboro, Ill., and John W. Phillips of Ulrichsville, O., who died at the Edward Hines Memorial hospital.

"Inadvertently a mistake was made in the selection of bodies before placing them in shipping cases," wrote C. Kampp & Sons, Chicago undertakers, to Dr. O. B. Mallow of the Hines hospital. "The result was that the body of John W. Phillips was shipped to Murphysboro and the body of William E. Wagner was shipped to Ulrichsville, O., train destination, Dennison, O."

Mr. Kampp explained yesterday that as soon as the mistake was discovered his company directed the reshipment of the bodies to the right destinations. He explained the mistake to Dr. G. H. Koehler, acting health commissioner, and cited the fact that it was the first such mistake ever made by one of his employés.

Criticisms Exchanged on Crime Drive.

n the situation? The police go out and pick up hundreds of men. Among them are discovered many with revolvers on their persons and many more with criminal records. The police book them and turn them over for prosecution—and what happens? Either the state's attorney's office fails to get any results or the court accuse the police of 'Cossack' methods and turn them loose.

"Then, when the state's attorney's office and the courts are looking for an alibi for their own actions in the situation, they turn on the police and blame them for it all.

"What happened in this latest situation? The police went out and arrested between 1,000 and 1,500 persons by working the entire force 18 hours a day. Among these were several hundred with past criminal records and a number more caught with revolvers on their persons. A score or more were indicted for carrying concealed weapons. Some of those caught with revolvers were obviously desperate criminals. But who were the men first placed on trial? A cabinetmaker with no record and a truck driver and his helper, also with no record, none of whom ought to have been indicted at all. Where are the desperate men whose cases we turned over to the state's attorney. I shall watch with interest to see them brought before the bar of justice."

Police Continue Drive.

Undismayed by the state's attorney's rebuke, the police continued their campaign yesterday, a campaign which police officials say has cut Chicago gun crimes in half. During the day and evening 688 suspects were arrested and 314 were held for the showup. Four pistol toters were found.

At the showup last night, S. D. Smith, United States immigration inspector, ordered five men, who admitted they were aliens, held for deportation. Three of the five are Mexicans, one Russian, and one Austrian, all of them having criminal records. To enable the immigration officials to pick out the aliens, all of the prisoners who passed in review were asked whether they were citizens and where they were born.

The state's attorney's squadmen had their first brush with the outlaws yesterday when they attempted to force a suspicious car to the curb at Ashland avenue and Taylor street. They met with a fusillade of revolver shots from the men inside the car, which then escaped them.

A second squad went into a saloon at 4958 Hermitage avenue, where they seized J. C. Kluczynski, owner of the place; Felix Prybysky, bartender; Stanley Novinski, John Shea, Louis Konifield, and Charles Jakviski.

None of these men had revolvers on his person, but the detectives exhibited five revolvers which they said they had found hidden in various parts of the building. Swanson said they were gangsters affiliated with the old Joe Saltis outfit, but the police had never heard of any of them before and put them down as hangers on of a saloon.

DEFENDS CITY'S RECORD

Speaking before the members of the Inland Press association yesterday in the Morrison hotel, Col. Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Association of Commerce, figuratively scoured several black spots off Chicago's reputation.

He told the midwestern newspaper men that Chicago stands 17th in the list of American cities in the number of homicides per thousand of population. He proved that the city is not broke by pointing out that the per caipta debt is only $95.01, as against a per capita debt of $245.50 for New York and $201.91 for Philadelphia.

He gave the editors a slight rebuke for some of the things they have published—unjustly, he said—about Chicago in the lake levels controversy, in which the city, fighting for pure drinking water for its citizens, has had to fight a dozen or more states before the United States Supreme court.

"Chicago is not the crime capital of the United States," Col. Randolph said. "The only difference between us and some of our more or less conspicuous neighbors is that we have adopted the policy of driving crime out into the open. It is a very definite policy; our crime commission is committed to it; our newspapers are committed to it.

"We are embarrassed, as every other city in the United States is embarrassed, by the illicit liquor trade which is flourishing under the Volstead act and the 18th amendment from shore to shore of this great country."

Col. Randolph smiled. "Some of our municipal clowns," he said, "cause us some embarrassment, but other cities have municipal clowns also. The difference is merely sartorial—a difference between suspenders and cowboy hats and a silk hat and spats."

Theodore Thompson, attempted burglary, sentenced to 1 to 5 years in Pontiac reformatory by Judge John P. McGoorty.

DEATH PENALTY JURY OBTAINED IN SINGLE DAY

One day only was required to obtain a jury pledged to inflict the death penalty in Judge Phillip Finnegan's Criminal court, where William Lenhardt, 22 years old, alleged Cleveland gunman, is on trial for the murder of Milton Valisopoulos, owner of a restaurant at 803 West 74th street. The judge ordered speed and he warned the jurors not to try to dodge service by faking conscientious scruples against the death penalty.

After killing the restaurant owner during a holdup Lenhardt went to the drug store of George Benbo, 5726 Elston avenue, to commit his second crime of the night. He boasted to the druggist that he had just killed a man and that no show of resistance should be made or he would add another notch to his gun.

Sergt. Clarence Falk of the forest preserve police followed Lenhardt and he was shot in a revolver battle. He was later captured by Sergts. William Carney and Edward Farr.

'BOMB TRUST' PUT ON TRIAL MINUS STAR DEFENDANT

Belcastro Freed; State Lacks Evidence.

The so-called bomb trust case went to trial yesterday in Judge William N. Gemmill's Criminal court minus the leading figure, or at least without the man heralded at the time of the state's attorney's investigation as the "king of the bomb trust." James Belcastro, labor leader and well known police character, was missing from a defendant's chair because Assistant State's Attorney C. Wayland Brooks decided he had no evidence against him.

The defendants on trial are Gus Fiocca, Frank Caselli, a butcher, and Steve Ficke. They are charged with the manufacture and sale of bombs, an offense punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary for 5 to 25 years. The other persons mentioned in this indictment is Vito Ficke, son of Steve, who is a fugitive. He is the boy who is said to have made the actual bomb delivery to one of State's Attorney Swanson's undercover investigators.

Belcastro Not Indicted.

Belcastro was not even named as a defendant in the new indictment secured by Brooks when he was put in charge of the case to prepare it for trial. The prosecutor, who had no connection with the original investigation or indictments, said he found a woeful lack of evidence against Belcastro and decided that to make him a party defendant would jeopardize the chances of convicting the others.

The defendants were arrested in a sensational raid on July 31, 1929, and it was announced by the state's attorney's office that the bomb trust had been uncovered. It developed then that an undercover investigator had purchased four bombs from the defendants.

Defense Plan Outlined.

The defense attorneys, in questioning jurors, indicated that entrapment would be one of the excuses offered for the sale of the bombs. They will charge the prosecutor's investigator inveigled the defendants into making bombs so that they could make an arrest.

The jury was completed last evening and this morning the taking of testimony will be started.

DENEEN LEADERS SOUND CAMPAIGN CRY TO WORKERS

Between 500 and 600 office holders, job holders, ward leaders and other workers of the Deneen Republican group gathered in the Cameo room of the Hotel Morrison last night to receive the official word that the county campaign is on.

A dozen speakers spoke briefly and optimistically about the prospects for victory in the primary of April 8. In the absence of Senator Deneen, Roy O. West, national committeeman, took charge. He said that this year the opposition is split and that its strength will be dissipated more and more as primary day draws near. Other speakers were State's Attorney Swanson, Jacob D. Allen, and Judges Barnes, Caylor, Friend, and Daniel P. Trude.

Today it is the turn of the Snow organization. Its starting signal will be sounded with an open house reception in the new headquarters in the Steuben club.

EVANSTON COP, HOTEL GUN PLAY HERO, SUSPENDED

Policeman John Horne of Evanston, who on Feb. 9 was the hero of the capture of four bandits who tried to rob the Orrington hotel in Evanston, was suspended yesterday by Chief of Police William O. Freeman pending a hearing before the civil service commission. Chief Freeman refused to discuss the suspension other than to say that Horne was absent from duty without leave on Feb. 10. Horne fought a pistol battle with two of the bandits in the Orrington hotel, finally capturing them in the basement.

Shells Shot 48 Miles High to Bombard Paris.

Secrets of the Big Bertha guns that fired 75 miles into Paris during the war, obtained by Prof. H. W. Miller of the University of Michigan, were revealed by him last night to 1,000 reserve officers of the headquarters artillery group. Prof. Miller, who was head of the railroad artillery of the A. E. F. with the rank of lieutenant colonel, told how the guns were located and counteracted during the war. He described their structure and operation in detail.

Some of the technical statements to be made about the Big Berthas were:

Each shell weighed 264 pounds. The projectile of each gun was rifled to correspond to the rifling of the cannon, so that the shell had to be twisted into the breech of the gun. Each Big Bertha had a barrel 120 feet long. The gun's projectiles had a velocity of 5,400 feet per second as they emerged from the gun, or twice the velocity of a United States army service rifle.

Reached Height of 48 Miles.

The projectile traveled through the bore of the gun in about one-fiftieth of a second, and in 25 seconds it was 12 miles high and its velocity had dropped to 3,300 feet per second. In that altitude, at which the air is only one-tenth as dense as on the earth, and for three-fourths of the trajectory of the projectile, it was virtually in a vacuum. At 24 miles high it was in zero weather. It reached the height of 48 miles at the top of its arc before it started on the downward course.

In firing it the officers had to obtain figures on the wind velocity every hour and had to make allowances accordingly. They also had to know the barometric pressure. It was necessary to make allowance for the fact that the earth is a sphere and to estimate the distance through the air to Paris, instead of the distance on land.

Four of Big Guns Used.

The Germans had to take into account the rotation of the earth and must therefore fire east of the target or the target wouldn't be there when the shell arrived. They used a standard elevation of 50 degrees and gauged distance by the amount of powder used.

The first Big Bertha was emplaced at Crepy, 75 miles from Paris. The second was at Beaumont, 69 miles from Paris, and the third was at Bruyeres, 56 miles away, and the fourth was back at Beaumont.

In planning the guns, Dr. Von Rauhenberg and his assistant, Von Eberhardt, had to consider the use of a tube 99 feet long which would be strong enough to withstand a powder that exerted a pressure of 70,000 pounds per square inch. They spent years in making the tests and at first arranged for a gun that would fire 65 miles.

Then Von Hindenberg moved the German lines back and the inventors had to make the guns approximately 50 feet longer to add the extra distance made necessary by Von Hindenburg's move. What they did was to bore on 20 feet of a smooth bore instead of trying to match riflings with the piece already prepared for the 65 mile range.

25 Shells Strike Paris.

The first gun was aimed at the geographic center of Paris. It was fired at 7:17 a. m., on March 22, 1918, and the shell hit Paris at 7:20 a. m., but killed no one. The second shell killed eight persons and wounded 13. Seven shells were fired in the next two hours before a general alarm was sounded throughout Paris and 3,000,000 people found shelter. That day 25 shells struck Paris.

In all, from the four positions, the Germans sent 367 shells into Paris which caused damage estimated at $[illegible].

DRUGS EXCITE THE KIDNEYS, DRINK WATER

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, sour stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

MIRACLE DOG

A mongrel, answering to the name of "Tootsie," yesterday won a new trial for its master, John Guara, 3017 Poplar avenue, in a $10,000 damage suit brought by Mrs. Nellie Tobin, 65 years old, 3201 Lowe avenue, before Superior Judge Harry C. Stuttle. Mrs. Tobin charged that the dog bit her April 9, 1928, as she was leaving the home of her son, a neighbor of Guara.

The dog was placed in evidence by Guara. At the command of its master it opened its mouth to show that it had no teeth. Mrs. Tobin's attorney charged that the dog's teeth had been removed since the date of the alleged attack.

"How does it happen that the dog has no teeth now?" the attorney asked.

"The same way it happens I haven't any teeth now," said Guara, removing a set of false teeth from his mouth.

After a half hour's deliberation the jury returned a verdict of $600 in favor of Mrs. Tobin. Judge Stuttle set the verdict aside and granted a new trial, since the plaintiff had failed to prove the dog to be vicious.

INDICT LANGGUTH AND GIRL CASHIER FOR BANK LOSSES

Pair Are Charged with Theft and Forgery.

Six indictments charging embezzlement and forgery were voted by the grand jury yesterday against Elmer P. Langguth and Miss Laverne Lindgren, deposed president and cashier of the People's State bank of Maywood, who, it is alleged, carried on a romance with $173,000 of the depositors' money. Their bonds were fixed at $50,000 each.

The confessions of Langguth and Miss Lindgren were repeated to the grand jurors, it was reported. In these statements they had admitted helping themselves to the bank's cash over a period of two years. Neither defendant was present in the grand jury room. Employés of the bank, according to reports, told of forging mortgages, notes, and checks at the direction of either Langguth or Miss Lindgren and of being warned to keep their knowledge of the irregularities to themselves.

Three Employés Released.

Miss Elsie Gordon, stenographer, and John Reed and Edward R. Carleton, tellers, who had been held overnight, were released when they satisfied the authorities they had not profited by the falsifications of the bank records. Miss Florence Campbell, bookkeeper, was also absolved of wrongdoing.

Assistant State's Attorneys Leonard Rice and Edward Spiro presented the evidence to the grand jury. They called F. A. Pope, state bank examiner, to tell of Langguth's final admission, two weeks ago, that the bank was "short" $156,000. One of the indictments against Langguth and Miss Lindgren charges the making of false statements to the bank examiner over the two year period involved in the investigation.

Subpœna Issued for Records.

After the grand jury had acted Assistant State's Attorney Charles J. Mueller, who is in charge of the prosecution, obtained from Acting Chief Justice John P. McGoorty of the Criminal court a subpœna duces tecum calling for the books and records of the Suburban Publishing company, publishers of a daily newspaper which Langguth bought—to prevent publicity about his affair with the cashier, the prosecutors claim.

Much of the money was taken from the bank through checks issued in the name of the publishing company, Mr. Mueller said.

DEATH OF FORMER COP IS LAID TO AUTO ACCIDENT

Hit and Run Driver Is Blamed.

Edward A. Douglas, 40 years old, 1311 South Talman avenue, a city employé and a former policeman, who was found dead in Douglas park on Monday, was killed by a hit and run automobile, according to the theory advanced yesterday by policemen investigating his death. An examination revealed that Douglas' back was broken and that he was injured internally.

The classification of Douglas' death as an automobile accident and three other deaths yesterday raised the 1930 Cook county motor toll to 107. The victims:

Jack Carp, 27 years old, 2838 Roosevelt road. Died in the county hospital of injuries received when struck at Warren and California avenues. Albert E. Warner, 120 North Keeler avenue, was driving the car.

An unidentified woman, about 60 years old. Killed when she was struck by a hit and run automobile in front of 245 West 35th street. The body was taken to a morgue at 3604 South State street.

An unidentified man, about 40 years old. Struck by a De Luxe taxicab at Division street and Marshfield avenue. John Sorkin, 24 years old, 1318 North Washtenaw avenue, driver of the cab, was held.

Dennis F. Cantlin, 1233 West 71st street, was killed when his automobile collided with a truck on Cicero avenue near Monee in Will county. His wife was taken to St. James' hospital in Chicago Heights, suffering from internal injuries.

A woman and three men were injured in a three cornered collision in Washington park, near 56th street. The injured are Miss Toronta, 21 years old, 5711 West 64th place; Walter Sash, 34 years old, 4839 West 65th street; Joseph Weiskopf, 54 years old, 7100 South Shore drive; and Charles Cameron, 34 years old, 22 East 58th street, colored.

William Manfold, 47 years old, 1409 East 54th place, was injured probably fatally when struck by an automobile driven by Meyer D. Maremont, 5333 Dorchester avenue.

ALBERT LEARNS CALLS TO COURT ARE PILING UP

When Albert Cantwell stepped from Federal Judge Lindley's court yesterday, he thought his troubles were over for the day. He had been arraigned on charge of trying to borrow money on a fictitious war risk insurance policy and the case was continued to this morning. However, when he left the courtroom, detectives arrested him on charges made by his wife, Cecelia Cantwell, who said that he owes her $4,000 for separate maintenance. He now has two court engagements for today, one in the Court of Domestic Relations and one in the federal court.

"BIG 4" CLOSE UP SEA PARLEY TILL FRENCH GET BACK

Order Week's Holiday as Paris Quarrels.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 19.—After two days of effort to play Hamlet in the absence of the ghost the five power naval conference today decided to take a week's holiday with the hope that at the end of that time the French may be in a position to send a fresh set of representatives.

The formal decision was taken this afternoon by heads of the four remaining delegations, with the concurrence of the French ambassador, to adjourn until next Wednesday. It isn't certain, of course, that the conference will be able to meet then, and it is quite on the cards that it may then be adjourned another week.

Americans Prefer Briand.

Those familiar with French politics think that it will be impossible for the French to send a delegation to London before a week from next Monday. News received here this afternoon said André Tardieu had declined to form a new government and had declared that in any case he would not return to London. This information was received with ill concealed relief by the other powers.

At the same time hope is unofficially expressed that Aristide Briand will return in the new delegation. No other French statesman stands higher in the estimation of both the Americans and the British.

In fact, the story is going around in London that M. Briand had something to do with the fall of M. Tardieu's government. The veteran statesman said that he was shocked by the attitude of his young colleague. M. Briand never took the first French figures seriously, regarding them as the first offer in the bargain and much higher than they expected to get. But M. Tardieu is said to have taken the attitude that they were final.

Robinson's Talk Pleases British.

The British were highly pleased with Senator Joseph T. Robinson's speech today at the luncheon of the American Association of Press Correspondents in London. They were particularly pleased by his suggestion to rule out the clause on any Mediterranean or Atlantic pact. The statement that the people of the United States will repudiate any treaty, "expressly or impliedly," obligating the employment of the army for the enforcement of obligations assumed with other nations, is taken here as ruling out even a consultative pact.

This interpretation is based on the use of the word "impliedly," as it is urged that, if the United States was consulted and agreed to condemn an aggressor power, she would be morally bound to back that condemnation by the use of military force.

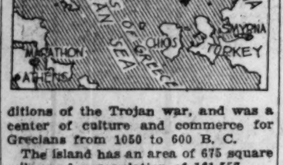
From the Island of Lesbos

Letter received by Ella Dostert, 337 East Chicago avenue, Chicago:

Lesbos, the natal place of the Grecian poets, Sappho, Alcaeus, Terpander, and Theophrastus, is an island in the Aegean sea, off the coast of Asia Minor, now again under the sovereignty of Greece. Its civilization goes back to prehistoric times.

It figures prominently in Greek traditions of the Trojan war, and was a center of culture and commerce for Grecians from 1050 to 600 B. C.



The island has an area of 675 square miles and a population of 161,557.

7,000 ATTEND BIG RECEPTION FOR NAVY DELEGATES

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 19.—One of the biggest formal receptions of the current season was given tonight by the Marquis and Marchioness of Londonderry at Londonderry house in Park line in honor of naval conference delegations. More than 7,000 invitations were issued and each guest was requested to produce his card to prevent gate crashing.

The party was the first occasion upon which American delegates and their wives have met royalty, as the duke of York was present.

Several conference delegates and their wives dined tonight with Viscount and Viscountess Allendale, after which they were entertained at a private cabaret. It was announced today that the government's entertainment for naval delegates at the Guildhall banquet and reception last month cost $11,915. It was estimated it would cost $15,750, but less wine was consumed than anticipated.

Slain Chinese Killed for Exposing Dope Activities

Dong Poy, 25 year old Chinese who was shot to death at Wentworth avenue and West 22d street last Tuesday morning, was slain for informing the government of activities of dope dealers, police believe. It was revealed yesterday by D. A. Bagley, federal narcotic agent, that Dong Poy had acted as "undercover" agent for the government.

Install 13 Foot Clock on Board of Trade Building

Workmen yesterday began erecting on the new Board of Trade building the huge clock which will serve as the official timekeeper for La Salle street. The clock, which is being erected by the Stromberg Electric company, has a face 13 feet in diameter and a minute hand approximately 6 feet long. The clock will be regulated by impulses sent from a control unit in the rear of the building.

ITALY PLEADS FOR NAVAL HOLIDAY ON BIG WARSHIPS

Asks Parley to Maintain Present Ratio.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 19.—Foreign Minister Dino Grandi today made public the Italian memorandum on its naval proposals, as laid before the five power conference, with the explanation that in it was embodied "faith, hope, parity," and, he added, "reduction."

The Italian note proposes the fixation of naval ratios and tonnage levels on the basis of effective strengths existing now. The note gives tabulations to show that this could be done, indicating that the French and the Italians are equal now in auxiliary surface ships, which, combined, would still leave a margin of superiority to the British.

Faith in Peace Pacts.

The Italians, in this note, express faith in the existing Kellogg, Locarno, and Geneva pacts to guarantee peace and justify reduced armaments.

The note reminds the conference that armament levels and ratios were the basis of the Washington conference and that Italy, judging from the negotiations, which preceded this conference, expected them to come up here the first thing.

After stating that Italy is ready to accept a one-power standard, or limit her navy to that of any other continental power, the note asserts that Italy is doing this at a disadvantage to herself, because she has no outlying naval bases beyond the Mediterranean, but has long trade routes to protect nevertheless.

No Ambition for War.

In replying to the recent French note, the Italians say the idea of a war with any power, whether represented at the London conference or not, is totally foreign to their naval policy.

On the basis of these principles, Sig. Grandi's note proposes a naval holiday on capital ships until 1936, agreeing that Italy will not lay down for that period 105,000 tons out of the 175,000 tons of capital ships allotted to her at the Washington conference. Italy also offers to abolish submarines if every one else does, and "if capital ships are also abolished in return."

ITALY'S DEMAND FOR FRENCH NAVAL PARITY GETS FASCIST SUPPORT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Feb. 19.—Italy's claim for naval parity with France as made by Dino Grandi, head of the Italian delegation, in London today is stanchly backed by the Fascist press, which declares that such parity is an obvious necessity, considering Italy's geographical and political situation in world affairs.

The semi-official Giornale d'Italia declares that Italy's right to parity with France has been generally accepted since the Washington treaty. "Nothing has changed since 1922," the Fascist organ asserts, "except that France has profited through the Locarno pact, which gave her increased security, while Italy has assumed direct responsibility and a bigger risk. Italy is also put to a disadvantage through the new system of political and military alliances."

OHIO DRY SNOOP SHOT DOWN IN BELLAIRE STREET

Bellaire, O., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Guy Casina, 37, Belmont county under cover prohibition officer, was in a critical condition in a hospital today from two bullet wounds received when he was shot down in a street here last night.

County authorities said the shooting was in reprisal for information furnished by Casina before the Belmont county grand jury recently which resulted in the indictment of 12 persons on charges of liquor law violations.

Casina was indicted recently for liquor law violation, but the charges were dismissed on the request of state prohibition agents.

Coast Guardsman Shot by Rum Runner; 4 Held

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Walter Whittoe, a coast guardsman, was shot in the chest tonight by one of the occupants of a rum running boat which he and another guardsman had overtaken in the Detroit river. The rum runners used a shotgun, inflicting wounds which physicians said are not serious. The rum boat escaped down the river. Soon after the shooting police arrested four men engaged in unloading liquor from an automobile.

INDIA'S BOYCOTT OF BRITISH BEGUN; MILITIA FORMED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CALCUTTA, India, Feb. 19.—With the opening of the civil disobedience campaign in India the Bengal provincial congress committee has issued a national call for enrollment of volunteers in the national militia. It will be formed with a nucleus of Bengal volunteers, a semi-military organization already in existence.

The object of the militia is to undertake defense work, make the people independent of the police, urge the people to boycott the law courts and settle disputes by arbitration, carry on the boycott against British goods, and make the people economically self-reliant.

The cab driver, John Faber, 2100 Seminary avenue, took Udgdom to the Edgewater hospital, where it was said his condition was serious.

FRENCH RADICALS INSIST ON 'PURE' PARTY CABINET

BY JAY ALLEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Feb. 19.—A virulent case of chronic French politics broke out tonight in the parties of the left. It threatens further to delay the formation of a new cabinet and the reappearance of the French delegation at the London naval conference.

With President Gaston Doumergue all prepared to call upon Camille Chautemps, the new chief of the radical-socialist party, to form a wide concentration government tomorrow, including possible the defeated premier, André Tardieu, the radicals tonight decided that this would not suit them.

Demand No Compromise.

At a stormy session of the party's executive council they ignored all pleas of national expediency, and triumphantly came forth at midnight with a resolution stating that the time has come for a pure left ministry, one free of the taint of moderation and wholly devoted to anti-clericalism, tax reduction, limitation of military expenses, and social insurance legislation. They show no interest in the Young reparations settlement plan and the naval conference.

It is still believed that President Doumergue will call M. Chautemps anyway tomorrow morning and give the left parties their innings, as French parliamentary tradition demands, since it was they who upset M. Tardieu. But the decision of the radicals tonight to stand fast by their doctrines will make it next to impossible for M. Chautemps to form a government.

The radicals have decided that they will have nothing to do with the left and center groups that they dub "allies of reaction," so that will exclude M. Tardieu and his whole block of votes in the chamber of deputies.

M. Chautemps and M. Dumesnil and others who seemed assured of portfolios in the new government, fought the purists in the party, but to no avail. Nevertheless, they admitted that if M. Chautemps fails to get a government together within 24 hours he will never do it.

Tardieu Disgusted.

M. Tardieu, then, seems to be the logical choice for the overworked M. Doumergue, who is now engaged in trying to conjure up the eleventh ministry since he came into power in 1924. M. Tardieu can still command a reasonably steady majority without the radicals in the chamber of deputies, which are too evenly divided on either side of the fickle little group in the center that shifts this way and that. But M. Tardieu says he is disgusted with the gangster methods that prevail in the chamber of deputies. If he means it, there is a possibility that the thirteenth Briand cabinet might see the light of day.

In any case the chances of the energetic M. Tardieu showing up soon in London seem slim. He had been advised before his cabinet's fall to take over the finances and get the budget voted, allowing Aristide Briand to handle things at London until he would be free. His desire to back up French naval claims made him leave the budget in the hands of Henri Chéron and led to the government's defeat.

Gotham Realty Assessed at Over Eighteen Billions

New York, Feb. 19.—[Special.]—The board of taxes and assessments made public today final tax figures for 1930, showing that assessments through the five boroughs have increased by nearly 7 per cent during the last twelve months. The total assessed value of Greater New York property for 1930 is given as $18,583,987,402, an increase of $1,138,157,467 over the $17,445,829,935 figures of last year. This means an increase of real estate taxes, both for individuals and corporations, also of personal estate and franchise taxes.

PASTOR WHO DESERTED WIFE IN 1928 IS FOUND SERVING IN U. S. NAVY

Danville, Ill., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Rumors that Theodore H. Bremer, former United Brethren minister here who mysteriously vanished from his parsonage at Elliott, Ill., on Aug. 20, 1928, is in the United States navy were confirmed today.

Why Bremer left his home and his pretty wife, Annabelle, who was only 19 when he married her three years before his disappearance, has never been explained. The wife, living here with her parents and now working in a glove factory, has received only one letter from her husband since he left. It was a brief message telling her he was never coming back.

News of Bremer's whereabouts came to Danville in the form of a dispatch from the commandant of the naval training station at San Diego, Cal., announcing that Theodore H. Bremer, Danville, had been promoted to an apprentice petty officer third class. He had enlisted at Denver, Colo., on Dec. 3, 1929.

On the day of his departure Bremer prepared dinner for his wife and announced he was going for a short drive. He went to Champaign, left the car in a garage there and vanished.

FOES OF CLOSED BRIDGES CALL WAR CONFERENCE

Organized opposition to an extension of the present bridge closed hours was crystallized yesterday in a summons to all members of the Chicago Waterways association asking them to be present at a luncheon meeting Monday noon at the Palmer house. The communication was signed by Secretary R. C. Yeoman. The meeting is called by President E. J. Hogan, general agent of the Great Lakes Transit company.

While the meeting is ostensibly called to elect officers for the coming year the matter of the bridge hours is the principal topic of the letter. Referring to the recent decision of Secretary of War Hurley in which an extension of the closed hours was forbidden, Mr. Yeoman adds. "The secretary's opinion expressed the need for coöperation of the navigation interests.

"We quote herewith paragraph 10 of his report:

"'Relief from annoyance due to bridge openings may be obtained by comprehensive traffic control, by the construction of vehicular tunnels, and by more sympathetic operation of river traffic.'

"The writer has spent much time at Washington along with Maj. Putnam and also without him."

At a recent meeting of the city council subcommittee, it was reported that the navigation companies had had a lobbyist in the national capitol looking after boatmen's interests.

"It is the writer's opinion," continued Mr. Yeoman, "that the secretary of war expects the navigation interests to render constructive cooperation whenever possible. To do this it is necessary that every navigation interest should be present at the meeting and express the ultimate of coöperation that he can give. The opposition is organized and at present is planning to spend public money through a junket trip to Washington to oppose our recommendations and needs. We are interested as citizens and as representatives of our business to give this matter our first attention. The importance of this occasion cannot be too greatly impressed."

Mr. Yeoman apparently had reference to the decision of the aldermanic bridge committee to wait personally upon Secretary Hurley and ask a reconsideration of his ruling. Since the decision was made, numerous protests have been made to the committee demanding that the bridges be kept closed for longer hours.

NATURAL 100% BRAN FAVORED BY DOCTORS

93% of Group of Physicians Express Preference

Every man or woman who suffers from atonic constipation will find really helpful advice in the words of this group of physicians.

Not long ago ten thousand doctors were asked this question, "Do you believe that raw, natural 100% bran is the best form of bran for the relief of constipation?"

93% of the answers were "Yes."

Here is expert opinion. Do you suffer from bowel irregularity resulting from intestinal sluggishness? Are you troubled with headaches, lassitude, sleeplessness, nervousness, sallowness, loss of vitality, and the increased susceptibility to serious disease which result from constipation? You need natural 100% bran. Your grocer has it—Pillsbury's Bran, natural 100% bran, nothing added, nothing taken away.

Pillsbury's Bran supplies the roughage which is so necessary nowadays. Primitive man had roughage in his ordinary diet, and had no constipation. Modern man should add roughage to his soft food—should add it every day.

Pillsbury's Bran is roughage in a most effective form. You can use it to prepare many delicious foods—muffins, tea cakes, apple cake, macaroons, doughnuts, etc.—recipes are on the Pillsbury package. You can sprinkle it over salads, or mix it with cereals. You can eat it as it comes from the package with cream and sugar. No matter how you use Pillsbury's Bran, you may be sure you are getting the right kind of bran—natural 100% bran, recommended by this overwhelming majority of physicians.

ALL STAR CAST DEPICTS EVILS OF PROHIBITION

Joy Assails Wickersham as Church Lobbyist.

"You can call out the army and the navy to enforce this law if you want to. You have your choice. Inability to enforce it means anarchy; ability to enforce it means tyranny. Between the two lies good government."

The testimony of Mr. Joy probably attracted the most attention because of the prominence he gained recently when he resigned from the Republican club of Detroit because the party has failed to take a stand against prohibition. His testimony attacking George W. Wickersham of the President's law enforcement commission also produced the sharpest cross-examination of the day. Prefacing his statement with an explanation that he is a "dyed in the wool Republican," a Presbyterian, and originally a dry, the Detroit manufacturer launched into a scathing denunciation of the party, the church and prohibition. All three, he declared, have betrayed his faith and shattered his allegiance. In behalf of his family and his country, he said, he has forsaken them all.

Condemning what he termed the "unholy marriage of the Republican party with the church lobby," Joy cited as the connecting link Chairman Wickersham.

"Unfortunately," he said, "I can not discuss the Wickersham commission program without reflecting on our President, because he has approved it and has endorsed it to congress. And I will say, I shudder to think of the consequences in case the recommendations of Mr. Wickersham are enacted into law."

Bares Wickersham's Record.

Up to the present, Wickersham, Joy asserted, has been one of the leaders in the church-pacifist lobby as chairman of the commission on international justice and good will. As such, he declared, he was one of the "church lobby chiefs," helping to foster "wholly un-American propaganda."

The organization with which Wickersham was allied, he said, is an interlocking group on the roster of the Anti-Saloon league.

Twice Mr. Joy was interrupted by dry members of the committee. Several objected to his charge that two Michigan representatives, Grant M. Hudson and Louis C. Cramton, "admitted they accepted money from the church lobby powers as exemplified in the Anti-Saloon league." They again protested when he suggested that Mr. Wickersham might not have been "fully frank" with President Hoover as to his alleged lobby connections."

Criticism Squelched.

"I submit, Mr. Chairman, that the witness has no right to deprecate Mr. Wickersham," interjected Representative C. E. Moore [Rep., O.]. "If he persists, I shall move to have his testimony stricken from the record."

Moore obtained a ruling that Mr. Wickersham was not to be mentioned again.

"If I infringe on rules of procedure in this free American country, I beg your pardon," Joy remarked. Thereafter he omitted Mr. Wickersham's name, but continued his attack on the church lobby.

"Personally," he said, "I have with great regret declined to contribute further financial support to my own church, due to its participation in politics through the Federal Council of Churches. I think it is most improper and unwise and unAmerican for our Protestant churches to become political machines."

Church Members Not Consulted.

"No meeting of my own church members has ever been called, within my knowledge," he continued, "to express its attitude as a church organization on prohibition or any other political question. It would wreck the church. Yet I find by studying the activities of the Federal Council of Churches that it assumes to represent my views and those of all church members on any and all political matters, and as to some entirely contrary to my own personal convictions.

"This condition I deplore. It is un-American in principle and totally wrong."

Mr. Joy declared that he favored repeal of the 18th amendment and restoration of liquor control to the states.

Pollock's Wise Cracks Applauded.

The testimony of Mr. Pollock, the last witness, literally brought down the house with applause and laughter. He stated that he had delivered more than 1,000 lectures all over America and "never got out of town without being invited to drink or to buy a drink."

Almost before his listeners had ceased applauding one sharp crack at prohibition Pollock delivered another.

"To say that anybody in America can get liquor when he wants it is like saying water is wet and dandelions grow in grass.

"I don't believe the 18th amendment can be enforced and I know no other person who believes so honestly.

"A good deal has been said about the Century club in New York. Why, I don't know a club in America where liquor can't be obtained.

"This law has caused two politicians to grow where one grew before. If that isn't unfortunate I don't know what is.

"Prohibition has committed us to the theory that we should put handcuffs on John Smith because Tom Brown drinks. It provides a million pounds of prevention instead of an ounce of cure.

"Bootleggers exist in my town because every human being in the town is for them."

Writers Militantly Wet.

Mr. Johnson, who was founder of the Authors' League of America, supported his statement that "over 80 per cent of the leading writers of the country are militantly against prohibition," by handing to the committee telegraphic replies from 25 to whom he wired queries a few days ago.

"I believe, and I am convinced that I express the feelings of a great number of my fellow workers, that the prohibition issue should be openly presented before the country in a referendum," Johnson said.

"And the referendum should be on these additional provisions:

"First, that the buyer shall be equally guilty with the seller. Second, that the possession and use of liquor shall be made illegal. Third, the right of search of ever home at least once a month. Finally, an addition to the federal income tax of a special tax calculated to produce the one or two billion dollars a year which will be needed for the intensive building program to expand our jails and courthouses ten fold and to provide a vast adequate army of federal revenue agents."

Both Capt. Stayton and Col. Murphy discussed the prohibition question as business men who see it as a menace to law and decent citizenship. Col. Murphy declared that he did not know a single man of his acquaintance, banker, executive, or lawyer, who doesn't break the prohibition law at will.

Favors State Regulation.

Col. Murphy stated that he favored delegation of liquor regulation to the states. Dispensation of liquor in packages by a government corporation, he said, would work in New York state while states like Kansas should be allowed to have complete prohibition.

Capt. Stayton explained that as head of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment he spoke for 232 members, including 20 authors, 75 bank officers, 12 physicians, 22 hospital directors, 37 lawyers, 19 motor manufacturers, 7 publishers, and 39 railroad officials. He declared that every member is personally convinced that prohibition, after ten years' experience, is a failure and that the 18th amendment should be repealed.

At the opening of the session the committee decided against allowing State's Attorney W. A. Smith of Kansas to cross-examine Walter W. Liggett, a witness last week, who testified that he could buy a drink in 15 minutes in any town in Kansas. Smith came to Washington in order to quiz Liggett, but the committee held that it could not permit outsiders to assume any of its functions.

The committee, however, allowed insertion in its record of a letter from Gov. Fred Green of Michigan, denying the allegation of Liggett that he and other Michigan and Detroit officials were present at a roadhouse drinking party near Detroit last November.

Charged with Laziness—

Guilty Simply of Acidity!

More than one man today is misjudged and unjustly penalized because of a not understood physical condition rather than any lack of willingness or ability.

So many of us are only half ourselves, only fifty percent efficient, because we are victims of an insidious condition of acidity! That persistent tired feeling—that clouded mind—that lack of dash and fire—that missing punch that decides so many situations in business—are all usually due to an acid system.

Acidity is brought on by our unnatural eating, excessive smoking and irregular hours. It impairs digestion, and causes fermentation and putrefaction in the intestines and drags us down physically and mentally.

A remarkable new corrective of acidity has been developed by a famous 100-year old pharmaceutical house in Germany.

This new, improved, magnesia comes in the form of small white tablets called Magnesia Oxoids which do not have to be chewed, but may be swallowed whole.

Magnesia Oxoids, upon contact with the acid in the stomach, generate sorcest, or active, oxygen. Now, active oxygen, as any doctor will tell you, when generated within the digestive tract does just the things required for acidity. It stimulates the secretion of the alkaline mucus. It checks the putrefaction and fermentation in the gastro-intestinal canal. It exercises a stimulating effect upon the activities of the intestinal walls and on the movement of the bowels.

All three effects are necessary to the true relief of acidity and Magnesia Oxoids supply them in a perfectly natural manner.

5-Day Acidity Test

See for yourself how much acid has to do with your run-down condition and the persistent feeling of tiredness. Make the 5-day acid test. Get a package of Magnesia Oxoids from Walgreen's Drug Stores and Economical Drug Stores or your favorite druggist on our money-back guarantee. Take two after each meal for five days. Note the pick-up in your pep and vigor. Mark the new peace of your stomach and nerves. Five days' test doesn't convince you a decided improvement in your health, return the balance of the Oxoids to your druggist and he will refund your money.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—[Special.]—Senatorial scofflaws who laughed so heartily yesterday when some of their colleagues were bemoaning the arrest of "the man in the green hat" were given a rude shock today when they learned that their own bootlegger was trapped a few hours later by the same dry bureau under cover sleuths.

The arrest of George L. Cassidy, the now famous "man in the green hat," yesterday disclosed that a corps of special under cover agents are keeping an eye on the capitol and particularly on the senate office building, but it was not known until this morning when he was arraigned in police court that David William Goldberg, another well known "official bootie," had been nabbed.

Bottles Are Broken.

After the arrest of Cassidy the same agents, it became known today, hurried back to the senate office building and nabbed Goldberg, who, they were told, was about to make a delivery of several quarts of gin by depositing them in a parked car near the east end door of the building. Goldberg dropped his bulky package and all of the bottles were smashed.

Arraigned before Police Judge John P. McMahon, Goldberg waived preliminary examination and was held for the grand jury, while Cassidy's case was continued at the request of the government until Friday. Senator Burton K. Wheeler [Dem., Mont.], author of a pending resolution authorizing a nation-wide investigation of prohibition enforcement, declared that the proposed probe might well begin with an inquiry into the activities of Cassidy and Goldberg.

Customers' Names Wanted.

"It ought to be brought out who Cassidy was on his way to see," declared Senator Wesley L. Jones [Rep., Wash.], father of the so called 5 and 10 Volstead penalty law, who at the time did not know of Goldberg's arrest but was concerned over the fact that Cassidy had been caught once before in front of the senate office building and once in the house office building.

"Are you going to suggest an investigation to find out who Cassidy's customers are?" Senator Jones was asked.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—[Special.]—Responsibility for the failure of Volstead enforcement was divided today by Senator Kenneth McKellar [Dem., Tenn.] between Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, "who has never really tried to enforce the law," and the President, "who except for political considerations has never been really interested in its enforcement."

The Tennessee senator's charges, read into the senate's record, were made in answer to a telegraphed appeal from more than a score of Nashville, Tenn., lawyers, urging him to support proposals for modification or repeal of the prohibition laws and to resist any attempt to deprive alleged Volstead violators of the right to jury trials.

"I regret exceedingly," McKellar answered, "that I can not comply with your request to support and vote for a plan of repealing or modifying the 18th amendment or the Volstead law. I am opposed to any weakening of the prohibition laws."

McKellar declared, however, that he is opposed "to any attempt to interfere" with the constitutional right of a citizen to a jury trial or any attempt to "evade" the guaranty.

DRY LAW FOUGHT BY WOMEN AND PARSONS IN N. Y.

Legislators Hear Charges of 3 Clergymen.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 19.—[Special.]—Women were conspicuous on the anti-prohibition side as wets and drys battled for more than five hours this afternoon and evening before the senate and assembly codes committees over the 1930 version of the Brown-Jenks state prohibition enforcement bill.

The high light of the hearing was a scathing indictment of the "corruption and hypocrisy" under the Volstead act, by the Rev. Charles Fiske of Utica, Protestant Episcopal bishop of central New York, which was read into the record.

A "Ghastly Tragedy."

The bishop wrote:

"The moral issue presented by the ghastly tragedy of corruption and hypocrisy arising out of the attempted enforcement of the Volstead act calls for plain speaking.

"I find many persons opposed to it on moral grounds, as well as the issue of its involving personal rights and liberties.

"I believe that it is a chief instrument in the increase of lawlessness. The brutality of attempted enforcement, with crime and murder on the part of the federal agents is a blot on American justice.

"I find, as a result, a growing feeling of disgust, among thoughtful women as well as among serious minded men, at the utter futility of the present policy. I have consulted insurance, corporation, health and police statistics and find that they clearly prove the failure of the attempt at enforcement and the evil effects of the whole movement."

The Rev. Randolph Ray of "the Little Church Around the Corner," New York City, wrote:

"Prohibition, as we have it today, is debasing public and private life."

He declared the "rapid increase in drinking among boys and girls" is appalling.

The Rev. Ernest Caldecott, pastor of the First Unitarian church in Schenectady, said that ten years ago he had spoken in favor of the 18th amendment, but has become convinced that prohibition could not be enforced.

Republican Club Called Upon.

New York, Feb. 19.—[Special.]—The National Republican club, of which President Hoover is a member, was petitioned today by a group of fifteen members, including Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, for a special club meeting to consider a resolution advocating repeal of the eighteenth amendment and asking the Republican majority in congress to work toward that end.

Under the bylaws of the club a special meeting is mandatory when requested by ten or more members on petition to the recording secretary. The date set is March 10, and, unless some of the club members who oppose the purpose can persuade the group to withdraw, the membership, a large majority of whom lives in this state, will be summoned for that day.

The National Republican club, although including many wets, long has avoided taking a stand on the liquor laws.

FEDERAL ATTORNEY IN N. Y. LAUNCHES HUNG JURY PROBE

New York, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Charles H. Tuttle, United States attorney, announced late today he would begin an immediate grand jury investigation into conditions that have enabled many juries to fail to reach verdicts because of "a single hung juror in each case." His decision was prompted by the hung jury today in the government's trial of eight defendants in connection with the sale of stock in the Utah Lead Company of Delaware.

Mr. Tuttle said the dissenting juror, John Cruz, who came here from Porto Rico five years ago, had asked Mr. Mintzer for a Spanish interpreter during an interview following the trial.

LAW TOO SEVERE, JUDGE THROWS OUT RUM CHARGE

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 19.—[Special.]—The Indiana legislature has made this court just a rubber stamp in dealing with liquor law cases."

This is the assertion of Judge James A. Collins of County Criminal court. He exploded indignantly today during the trial of Lee Ensley, charged with operating a blind tiger, and dismissed the case against him.

"There is nothing for the court to do but levy the excessive fines and sentences on a finding of guilty," said Judge Collins in referring to penalties for violating the "bone dry" act.

The judge contended that courts have no alternative in liquor cases except to assess the penalty fixed by the statute, despite the varying degrees of individual offenses.

Police testified that they were walking near Ensley's home when they saw the man emerge from between two houses. When Ensley saw the officers he tossed a bottle against the brick wall of one of the buildings and broke it. The bottle had contained liquor, police testified.

Officials confiscated four one-half pint bottles of whisky in Ensley's home, they said, but the liquor was not admitted as evidence because there was no search warrant.

Ensley was convicted of the blind tiger charge in Municipal court and appealed to Criminal court. In discharging him Judge Collins decided the penalty was too drastic.

COOLIDGES, IN WEST AS TOURISTS, SEE MOVIES IN MAKING

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Calvin Coolidge and his wife, in southern California as tourists, today fulfilled their expressed desire to see at first hand how motion pictures are made.

"I've been in the movies—the news reels—a long time," the ex-President commented, but this morning he and Mrs. Coolidge for the first time spent a half hour watching the colorful spectacle of the movie cameras filming a scene of a screen operetta.

As guests of Will H. Hays, film dictator, Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge had ringside seats beside the grinding cameras, watching more than 200 actors and actresses play their parts for the sight and sound recording equipment. Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks, who entertained the noted visitors at luncheon, were in the party at the Warner Brothers studio.

Initiation of Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge into the Los Angeles Breakfast club this morning lacked the traditional jocoseness attending similar introductions of noted personages.

For her song "The Sweetest Flower that Grows," Mrs. Coolidge bestowed a fervent kiss upon Mme. Schumann-Heink, operatic star, who entertained the noted guests as part of the club program.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

JURY LINKS KIN OF DRUG CHIEF TO ROTHSTEIN

Son-in-Law Borrowed from Gambler.

New York, Feb. 19.—[Special.]—The January federal grand jury today handed up a 15 page presentment in which it charged gross incompetency in the federal narcotic bureau here and urged reorganization of the bureau.

The presentment declared the son and son-in-law of Col. L. G. Nutt, deputy commissioner of prohibition in charge of narcotics at Washington, had represented Arnold Rothstein in an income tax case. Rothstein, federal investigators said shortly after his murder, was involved with a narcotic ring here.

Called "Indiscreet" by Jury.

Rolland Nutt and Mattingly were found by the jury to have been "indiscreet" in their conduct.

The presentment noted that Mattingly, in association with Gottlieb Haneke, operated a law and accountancy business in this city for a time and had a financial arrangement with Rolland Nutt, under which the latter handled tax matters for clients of Mattingly before the tax unit of the treasury department.

Levied Added Assessment.

"In January, 1926," the presentment continues, "the internal revenue department levied against Arnold Rothstein an additional income assessment for from 1919 to 1921, inclusively.

"At the instance of Mattingly, Rothstein executed a power of attorney to him and to Rolland Nutt to represent Rothstein before the treasury department in connection with the securing of a revocation or reduction of this assessment, and the assessment was subsequently compromised in the early part of 1927.

"We have examined the correspondence files of Rothstein, Rolland Nutt, Mattingly, and Haneke on this subject and we find that from time to time and for personal purposes Mattingly borrowed from Rothstein and through Rothstein from the Rothstein-Simon company, Inc., of which Rothstein was a member, a sum aggregating approximately $6,200."

COUNTIES TOLD TO USE GAS TAX MONEY WISELY

State Has Veto Power Over Road Work.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Urbana, Ill., Feb. 19.—[Special.]—On the eve of the 1930 road construction season, State Highway Engineer Sheets this afternoon announced in polite phases the state's policy in regulating the counties' expenditure of their shares of the gasoline tax. He warned that the state will veto attempts to spend the motorists' excise on projects other than those that will give the greatest service to traffic.

The announcement was delivered in an address before the annual short course in highway engineering conducted by the University of Illinois. The course, which opened today and will close on Friday, is being attended by approximately five hundred road builders, including most of the county highway engineers of the state.

Silent on Past Mistakes.

Mr. Sheets did not refer to the dark chapters in the history of Illinois road building—the construction of pavements to pay political debts, and, in some instances, to manipulate the realty market—but he no doubt had this history in mind in emphasizing the need for traffic surveys to determine paving programs.

"We will expect the counties," he said, in a typical declaration, "to make an intelligent and honest effort to select types of highway surfaces in accordance with fundamentally sound principles. We will give the counties the benefit of the doubt in exercising our veto power, but where we are convinced that the counties have not exercised their right of selection of type honestly and judiciously, our approval will be withheld."

Better Design Demanded.

Mr. Sheets also told his audience of highway builders that the state is going to require a more refined design on county roads that are to be improved with the gasoline tax.

The highway chief added that the state also will exercise its authority over the counties' maintenance work. The motor fuel tax law provides that if a county fails to maintain roads or bridges in a manner satisfactory to the state department, no further allotments of motor fuel tax funds shall be paid to the county until the maintenance requirements are met.

In addition to these words of warning to the county highway engineers, Mr. Sheets announced plans of the state to improve its service in aiding the counties with their road work. A bureau of the state highway department will be established for this purpose.

POWER BOARD LAXITY BARED AT SENATE QUIZ

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—[Special.]—Gross inflation of their capital accounts and the adoption of a consistently hostile attitude toward the federal power commission was charged against power companies generally by William V. King, the commission's chief accountant, testifying today before the senate interstate commerce commission.

King openly charged that F. E. Bonner, the commission's executive secretary, encouraged the utilities to flout the commission, and the result of the charge, coupled with the severe criticism of Bonner yesterday by C. A. Russell, solicitor for the commission, who declared the secretary pursued a policy of noninterference with the companies, was a summons for Bonner to appear before the committee tomorrow.

Before King concluded his testimony, Senator James Couzens [Rep., Mich.], chairman of the committee, asserted that "conditions in the commission have become so intolerable that it presents one of the rottenest exhibitions of government I have ever heard of."

Accuses Power Companies.

A memorandum listing examples of alleged "gross inflation of capital investment and failure to produce records" on the part of numerous power companies, prepared by O. C. Merrill, former executive secretary for the commission, was produced by King.

Under questioning by Senator Couzens, King declared it is a common practice for power companies to include in their reports for valuation purposes sums spent for lobbying, and he cited as an example the El Dorado Power company of California, in whose reports "lobbying fees" were carried as expense items. Investigation disclosed that $26,479, for which the El Dorado company claimed credit was paid to D. T. Flynn of the firm of Cummins, Roemer & Flynn of Chicago, whose principal activity, King testified, is "working on national legislation."

Alleges Fictitious Claims.

The same firm, King continued, received $137,560 from the H. M. Byllesby interests for "salaries and expenses from January, 1917, to March, 1921."

King testified that the Northern Connecticut Power syndicate had listed $2,050,000 in one investment account, but that when the internal revenue sought to tax this sum the company admitted that it represented only the company's own estimate of the vested right given by the government to water rights. The tax was not paid, King said.

King indorsed the full time power commission proposed in the Couzens bill introduced yesterday. The present commission composed of the secretaries of war, agriculture, and the interior, he pointed out, have held only ninety-nine meetings during the nine years of its existence, and he estimated that the three secretaries were actually in session only about five and one-half hours a year.

"The commission, under the present system," King declared, "has functioned only to the extent of issuing licenses and permits and has not been able to function at all with respect to its larger duties. Administration of the federal water power act has been left to the executive secretary."

Secretary Wilbur himself said today as an ex-officio member of the commission, that "an unsatisfactory and inharmonious condition existed in the staff."

Stubborn Coughs Ended by Recipe, Mixed at Home

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up a stubborn, lingering cough. It takes but a moment to prepare and costs little, but it gives real relief even for those dreaded coughs that follow severe cold epidemics.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. Thus you make a full pint of better remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times the cost. It never spoils and tastes so good that even children like it.

Not only does this simple mixture soothe and heal the inflamed throat membranes with surprising ease, but also it is absorbed into the blood, and acts directly upon the bronchial tubes, thus aiding the whole system in throwing off the cough. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and eases chest soreness in a way that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of distressing coughs, chest colds, and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

"Marie, How Do You Keep Your Skin so Lovely?"

"THAT'S easy. I just use Resinol Soap as my regular toilet soap every day, and if I have a pimple or any suggestion of a rash or roughness, I put on a little Resinol Ointment and it clears it right up."

Many women whose complexions you admire are using just this treatment. They find that Resinol Soap not only helps to overcome pimples, blackheads, oiliness, etc., but its daily use tends to prevent those conditions. Its clean tonic odor is delightful and its action is so gentle it is agreeable to the most sensitive skins.

They use Resinol Ointment too because it so quickly heals those minor skin irritations which everyone has sometimes, and they find it a soothing dressing for burns, sore corns, chafing, blisters, etc. At all druggists.

"I SENT our engineers from coast to coast ... and made them PROVE their amazing claims"

WHEN they tried to astonish me with the performance of the new Model 589 at our own factory I only laughed at them. They were told that tests in our own laboratories meant nothing to anybody but us—and we didn't care how it acted here. What I wanted to know was how it performed in Florida, Canada, in Portland, Maine and Dallas.

I sent them out, and they took that instrument into twenty states. They tested it in hotel rooms and in university laboratories, in city apartments and suburban bungalows, in zero weather in Northern Canada and in sunshine and rain in California. They placed it side by side with every other well-known radio made. The data they brought back ... hundreds of pages of it ... forms one of the most remarkable volumes ever written on radio.

So NOW, when we say that the new Sparton sets a new high mark of radio value and performance, we mean just that, because we KNOW. We know that Radio's Richest Voice and FACE-TO-FACE REALISM have been preserved with all their thrilling beauty in the lowest priced Sparton console ever made. We know that we are offering one of the most remarkable distance-getters ever built. We know that its ability to cut through high-powered local stations to far-away outside points has amazed radio experts from coast to coast, and that it holds thrills for owners beyond even their hopes.

'ARF PINT FLIES OVER 6 STATES ON TRIP SOUTH

Sky Pathfinder Makes 700 Miles in 7 Hours.

BY ROBERT WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Aiken, S. C., Feb. 19.—[Special.]—The 'Arf Pint blazed a blue streak across six states today, on a flight south from Chicago. Two hours before sunset THE TRIBUNE'S sky pathfinder landed at Aiken.

Seven hundred miles were covered in seven flying hours, despite the fact that a quartering south wind cut several miles from the cruising speed of the big Sikorsky amphibion. At 8 o'clock this morning the 'Arf Pint was waddling through mud puddles at the Chicago Municipal airport. At 3:30 this afternoon the ship alighted on Aiken's airport before Chicago mud splattered on the red nose of the flying boat had time to dry.

Although the skies were clear and there was no fog through the Cumberland mountains to worry Pilot Homer Berry, a blue haze veiled the ground and obscured the course a mile ahead of the ship. Last year the 'Untin' Bowler, sister ship of the 'Arf Pint, found fog in the mountain pass at Chattanooga in a late winter cruise from Chicago to Augusta, Ga., and was held up for a day. The course of today's cruise was shorter by more than a hundred miles, and as rich in aerial history as the longer route by way of Evansville, Nashville, and Chattanooga, over the civil war country.

Flies on Bee Line.

Today the 'Arf Pint sailed over Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, and South Carolina, more on a bee line course, and over Louisville, Ky., and Knoxville, Tenn.

A half hour's stop for fueling was made at Louisville, where Bob Gast, pilot of the ill-fated 'Untin' Bowler, fathered aviation in its infancy. A busy airport with a modern passenger station and an administration building attest that Gast was a good parent to the infant industry in his home town.

The airport in the Derby city is maintained jointly by the city and county. It has 200 acres of land, 60 acres more than Chicago's present "one track" airport, and 'round about is plenty of room for expansion.

The 'Arf Pint was above Louisville and headed south at 11:15. On the other side of Knoxville in the foothills of the Cumberlands the passengers of the 'Arf Pint ran across evidence that prohibition enforcement has not found its way into the land of the mountaineer moonshiners. Here and there the sun reflected in the tin of stills tucked away on remote hillsides.

Speeds at 7,000 Feet.

Pilot Berry went up to 7,000 feet to negotiate the sprawling mountains. At that height the brown haze ended in a definite line across the horizon and above the sky was a clear blue. The mountains ahead were rugged silhouettes.

Dropping down the other side of the range the 'Arf Pint sailed into clearer weather and sped on within striking distance of the Savannah river, putting 120 miles behind each hour. The ship reached the river at a point north of Augusta, Ga., and altered its course eastward, heading for Aiken.

AIR RATES GOING UP

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Air passenger rates will go up!

Such was the consensus of opinion today when air transport operators, meeting with the international aircraft exposition, traded information on the results of recent cut rates in air travel that have vied with rail-Pullman fares.

A "flivver plane," piloted by Paul Roderick of Cincinnati and equipped with a two cylinder engine, was taken from the floor of the exposition today and put through an economy test in which it flew for one hour and seventeen minutes on two gallons of gasoline.

Headed by Herbert Hoover Jr., son of the President of the United States, and radio technician for Western Air Express, experts reviewed current progress and predicted that another year would find all airplanes fully equipped with radio sets so simple that they could be operated by men without technical training.

Plane Crashes; 5 Injured.

St. Charles, Mo., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Five persons were injured when the monoplane the City of Winnipeg, en route from St. Paul to St. Louis, crashed in a tree near here tonight. Only one of the injured remained in a hospital, the others going to St. Louis. They refused to give their names to reporters.

According to one of the men, who said he was the pilot, he veered from his course to Lambert-St. Louis field when the gas supply was running low. The plane's right wing caught the tree when the beacon blinded him, he said.

All Twin City Men.

They are Norman G. Warsinski, Minneapolis, president of the Air Service, Inc., of the Canadian-American Air Lines, which owns the City of Winnipeg; H. D. Putnam, Minneapolis, pilot of the plane; Harry Wilcox, Minneapolis; George E. Gere Jr., St. Paul, and Don Stearns, St. Paul.

U. S. Aviators Make Record in Flight to Buenos Aires

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 19. — The American aviators, Lieut. Clement McMullen and Will White, arrived at the Palomar airdrome here at 3:04 p. m. today. Although the aviators were one day behind their planned schedule, they made a record breaking flight between Newark, N. J., and Buenos Aires, making the hop in four days and seven hours.

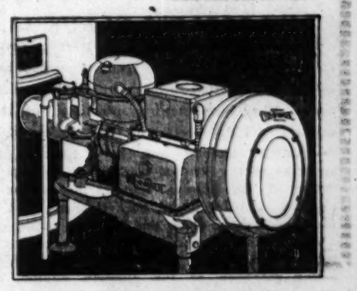
Government engineers report, "Tests show burners using low grades of oil attain greatest economy. Lighter oil may be 25% higher in price than heavier grades. In such cases the saving in cost by burning heavier oils may be as much as 30%." Because of patented, exclusive Williams features, Oil-O-Matic heats automatically with this heavier fuel oil which costs less per gallon yet gives more heat!

WILLIAMS OIL-O-MATIC HEATING



Oil-O-Matic Model J is the larger burner for installation in bigger houses and buildings. It is heating far more homes than any other make!

WILLIAMS Oil-O-Matic fuel oil burners have won world leadership by heating far more homes than any other make! This success is partly because of economical operation but more because an Oil-O-Matic burner installed in your present boiler or furnace banishes all heating work and worry.

In both the famous Model J Oil-O-Matic burner and the smaller, lower priced new Oil-O-Matic Junior, complete thermostatic control eliminates fuel waste, prevents unhealthy overheating on warmer days. Early in the morning or late at night—even in zero weather—your entire house is comfortably warm. The exact temperature you select is automatically maintained without need for shaking or shoveling. A clean, usable floor is added to your home when Oil-O-Matic heating banishes dirty coal and dusty ashes from your basement.

Call in the Williams Oil-O-Matic dealer—listed below—for helpful heating service. Back of his experience is the Williams factory at Bloomington, Illinois, whose low cost fuel oil burners are heating far more homes than any other make. THE GODLESS IN RUSSIA.

To their own satisfaction the Russian soviets have crashed the world's front page and have succeeded in getting themselves into the trenches again. They have timed a promotion of their atheism with the meeting of the Congress of the Godless in Moscow and have inflamed the churches of the civilized world with their persecution of the Russian church, the closing of churches, desecration of holy emblems, and attacks upon deity, piety, and religious faiths.

At the same time there are cautious, or fraudulent—it is not clear which—statements from the acting patriarch of the Russian church, the Metropolitan Sergius, that religion as such is not being suppressed, but that worship is permitted if there are no political offenses against the revolution. These statements may be faked or they may be merely prudent, coming from an imperiled hierarchy. In any event they are at variance with the declaration of the Reds and with their known purposes.

The attack upon religion, upon God, and Christianity has brought a response from the pope, from Church of England prelates, and from religious bodies in the United States and elsewhere, the churches accepting a challenge in behalf of the religion of Russia. Both American and English faiths already are looking to their governments for some word or act which will declare officially the indignation with which the white world views the offenses against religion, the persecution of believers, and the desecration of religious symbols. The soviets seemingly are trying to touch the springs which release the crusade, knowing that nothing is to be feared from it.

Atheism is not peculiar to the Russian revolution. It was the boast of the French. The American revolution was content with the guaranty of religious freedom and the prohibition of an established church, but the great publicist of liberty and exhorter of discouraged patriot armies was Tom Paine, and not a few of the great leaders were indifferent. The Cromwellian revolution went on the rocks of sectarian persecution of divergent faiths. The Russians are not presenting the world with anything new, but with something expectable. They have, however, a genius for being irritating which the world has not encountered since the days of the French Jacobins.

When a tyranny finds its hands rather overfull with domestic troubles the old formula is to seek an embroilment abroad, to direct national attention to a danger outside, to reunite the dangerous home factions by showing them another enemy. A good foreign war has been made much of by uneasy monarchs. The soviets know they will not get a war, which in this case makes the strategy all the better. It is too early to know whether other governments are willing to have a religious issue against the possibility of Russian economic competition, that competition being so largely conjectural and predicated upon things Russia indicates only by their failure. But the value to the soviets of this growing denunciation of Russian morality and policy is apparent.

Stalin has undertaken to manhandle the peasants, the great masses of the Russian people, to speed up the process of expelling and destroying the farmers who have managed to survive the revolution by their own efforts under individual ownership of land, and to create at once the thoroughly communized agricultural political units controlled by the state.

An incredibly large number of the kulaks, meaning farmers who have succeeded in keeping themselves reliably above the starvation line, are being despoiled of their land and sent to remote regions of poor condition or banished as enemies of the revolution. That may be accomplished without protest from the masses, but they in turn must be subjected by state control to the community production of foodstuffs and the centralized disposal of them. The peasants are stubborn and stolid. The soviet government must make good with them or the Red army will have its hands full.

At this time a religious war which isn't a war but makes the sound of one attacking the Russian people can be used to advantage.

THE ROTARY ANNIVERSARY.

Rotary clubs all over the world are celebrating this week the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the first Rotary club. The principal celebration is being held in Chicago, for it is here that the first club was organized and it is here that most of the surviving charter members live.

The organization of Rotary clubs throughout the country and the vigorous growth of similar organizations which owe their inspiration to Rotary is one of the phenomena of our times with which social historians of the future will have to reckon. Nothing, for example, could better illustrate the extraordinary talent for organization which is characteristic of our age in America. The luncheon clubs have proved themselves an admirable training ground for leadership without which any community becomes merely an agglomeration of individuals.

The luncheon clubs have served also to mitigate some of the rigors of a competitive civilization. The American people are committed by their history and environment to a system of individual initiative. Such a system carries with it the danger of sharp practices and cutthroat competition. The luncheon clubs, with their emphasis upon friendliness and community welfare, have provided a much needed corrective. They have not ushered in the millennium, but they have done much to further fair dealing with employés and with customers.

SCIENCE AND BIGOTRY.

Remarks upon the prohibition experiment by Dr. Samuel W. Lambert, one of the most eminent of American authorities in the science of medicine, are a most timely and weighty contribution to public knowledge and opinion in this controversy. There is nothing the prohibition zealot more persistently asserts than that the opposition to prohibition is inspired by if not confined to unscrupulous individuals who simply want their drink. In this theory the controversy over prohibition is represented as a combat between selfish appetite and altruistic devotion to the common good. Dr. Lambert does not fit into such a picture and his protest has the prestige of his character, scientific knowledge, and distinguished achievement.

There is difference of opinion in the medical profession as to the medical value of alcohol, but it should be obvious to any one except the bigots of law commanded teetotalism that where a physician of the eminence of Dr. Lambert and others of high professional responsibility are convinced of its usefulness the law should not overrule their judgment. No physician is required to prescribe alcohol if he thinks it harmful or inefficacious, but if his scientific judgment recommends its use he should be free to act upon that judgment. Dr. Lambert's protest against the invasion of the physician's and scientist's domain should have the active support of the medical profession, regardless of such division of opinion as exists as to the therapeutic value of alcohol, and merely as an issue of scientific freedom. We think the weight of scientific opinion is with Dr. Lambert, but even if it were not, the question is one for scientific, not political, determination.

But Dr. Lambert's remarks touched upon an even broader aspect of the prohibition problem when he declared that it has created a situation which calls for a sharp division upon its issues and a responsible opposition to prohibition assumptions and political subserviency. We think this is at hand. Men of the caliber of Dr. Lambert, leaders in the professions and in public affairs, who cannot and will not be dismissed as mere selfish partisans of indulgence, of lawlessness or immorality, are protesting against conditions. Four of the leading bar associations of the United States have demanded the repeal of the eighteenth amendment. Clergymen of prominence are expressing their conviction that the evils of the liquor traffic must be dealt with by methods less demoralizing and more constructive. The destructive results of Volsteadism are forcing themselves upon the public conscience. In short, the opposition to bigotry and the movement toward sanity and respect for American principles are growing rapidly.

FLORIDA, THE DEMI-VIRGIN.

Either the Wickersham law enforcement commission or any one of the proposed congressional prohibition investigating committees might do well to pay some attention to Florida as a model exhibit under Volstead. If the Washington police continue to arrest the senate bootlegger, the man in the green hat, on the senate steps, any committee could do some investigating by merely looking out of the window or by going into the offices, but that would inform the congressmen of nothing of which they are not already informed, whereas some of them may not know how the Florida interpretation of the eighteenth amendment works.

Interesting knowledge of it could be had from reading Westbrook Pegler, but that probably would only inspire a desire for research. Florida is the winter playground of the nation and it construes and accepts certain duties as of a moral nature. It is in the family to make people happy if they are solvent. It satisfies its fundamentalist belt by voting dry and then is free to be a sunny and liberal host, to ask what the boys in the back room will have, to polish up the mahogany and to keep the glasses glittering in front of the mirror when they are not full on top of the bar.

Fat ladies in the modern equivalent of fig leaves charm the eye as they brown in the sun. Gambling and horse racing add their attractions to second rate prize fighting and the first rate drinking. Florida is the happy state which has brought the noble experiment to a satisfactory answer, combining high principles and sound money, half virgin, half bacchante, a lily in its hands and red roses in its hair, the happy state of the covenant and the carousal, all with benefit of clergy. (To Florida editors: Don't make the mistake of thinking this is bad advertising.)

FISK'S HENNESSEY HOUND.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

A hound at Fisk, Mo., known for his inefficiency in scaring up rabbits, recently has developed into something of a canine prodigy by becoming highly agitated before a brush pile and turning up 40 bottles of home brew. The owner now expects the prohibition authorities to add his previously unappreciated pet to its staff of snoop hounds. The animal itself might prefer the coast guard, where he could stand duty in the dog watches and sniff the seas for bottled goods. In the customs service he would be useful for greeting congressmen at the gangplank and guarding them against those embarrassing mixups in baggage.

This animal's accomplishments should not be allowed to die with him, and if the dog fanciers are awake to their opportunity we will soon have a pedigreed line of Hennessey hounds. In addition to the breed's aid in law enforcement, it would guide thirsty owners to oases, just as the St. Bernards of the Alps succor weary and despairing travelers.

PROUD PUPIL.

One of the younger novelists is engaged as a master in English at a school in an industrial area. Recently, a correspondent informs the London Morning Post, an employer was interviewing a boy who had just left school.

"Let me see," said he, "Mr. X——, the writer, is a master at your old school, is he not?"

"Yessir," came the ready response, "that's him what learned me English."—Exchange.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

The French Crisis—And Why.

The French delegates have withdrawn from the Naval Peace Conference in London, and the other visiting firemen have declared an armistice. The French say their delegates had to come home because of the crisis. That wasn't it! The French delegates went home because they couldn't stand any more English cooking.

There is nothing more horrible to a Frenchman than English food. The French delegates sent to London were true heroes. They knew what they were going up against—mutton pie and cold mutton, mutton chops, roast mutton, and mutton joint. So when they started for England they kissed their families good-by, made their wills, and shouting "Vive la France!" marched bravely off to London like soldiers marching to the battlefield.

"Vive la France!" shouted the heroic French delegates as they went around London from one British banquet to the next one with a smile on their white faces.

Shoulder to shoulder they kept their places. "Vive la France!" they shouted, though there was mutton to right of them, mutton to left of them, and mutton in front of them. They fought to the last ditch.

And even at the last they did not surrender or turn in cowardly retreat. They would have eaten until the last piece of mutton in England was gone or the last French delegate was dead. But France would not waste her brave sons. Something must be done to get them home and let them have a few meals at Papa Foyot's. So France decided to have a crisis. Vive la crise! Aux barricades!

And so the French delegates got back home, and as soon as they get fed up they'll hurry back to the firing line. "Revenons," they will say, tightening their belts, "à nos moutons!" Vive la France! A bas les moutons! Courage, mes amis! Pour la Patrie! Allons! Allons!

A SONG AGAINST PASSIONATE FLOWERS.

It is the gray dust-flower, Sleep,
That turns me finally away from them.
Theirs is a coloring they may not keep;
Here are ash petals, on a quiet stem.

Gray petals fall forever with no sound
Or drift on the still air.
Dust petals sifting into dusty ground,
Till only dust is there.

Even the wind's winged hunt must cease
In gardens where it grows;
Ever the gray dust-flower, Peace,
Shall turn me from a rose.

BERTHA TEN EYCK JAMES.

THEY'RE TRYING to take the Love out of tennis on the grounds that it makes a big two hundred pound six-footer feel foolish every time he says it and the game seem too lady-like. Well, it certainly does, and the rules committee should change the thing so that the player instead of saying "Twenty love" and so on should instead call out briskly, "Twenty, you poor sap"; "Thirty, you big stiff," and "Forty, funnyface, and t'ell with you." That ought to give the game a little masculine vigor. Anyhow, it's worth trying.

The Law of Compensation.

Pooh, we should worry because we can't break into that magnificent hospital that the Very Rich have built for themselves in New York. Suppose it has got walnut period furniture with chintz curtains on the windows and gold band dishes with crests. Suppose the orange juice is served in delicately frosted crystal glasses surrounded by cracked ice, and that in place of a superintendent, as most hospitals have, this one has a fashionable resident manager? What of it! We would rather go to a common or garden variety hospital when they take our appendix out to play with and have nothing to sew up in us except a pair of scissors or a couple of small sponges than to run the risk of having some of those delicately frosted crystal glasses left in our insides. Or one of the handsome writing desks, or a pair of chintz curtains, or maybe the fashionable resident manager. Give us the scissors or the two small sponges every time.

And No Sluggin' in the Clinches.

Jimmy (James Weber) Linn in his Round About Chicago does not like the way Dennis King read Mrs. Browning's "How Do I Love Thee" sonnet over the radio last Saturday. He says Dinny's interpretation was of a shouting excited undisciplined mob, and that instead of bringing out the meaning of the words he attempted the hypnosis of his hearers by a sort of tremolo rant. We didn't hear Dennis do the "How Do I Love Thee" sonnet because the dinged old radio laid down on the job, but we remember the way Dinny did the Balcony scene from Romeo and Juliet and how he read Mercutio's lines to us one enchanted night in our own humble flat. But James Weber also reads exceeding well and is a marvel at interpretation. So why not a duel? A radio duel between James Weber and Dennis over the radio? In ten rounds or until there is a knockout. Each to read "How Do I Love Thee." Weight to be not more than 165 ringside, ten ounce gloves, Marquis of Queensberry rules. La-dees and gen-tel-mun, in this here corner we have J. Weber Linn, Battling Jimmy, champeen of the Midway. In tha op-sit corner we have Dinny King, Turrible Dinny, the Cotswold Slugger, both boys mem-bahs of this club! Shake hands—GONG!!!

We think green hats are awful, too, but, gosh, the fellow's got to have some sort of a distinguishing mark, or otherwise how are the boys who drink wet and vote dry going to recognize him? What would you do? Great Scott! Has he got to wear a sign, "I Am The Official Congressional Bootlegger" and ring a bell or toot a horn like a fish peddler when he makes his rounds?

DIET AND TOOTH DECAY.

THE great volume of evidence that the teeth can be kept from decaying and the gums can be kept firm and healthy by an anti-scurvy diet attracts attention to the foods which supply considerable quantities of vitamin C. When it was discovered that lime juice and lemon juice would prevent old fashioned scurvy the authorities soon found it necessary to specify not only the anti-scorbutic foods but also to give the minimum amounts to be used daily.

They found not only that substitutes for lemons were being used, but that there was a tendency to skimp on quantities. Some expected one suck a day to keep scurvy away. The regulations for men on sailing vessels called for a minimum of a given amount of lemon juice a day.

In the prevention of tooth decay and diseased gums, these kinsmen of scurvy, we have arrived at the point where dentists and physicians are specifying at least one pint of orange juice a day. This means not one orange, or a pint of oranges, but one pint of undiluted juice of fresh good oranges daily. If a commercially diluted juice is used the purchaser should know the percentage of juice in the mixture, that he may calculate his daily dose of the diluted product. For the moment, oranges are bearing nearly the whole burden.

Among the other foods known to contain considerable quantities of vitamin C are lemon juice, tomato juice, lettuce, sprouted beans, raw cabbage, raw carrots, onions, pineapples, potatoes, turnips, and various other fruits and vegetables. Just how much of each of these foods is required to equal one pint of orange juice as a source of vitamin C remains to be established. The time will doubtless come in which a man may choose between one pint of orange juice and a given quantity of lettuce; or a combination of tomato juice, cabbage, and carrots. Whichever he uses the sum total of anti-scorbutic substance should equal that found in one pint of orange juice.

Some tricks in the art of food preparation will be required to meet this demand. One authority says tomato juice equals orange juice but it is impossible to get a child to drink a pint or more of tomato juice a day. When one listens to discussion of this question he is impressed by the way it leads toward raw as well as fresh foods. The freer use of raw foods will require greater care in the kitchen, in washing and cleaning such foods to free them from dirt, microbes, and worms, and arsenic and other insect poisons.

A TUMOR PROBLEM.

Mrs. K. M. writes:

What would you suggest for a fatty tumor on the shoulder which causes some discomfort and nervousness? Owing to its location directly over a group of nerves I have been advised not to have it operated on as it would probably affect the use of the arm.

REPLY.

There is nothing to do except to have it removed by operation if it is enough in the way to call for remedy.

Whatever its location, it may be removed without cutting the nerves, though skill and care may be required.

NEIGHBORS WANT CHIMNEY EXTENDED.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—[Friend of the People.]—Residents of the two story flat building next door, built a year ago, complain about my chimney, which is eight feet high. They want us to add at least five more feet to it, which we consider very dangerous. Must we do this? A. F.

In case the chimney in question is creating a nuisance to the occupants of the adjoining building it will be necessary for the owner of the bungalow to take whatever steps are necessary to abate the nuisance. The usual remedy is to extend the chimney. This can be done with tile or metal extension and if properly supported should not be a source of any danger.

WASHINGTON.—Officers from the Shenandoah valley state that the guerrilla bands which have been so troublesome in that department, in view of the approaching dissolution of the rebel confederacy, have grown comparatively unobtrusive and are deserting in large numbers into our lines.

CINCINNATI.—Col. Benjamin M. Anderson, who served with distinction in the rebel army, and is one of the prisoners on trial before a military commission here on charges of plotting to sack and burn Chicago last fall, shot himself in McLean barracks. He snatched a revolver from a passing guard and pointing it at his heart pulled the trigger. Another prisoner, however, grabbed his arm and the bullet was deflected and entered the abdomen. He is not expected to survive. If he dies there will be only three of the Chicago conspirators left on trial. They are Grenfell, Walsh, and Morris.

NEW YORK.—The Herald's Washington correspondent says that of 24 men of the 93d New York regiment who were taken prisoners in August last and confined at Salisbury, N. C., twenty have died of starvation, three enlisted in the rebel army to escape a similar fate, and one escaped.

CHICAGO.—It was announced that the 147th Illinois regiment will leave Camp Fry this evening for Nashville. Col. Hiram L. Sickles commands the regiment.

CHICAGO.—Every effort of all Chicago's civic leaders is turned to making the great Northwestern Sanitary Fair for the benefit of soldiers to be held in May a success. Not only in Chicago, but in all parts of the northwest; not alone in the west, but in the east, south, even in countries of the old world, the busy notes of preparation are heard. The President of the United States—Honest Old Abe—is expected to be present with Mrs. Lincoln. Maj. Gen. Hooker, elected president of the fair, also is expected to attend.

French having got between the Boer force and Bloemfontein, but that reinforcements were awaited before closing in.

WASHINGTON.—A new ship subsidy bill is to be presented in congress to meet the opposition which has developed to the Hanna-Payne measure.

WASHINGTON. — Leaders of the railroad brotherhoods and of the American Federation of Labor, at a meeting of more than 100 members of the house of representatives, demanded that the compromise railroad bill be killed. The labor leaders declared the legislation was "inimical to the rights and interest of labor." The sections guaranteeing a return of 5½ per cent on capital invested in railroads and those providing for settlements of wage and other disputes the labor leaders declared obnoxious.

CHICAGO.—Lieut. Theodore Luedke was officially declared a hero and was awarded the Lambert Tree medal for the bravest deed performed by a member of the fire department for 1919.

AURORA, Ill. — Mrs. Elida Piza Crane, the young Costa Rican wife of Herbert Crane, one of the large stockholders of the Crane company in Chicago, was awarded $800 a month temporary alimony in the Kane county Circuit court. A FARMER TO FARMERS.

Piqua, O., Feb. 17.—Will the American farmer never learn? A farmer correspondent, Feb. 16, says, "The department of agriculture warned the farmers to go slow. They said any expansion would make prices still lower." Then he says, "For farmers who have put in their best licks for the last eight years, 365 days in the year, to slow up now and shirk their work would seem suicidal. Idleness has no promise of reward."

What bunk! No one wants the farmer to be idle. All any one has tried to do was to have the American farmer as a whole run his farm in a business way. One of my farm papers says there are 400,000 fewer horses and mules in Ohio than before the auto and tractor came into use, and another paper says, "The auto and tractor have made unnecessary the cultivation of 18,000,000 acres." What has been done about these acres? Not a thing. They are still being cultivated and the product put on a market already shot to pieces.

The American farmer produces 84 per cent of the corn, 23 per cent of the wheat, 37 per cent of the oats, 11 per cent of the potatoes, and 55 per cent of the cotton of the world, and is broke. It does not make sense. Barring bad health and bad weather, no American farmer should be hard up.

When the farmer learns that ignoring supply and demand puts him on the bum and regulation of cultivated acreage is his only salvation, then he will get ahead and not before. The surplus establishes the price of his whole crop. One farmer or a few cannot do it; it must be organization of all farmers in their different classes.

When the farmer quits yelling about what is done to him and crying for help and helps himself, then he will get on top fast. No one does anything to the farmer except as the farmer as a whole allows him to do it. And I don't know any farmer that wouldn't soak some one if he had the chance, the same as he is being soaked. They yell about the manufacturers getting everything they want at Washington. Maybe they do. But they don't come home and run their shops and factories without paying any attention to their markets. They manage their business; the farmer does not.

I know a man who will gross [1929] $7,000 to $8,000 off 23 acres of potatoes. But if 5 acres on each farm in the U. S. was put in potatoes and only 75 bushels per acre produced there would be approximately 22 bushels for each man, woman, and child in the U. S. Think it over. OHIO FARMER.

CHIVALRY.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—In the writeup on the surrender of Miss Lindgren, former girl cashier of the closed People's State bank of Maywood, we read the following panegyric:

"Mr. Markham" [the assistant state's attorney] "was solicitous for the girl, assisting her from the courtroom and holding his hat before her face to prevent photographs from being made. He frowned on the crowd which gazed curiously at the young woman."

Perhaps Mr. Markham will be equally solicitous for the victims of the pretty cashier and refund them the money they have lost. Then he could be sure to avoid all further embarrassment to his "charge." M. S.

UNSCRUPULOUS PRACTICE.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—Here is hoping your editorial, "Unscrupulous Practice," flooded you with demands for reprints in order to get some action in "sweepup of low grade lawyers," while you are at it why not include also the low grade physician, who will issue a professional statement to shield a criminal, and include all the politicians, "fixers" and all those furnishing bail and thus rid the community of professional nuisances?

A mere investigation by the Bar association, as suggested, would hardly remedy the evil you have in mind. The committee recently visiting Canadian courts has proposed to clothe the courts with the authority to deny such lawyers the right to appear again before the bar. However, if such power should be deemed too autocratic the courts could be required to report any and every dishonorable practice of lawyers to the Bar association, who could then take time to deliberate and vote on the expulsion of an unworthy member. Likewise the courts could furnish the medical association or the department of registration with the data of a disreputable practice of a physician before the courts. This would help to break up the combination of crime and politics.

WHEN THE CITY PAYS.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—Your paper stated this morning that Mayor Thompson received the first pay check, $750, and I ask where does he get the gall to take it when so many will be hungry after paying their rent? I think a little fasting would do him good.

Our city is in this condition owing to his administration, or I should say lack of administration. If he had had people like Faherty out of office there would not be so many to pay, especially those who go down once a month to get $125 for just being on the pay roll and hold other good jobs somewhere else. I happen to know of several of these cases personally, and feel ashamed to think I ever voted for the present administration but hope they remain in office long enough to get the full benefit of their dirty work. D. A.

THE ELECTION IN MASSACHUSETTS.

Moline, Ill., Feb. 15.—The wets are proudly pointing to Massachusetts, where a wet congressman, William J. Granfield, has just been elected from the Second congressional district.

Let it be remembered that Massachusetts has always been conceded to be wet, one of the very few states in the Union that can be called definitely so. The election, therefore, was no surprise gain and in no sense indicates any change of dry sentiment. It was of no more importance than would be the election of a dry congressman in a dry state like Kansas.

Whenever the wets are able to elect a congressman outside of their well known strongholds then they will have something to talk about. L. M. P.

CRIME REMAINS.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—The state's attorney, when a candidate for office promised, if elected, he would run all crooks, racketeers, and bombers out of town, so far has failed. Hence the criticism heaped on him, and rightly so.

If he cannot make good let him tell the reason why or resign from office so that the electors may know what to do at the next election. R. Hunt.

"Man and Superman."

COALITION MEN OBJECT TO TATE FOR I. C. C. POST

Tennessee Man Is Called Railroad Lawyer.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—[Special.]—Echoes of the bitter controversy over the confirmation of Chief Justice Hughes of the United States Supreme court were heard in the senate today when the appointment of Hugh M. Tate of Knoxville, Tenn., to the interstate commerce commission was protested on the ground that his law firm has been retained by the Southern railway.

Senator Hugh Black [Dem., Ala.], who opened the coalition attack on Tate's appointment, based his opposition on three major grounds, charging at the outset of a two hour speech that the selection was an administration attempt to pack the commission with Republicans in violation of the law providing the body shall be strictly bi-partisan in makeup.

Politics Charged.

In addition he emphasized the contention that other men without "a corporation background" could have been found for the place and he added as a final thrust that the appointment was obviously political because Tate comes from "the doubtful state of Tennessee." Tate's firm represents a single division of the Southern railway in several Tennessee counties.

Black pointed out that the law provides that there shall not be more than six members of one party on the board and he declared that Commissioner Thomas F. Woodlock of New York, nominally a Democrat, is in fact a Republican and the confirmation of Tate, he insisted, will make seven Republicans on the commission, "in direct and flagrant violation of the law."

Hoover's Case Cited.

"Why, the present President of the United States held an office under a Democratic President," declared Black when Senator D. Goff [Rep., W. Va.] asked if it is not true that Woodlock was recognized and held a state office in New York as a Democrat.

"But," continued Black, "does any one suppose or believe that the President is a Democrat now? He was in 1920, but now he is the leader of the Republican party. The plan in Woodlock's case was to name as many members as possible of one party and then go to the other side and name a man nearest to your own views and labeling him as belonging to the other side.

"The interstate commerce law should be obeyed just as much as the 18th amendment and the Volstead act, and I want to see some of the senators who preach observance of law all over the country vote for a confirmation that is a palpable violation of law."

HOOVER'S VIEWS ON SHOALS ENTER LOBBY HEARING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—[Special.]—President Hoover while secretary of commerce, according to evidence before the senate's lobby committee today, sought to unite conflicting chemical and power interests on a plan for private operation of the government-owned Muscle Shoals project.

Letters found in the files of the Tennessee River Improvement association disclosed that in 1925 the at that time secretary, joined with Claudius H. Huston, now chairman of the Republican national committee, in a futile effort, through Owen D. Young, former chairman of the Radio Corporation of America, to compose the differences between the two groups.

President Hoover's name was linked with the Tennessee River association's activities in a letter written by J. W. Worthington, the association's executive chairman, on July 25, 1927, to Huston.

KILLS ESTRANGED WIFE, THEN TURNS GUN ON HIMSELF

As a climax to a four months' quarrel, Peter Kofensky, 1217 Cleaver street, yesterday shot and killed his estranged wife, Mrs. Mary Kofensky, 1257 Cleaver street, and then turned the gun upon himself. His wound may prove fatal.

The shooting occurred in the street a few doors from the woman's home. She was wheeling a baby carriage containing two children by a former marriage when Kofensky, whom she married less than a year ago, appeared and pleaded with her to return to him. She repulsed him and he shot her twice.

Kofensky dropped the revolver with which he had killed his wife, ran a few steps, then drew another gun and shot himself below the heart. He had scribbled a note in Polish to the effect that he had caught his wife with another man, one Romana, "a big bootlegger."

"She's a Septic!"

Many women want to be, deserve to be, and could be far more popular than is their lot. Doctors know why. So do nurses. They call such cases septics

To remedy obnoxious body odors and bad breath, you must recognize their cause. The trouble is deep-seated. Frankly in the colon. Semi-constipation makes millions of systems septic. There may be a daily movement, but all the waste is not eliminated. The matter that remains poisons the blood, and permeates the perspiration. It taints the breath. Nature is signaling her need of a tiny Calcium Wafer.

Calcium wafers work wonders in one's appearance, too. With the inner system sweet and clean, the complexion clears most marvelously. Eyes brighten. Teeth whiten. The tongue is no longer coated, even on arising. And you never need take another harsh cathartic.

Perhaps you are a septic, and don't know it. Try a tiny wafer of calcium, and see! It may make all the difference in the world. Leave harsh, habit-forming cathartics alone. You never need them if you take an occasional calcium wafer.

TRY THIS THOROUGH TEST

A five day test should prove to you very conclusively the system's need for Stuart's Calcium Wafers, and the benefit from these little wafers. Your druggist has them for 10c. Or the family size 60c. Start this test today!

Don't neglect a COLD

DISTRESSING cold in chest or throat—that so often leads to something serious—generally responds to good old Musterole with the first application. Should be more effective if used once every hour for five hours.

Working like the trained hands of a masseur, this famous blend of oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other helpful ingredients brings relief naturally. It penetrates and stimulates blood circulation, helps to draw out infection and pain. Used by millions for 20 years. Recommended by doctors and nurses.

Keep Musterole handy—jars and tubes.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets.

13,000,000 IN JAPAN VOTE ON NEW PARLIAMENT

Issues Are Prosperity and Gold Standard.

TOKIO, Feb. 20 [Thursday].—(AP)—Balloting opened throughout Japan early today in the general election which will decide the fate of the present Minseito government, headed by Premier Yuko Hamaguchi.

The prime minister dissolved the imperial parliament Jan. 21 and appealed to the electorate for a mandate to continue in office, for approval of its program of drastic national economy, and of its recent restoration of the gold standard.

In the last parliament the opposition party, the Seiyukai, had 237 seats of the total of 466, with the Minseito party holding only 173.

Fight Over Domestic Issues.

The bitterly fought campaign has been concerned almost altogether with domestic economic issues. The London naval conference was not mentioned in the platform of either major party. The Seiyukai charged that the return of gold payments had brought on unnecessary business depression and unemployment, and promised an early return of prosperity and jobs for all if it were given a mandate.

Woman played an increasingly important part in the campaign, some, from the intellectual classes, in support of labor and proletarian candidates. Others worked to obtain candidates' indorsement of suffrage for women.

Nearly 13,000,000 persons are eligible to vote and between 70 and 80 per cent of them were expected to exercise this right. They must be male, sane, literate, free from conviction of felony, and registered residents of their voting districts for at least a year.

All Voters Must Write.

Members of the lower house of parliament are the only national officeholders chosen by vote of the people. Members of the house of peers and officials of the executive and judicial departments of the government are not elected.

Voting was by secret ballot, differing from the American system in the requirement that the voter must write in the name of his candidate, thus automatically eliminating the illiterate. Voters may write in Chinese characters, in the Japanese syllabary or Kana, even in Roman characters, and in the Eun-Mon, or Corean script. This last provision is for the benefit of some 250,000 Coreans living in Japan who have the right to vote. Special braille ballots were provided for the blind.

FILIPINO APACHES ATTACK SMOKERS OF YANKEE FAGS

3,000 High School Students on Strike.

BY FORD WILKINS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MANILA, Feb. 19.—Anti-Filipino race agitation in the United States, combined with excitement over prospects of independence, have led to a series of incidents in Manila during the last two days considered alarming in certain quarters.

Filipino gangsters of the apache type have started an underworld boycott against American cigarets, attacking and beating up all Filipinos seen smoking them. It is estimated that 30 persons have been badly pummeled in the last 24 hours. Gang leaders are reported to be intending to extend a fistic boycott to other brands of American products in the districts of Tondo and San Nicolas.

3,000 Students on Strike.

A strike of 3,000 students of the Manila North High school was taken up with the Manila municipal council today. The students are protesting alleged derogatory, insulting remarks made by Mabel Brummitt, American teacher of the senior class of mathematics, claiming she called them "savages, imbeciles, simmering idiots, contemptible cads and half-civilized." The teacher, whose home is in Valparaiso, Ind., denies the insults. She is a graduate of the Ward-Belmont college at Nashville, Tenn.

A small riot among the striking students occurred when thirteen students, who insisted on attending classes, roused the antipathy of the strikers. One youth was slightly injured.

The students claim they will not return to school until Miss Brummitt is dismissed. Luther Bewley, director of education, appointed an investigation committee. The students paraded through the city this morning carrying banners which read, "We Protest."

Communists Join Agitation.

Taking advantage of the strike, communist agitators issued a pamphlet, signed by the Young Anti-Imperialist league giving support to the strikers against "the insult inflicted on the Filipino people by cat's paw American capitalists."

The police do not anticipate serious trouble. Government authorities also refuse to believe the manifestations are significant.

The independence congress in Manila opens Saturday, however, and the general belief that this is responsible for the stirring of mass sentiment was made further interesting today by announcement that Gen. Emilio Aguinaldo, president of the Filipino Veterans' association, considered the mainstay in the congress, is withdrawing from participation, following a dispute over a two peso registration fee, claiming exemption. The contributing cause is said to be a split in the ranks of veterans.

New York, Feb. 19.—[Special.]—Sigmund Tancer, a jeweler, reported to the police today that as he rode up town in an east side subway train a hand was thrust into his hip pocket, $20,000 in gems taken out, and the robber disappeared as the train discharged its passengers.

PARENTS OPEN OWN SCHOOL IN N. Y. AS PROTEST

108 Pupils Spurn Order of Board.

New York, Feb. 19.—[Special.]—Protesting parents opened a school of their own today and 108 boys and girls who have been on strike along with their papas and mamas began classes in the Charlton Street Memorial church.

The parents are determined to continue their protest against transferring the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades from public school No. 38, Broome and Clark streets, to junior high school No. 95, Clarkson and Varick streets, and No. 3, at Hudson and Grove streets.

The board of education ordered the transfer to become effective Feb. 1, but the board did not realize what the parents were going to do. The parents, declaring the children would have long and dangerous walks to the new schools, immediately called the strike and every morning have reported with their children to Miss Margaret Aitken, principal of the old school.

Since the children did not appear at the new schools officials called attendance officers and to overcome this difficulty the parents decided to run a school of their own. Mrs. Adele Rosenow, a former board of education teacher, volunteered her services and classes began.

Under the law, providing the teaching is satisfactory, the school established by the parents is legal.

THEN SHE REALIZED . . .

"a dash of Sugar will give me that flavor..." and it did

She was trying to make a French dressing such as her neighbor made. But all her experiments with familiar seasonings failed to give her the right flavor until she thought of sugar. And a dash of sugar was just what was missing!

If you ever try to copy something you have eaten somewhere, and it doesn't taste the way you know it should, give a thought to sugar.

A dash of sugar will work wonders in the making of salad dressings or piquant sauces. In broiling or roasting meats, in vegetable cookery, nothing will take the place of a little sugar in securing or developing a pleasing flavor. Many of the popular French dishes include sugar, added during the cooking process.

A quick test for finding the flavor value of sugar is to mix a pinch of it with a pinch of salt. Taste it—there's no better flavor. Use such a combination of sugar and salt in cooking vegetables. It will ideally heighten the flavor of peas, corn, spinach, carrots and tomatoes. Baste lamb chops as they broil with this mixture—¾ teaspoonful salt, 1 teaspoonful vinegar, 1 teaspoonful sugar, and 5 tablespoonfuls salad oil.

Where is the child who will turn up his nose at vegetables and cereals flavored with a dash of sugar? As a matter of fact, doctors and dieticians recommend the use of sugar in flavoring such foods because it makes them more palatable. The Sugar Institute.

"Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with Sugar"

RUSSIA HOARDS WHEAT; BAD CROP FORECAST IN 1930

Sells Less than 10,000 Tons of Grain Abroad.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Feb. 19.—Large exports of grain, especially of wheat, from Russia are not expected by Baltic grain merchants. They report that the huge grain reserves which the soviet grain trust is alleged to have stored are being held because of a threatened grain crop failure this coming summer.

Since the beginning of the year less than 10,000 tons of Russian grain have been exported into Europe, 70 per cent of this consisting of rye, oats, and barley. Considerable rye was recently purchased by the Riga grain merchants, and a similar delivery is expected next week. But the promised exports of wheat have failed to materialize. What amount of grain Russia has exported to the near east and Mediterranean countries is not known.

Pay in Platinum Instead.

The shipment of $2,500,000 worth of platinum from the depleted reserves of the Moscow state bank, which passed tnrough Riga last week en route to New York, is viewed here as further confirmation that the soviet government is not willing to export grain during the present crisis, when it is attacking the richer classes of Russia peasantry, confiscating their possessions and forming other peasants into communal farms. Russia has only begun its campaign to reorganize farming, and as a result agriculture is completely disorganized. The Moscow press reports that the sowing area is likely to be cut by 50 per cent because of a lack of seed grain.

Welcome Foreign Food.

Another significant item is contained is the Moscow Krasnaija Gazette, which publishes an official government decree giving a list of articles which Russians are permitted to receive in packages from abroad for their personal use. The list begins with flour. Groats, rice, sugar, dried vegetables, milk, meat, fish products, and even caviar are mentioned. Small amounts of clothing, footwear, cosmetics, silver and gold objects are also listed, and each recipient is entitled to receive a bar of soap. Emphasis is placed on food articles, revealing that the soviet government does not expect to increase the present rations.

Lately relatives of the inhabitants of Russia have been able to purchase from grocery stores in Riga flour, groats, sugar, dried vegetables, milk, meat, and fish products—all articles of Russian origin sold here by the local soviet trade delegation—and mail them back to Russia.

TRIES TO END LIFE BY GAS.

Joseph Schubert, 76 years old, was in the county hospital last night in a critical condition from the effects of gas poisoning following an attempt to commit suicide at his home at 315 South Lawndale avenue. His wife, Mrs. Mary Schubert, found him unconscious.

HELD UP

LAWYER DENIES TALE OF TRANSIT ORDINANCE LOSS

Harry P. Weber, attorney for the surface lines, denied yesterday reports that the proposed new transit ordinance has been lost. He said many copies had been made of the document and proposed changes and that he knows 20 persons who are in possession of copies.

Ald. James B. Bowler, chairman of the council subcommittee working on the transit settlement, refused also to consider the reports seriously. He said John G. Drennan, assistant corporation counsel, has a receipt from the transportation company attorneys for the incomplete ordinance and that the attorneys must have the ordinance.

The report arose, according to Mr. Weber, when Attorney James M. Sheean, who also represents the surface lines, mistakenly told some one that he hadn't seen the amendments to the draft ordered by the local transportation committee.

ENDS HIS LIFE WITH GUN.

John Zderadicka, 29 years old, 1401 Winona avenue, Berwyn, committed suicide yesterday by shooting himself in the head in a room at the Hotel Western, 4821 West 22d street, Cicero. A note to relatives said he was despondent over ill health.

CONGRESS URGED TO ACT IN RUSS BAN ON CHURCH

Washington, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Efforts to bring American governmental pressure upon the soviet campaign of closing churches and suppressing religious activities developed today both at the state department and in congress.

State department officials had before them about 15 appeals for intervention of some sort in the Russia situation, while in the house, Representative Fish [Rep., N. Y.] introduced a resolution to declare recognition of soviet Russia "incompatible with the tradition of the people of the United States until religious persecution in that country shall have ceased."

Although no policy has been formed in regard to the matter, it was indicated the state department would not do anything at this time about the requests, on account of the absence of diplomatic relations between the two governments and also because apparently no American interests are involved directly.

BYRD AND HIS MEN SAIL FOR HOME; LEAVE AIRPLANES

New York, Feb. 19.—(AP)—The New York Times, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, and newspapers affiliated with them in publishing reports from Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd's antarctic expedition announce that Admiral Byrd and the members of his expedition, after spending more than a year on the ice barrier of Ross sea, broke camp and sailed homeward from the Bay of Whales aboard the barque The City of New York at 9:30 o'clock this morning, antarctic time, which is approximately 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, New York time.

They are bringing back essential papers and gear, but their airplanes and much other material it has been necessary to leave behind.

WORKMAN KILLED BY FALL.

Harry Naus, 30 years old, 226 West North avenue, was killed yesterday when he walked into an open shaft of a materials elevator on the fourth floor of a building under construction at 13th street and Wabash avenue, and fell to the ground.

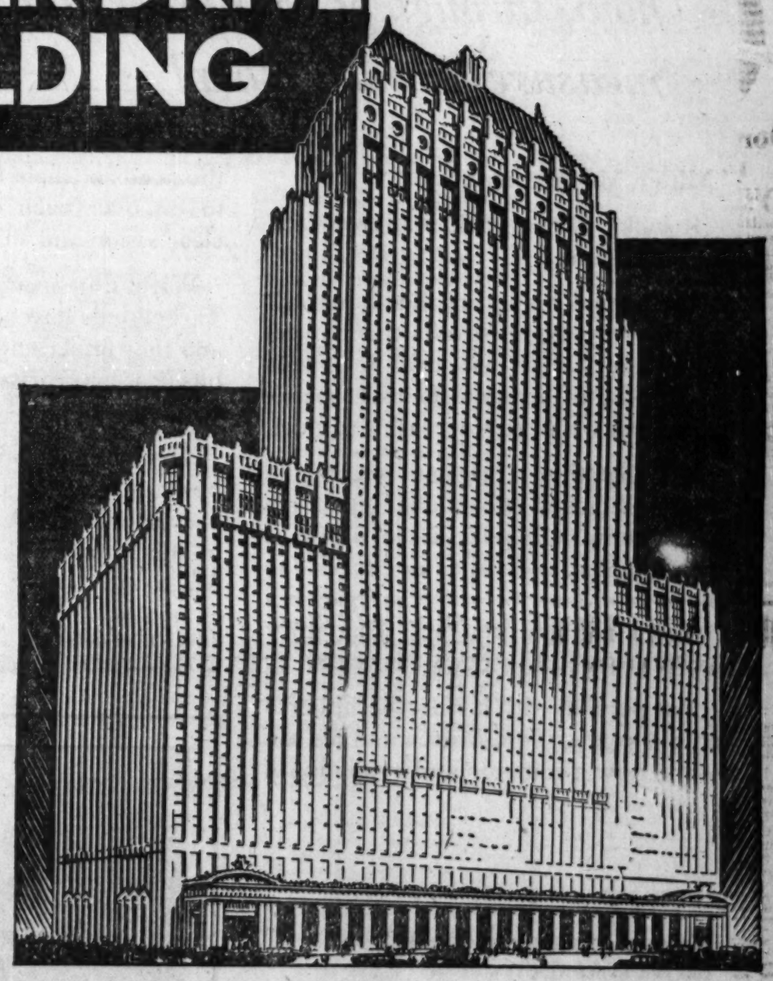
20 NORTH WACKER DRIVE BUILDING



Longer Hours of Daylight..... in the Building Everybody Knows

Daylight comes early here and lingers late. For this building stands alone. No other building touches it . . . no shadow falls upon it. Its windows are all free to light and air.

As freely, too, as the light of day pours into its windows, the city's rivers of trade flow through its doors. For where is there greater ease of access than at 20 North Wacker Drive—on the city's widest boulevard, with ideal convenience for motorists . . . with the Northwestern and Union Stations but a few minutes away . . . with elevated and surface lines from every part of Chicago coming almost to the building's doors?

And where else are there business offices like these, located at an address known half the world over as the site of the Chicago Civic Opera Company and sharing in its prestige . . . situated in the very heart of Chicago's activities, yet apart from the soot and grime, the darkness of the Loop . . . light, airy and extraordinarily clean! Quiet, too. The main office building is completely soundproofed from the opera company premises and entered through entirely separate entrances and elevators.

Rarely does a building offer so perfect a setting for business, with the added prestige that comes from having as neighbors commercial and industrial concerns of such high standing as the following:

The Secret of Poise

THAT COMMANDS ADMIRATION!

ELINOR GLYN tells the women of CHICAGO

Wonderful colors, shimmering, lace-edged underthings—they build up in you the happy consciousness of feminine charm.

When truly confident of charm, you inevitably have the serene poise that commands instant admiration from everyone!

I KNOW a girl who is neither beautiful nor very plain. Just ordinarily good looking, like most of us.

But she has a serene poise that commands admiration; men instinctively stop to look at her, are proud to be seen with her.

She told me once that she deliberately builds up in herself a consciousness of feminine charm. She realizes that she herself must first be convinced of her own dainty femininity before she can impress others.

Wisely, she begins with her clothes.

One of the surest ways to gain perfect confidence in one's dainty, lovely femininity, she explains, is to have every bit of lingerie as delicate, colorful, charming as possible.

"When I wear these lovely, colorful, feminine things, I feel charming, and therefore I am," she says.

Keep Colors Lovely

But, women tell me, it is so difficult to wear lovely underthings always and keep them looking as wonderful, as colorful, as when they were new. Frequent washing (and we must be dainty) takes some of the lovely color and charm out of the garment.

To this I reply, that is too often the case, but it need never be so if women faithfully use that invaluable product, Lux—which is made especially to cleanse without disturbing the vibrant lovelinness of the colors. If a garment is safe in plain water alone, it is just as safe in Lux.

And in Your Home, Too

Pride in a charming home gives you poise, too, and here Lux is also an invaluable aid. As in the case of your dainty lingerie—frocks, blouses, scarfs, too—so with your draperies, linens, slip covers. Ordinary soaps will take away some of the color pigment, whereas Lux preserves colors and textures in their perfect, new state.—Elinor Glyn.

If it's Safe in Water It's Safe in LUX!

The Father who DISCOVERED his SON

IDA TARBELL tells the intensely human story of a Great Business Organization and how, through it, a Father and Son took the measure of each other!

The late THOMAS MITTEN, traction expert, who made the name Mitten Management synonymous with business efficiency, public service and fair dealing between labor and capital, left his son Arthur no money.

His millions will go to perpetuate the ideals of public service for which he lived . . . and his son will be only the administrator of the vast estate. Ida Tarbell tells the inside story of their unique relationship in The American Magazine.

"Mitten Management, Inc."

Yet behind it is a story that thousands of its employees love to tell—that powerful bankers and industrial magnates admire—that economists and sociologists hear with ever-increasing respect.

For that title represents one of the most intelligent efforts ever put forth in this country to make the lot of workmen happier, to give genuine service to the public, and to bridge the gap between labor and capital. This story has been public property for years.

But parallel with it runs the hitherto untold saga of Tom Mitten and his son—and how a common understanding of the needs of their fellowmen led them to discover each other in a bond of clear vision and shining courage.

With consummate artistry, Ida Tarbell tells how two souls were fused, and how father and son found, in a vast business enterprise, something greater than riches.

This fascinating human document will be an inspiration to fathers—and sons—everywhere. You can read it today in the March issue of The American Magazine.

BRUINS WHIP CLEVELAND PRO QUINTET, 21-15

FAINTING PHIL'S BACKGROUND IS SOCIALLY DRAB

No Broadcast

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Frank J. Bruen, general manager of the Madison Square Garden corporation, announced tonight that there will be no broadcast of the Scott-Sharkey fight Feb. 27.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Miami, Fla., Feb. 19.—Far be it from me to give advice to a group of men who are about to collect $350,000 from the customers for a group of unimportant prize fights, but I still insist that Fainting Phil Scott of England made a serious social error when he turned down the invitation of Neddie Hutton of the Palm Beach, Battle Creek, and Wall Street Huttons to perform his practice

Fainting Phil was of more than half a mind to accept this hospitality, even though the Huttons' parlor floor is paved with emeralds and diamonds which might have chafed his shoulder blades. But the Miami Chamber of Commerce or somebody connected with the boosting department of this place insisted that inasmuch as the boxing match between him and Jack Sharkey is to be held here Philip owed it to Miami to train here, too.

Fail to Keep Promise.

They offered to scare up a local millionaire to serve as his host and social sponsor during his sojourn in Miami as compensation for the Hutton proposition, but that seems to have been only a lure to get him away from Palm Beach. He is now working out in a waterlogged and very rickety wooden arena, about the size of a bowling room, half a block up a side street from the palmy, balmy park along the bay, with no personal millionaire to guide him.

The spectators who gather on the rocky slats of the arena to watch him synthetically while peeling the hide from their sunburned forearms are persons who would be very de trop socially with the Huttons' ashman. I popped in on Phil this afternoon and found him sitting in a corner of a very sweaty old dressing room reached by an iron fire escape. He was wearing a melancholy expression and nothing else to speak of while a glib young man with a blue beret pulled over one ear worked a nimble set of scissors cutting out a profile silhouette of him as he jabbered away. Presently Philip got up from his little bench, drew on his boxing apparatus, and fetched an apologetic look at the half dozen total strangers congesting his little boudoir as though to say, "I hope my presence here doesn't disturb you gentlemen any."

An Uncouth Query.

James J. Johnston, owner of the American rights to Fainting Phil, butted up to his fellow as he finished ascertaining himself and pumped him four or five short swats in his lower abdomen, whereat some vulgar character in the background exclaimed, "What are you boys doing, practicing fouls?"

Again, Fainting Phil's bottle green eye, which look like runny dabs of water color, bent that "Excuse me" look upon those present. He seemed to feel that his own dressing room was no place for the likes of him.

Then he went down below and started to box with the boys of his household—Jack Renault, Jack Denver, Babe Hunt, and Lawyer Bill Hallenkauff. Bill thought himself some shakes of a first fighting man while he was captain of the Florida football team a few years back, but had his mind changed for him by one or two tramp heavyweights and went to hoeing for a living over at Gainesville.

Society Takes Ring Seriously.

They are taking up prize fighting in a serious way in Palm Beach this year and the weekly bouts in the slum of West Palm Beach are what the social reporters say are quite the most dazzling activity on the calendar.

I am told that the society ladies in yonder have adapted themselves to sport with great enthusiasm and even raised quite rudely the evening when an Ellis preliminary boy from God knows where, on being introduced from his corner, threw back his bathrobe with a flourish and fainted dead away at discovering that he had plumb forgotten his tights.

Society people are much to be pretied to the filthy public who sit in the cramped bleachers at Fainting Phil's training quarters here, sloughing their skins like snakes in August and yawning. One night recently I was a society lady myself and was

And He Doesn't Look the Part at All.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Trinidad, Colo., Feb. 19.—Lynn Birchard Nelson, who is making his way into the big leagues for the first time, joined up with the Cub party last night at Kansas City, and today everybody was wondering just why he should be the custodian of so fancy a name. He neither looks nor acts that way. To look at him makes you think he might be Hard Boiled Smith, late of the United States marines and mighty sore about it.

When Lynn Birchard hopped aboard the train, he was wearing, among other things, a hat that inclined toward the large rimmed variety of the border heroes. In his pitching hand, the right one, he carried a bag that appeared rather small for a lengthy journey, but when he learned that some of the boys thought he was traveling light, he mentioned that he wasn't on a pleasure jaunt and that "anyway they have one day laundries on Wrigley's Island, don't they?"

Tried Hand at Boxing.

Nelson's face has the appearance of one not given to smiles, but there is a reason. Before he realized his skill as a pitcher, he was given to boxing engagements in the rôle of a "masked marvel." He probably was given enough punches to indicate he was more masked than marvelous. That accounts for the puffiness of his features, but that is only on the surface. What he has underneath, according to those who know him, is a "competitive heart" which is about 50 per cent of a pitcher's success.

What made Manager McCarthy put through the deal for Nelson's services was the way he set down the Cub hitters a year ago in an exhibition at Kansas City. Scouts from other big league clubs liked him for a number of other games in which he worked. The report on him is that he is a cool fellow like Charley Root, with a quick delivery much the same. Whether he can make the grade remains to be seen, but one thing is pretty certain, and that is that if Lynn Birchard remains, he will develop into somewhat of a character similar to the gentleman known as Arthur Shires.

The extent of Shires' fame was brought home to the Cubs this morning at a town in Kansas. A young reporter with more ambition than knowledge boarded the train and asked for Shires. He was assured by Secretary Lewis that "this outfit is the Cubs, and Shires belongs to the White Sox."

There's No Justice.

The reporter excused himself for his mistake. Then he said he would like to see Ray Schalk. Fellows like Hartnett, Heathcote, and Taylor were sitting near by and didn't hear the reporter mention their names. Such is fame.

There is quite a contrast between hard boiled Nelson and Edward Lautenbacher, the pitching bank clerk, who is back for his second trial. Lautenbacher is collegiate to the extent of going hatless. He leans toward heavy literature. Neither of these things will assist him in his efforts to attain higher pitching levels. What he needs is a few profane words and some tough living. Unless he gets them he will remain too mild for big league purposes and will be doomed to a stretch in Reading or on a high stool in a bank cage.

Two other additions last night at Kansas City were Coach Jimmy Burke and Catcher John Schulte.

Sox Display Fine Spirit as Donie Takes the Reins

BY EDWARD BURNS.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 19.—[Special.]—Manager Donie Bush appears to have won Mr. Comiskey's battery men. You'd hardly know the squad now working out under the direction of the new White Sox skipper — so smiley and happy and everything.

TED BLANKENSHIP.

And we're not just talking about rookies. Several of the gents who once qualified among the leading moaners in baseball are here and gurgling with enthusiasm over the new state of affairs.

Players Respect Bush.

Mr. Bush is fresh from Pittsburgh where boring from within, plain and fancy bolshevism and club politics frequently have shown their wicked fangs for years and years. With all the shaky morale of the erstwhile Sox blues singers the club never has been seriously beset with cliques, so long a feature of many Pittsburgh clubs. As a result, Donie, with his extensive experience under a variety of conditions, is finding his "contact work" with his new charges an easy and pleasant task.

The new manager's recipe has been made by the years rather than through any routine leadership psychology. The players respect Bush as a former successful player, as a winner of pennants and as a gent who means business. With these qualifications he doesn't have to do any college cheer leading.

Boss Eyes Weiland.

Blankenship has become so fired up in his comeback enthusiasm that Donie had to order him off the field today, with instructions that he is to take tomorrow off from serious throwing.

Bob Weiland, the long left-hander from Chicago, who was in an uproar last season, insofar as his baseball career was concerned, is another who likes the Bush régime, and has attracted the eye of the new boss.

Pat Caraway, obtained from the Topeka team of the Western league, where he won 19 games and pitched the unusual total of 305 innings, and Vic Frasier, who won 15 games for the Dallas, Tex., league pennant winners last year, also are sure of much attention in weeks to come. Bush, in addition to being impressed with the minor league records of the pair, says he likes the way the boys handle themselves.

Cissell to Play Second.

The first three days have developed enough to indicate definitely that Cissell will be shifted from short to second base. Bill likes the idea and has worked out in the new spot all three days.

Incidentally, Cissell, whose former cheerful disposition went haywire last year, again is a smiling young man and eager to absorb everything Bush has to tell him. Irv Jeffries, peppery rookie, who is the other non-battery man here, is making an early bid for shortstop.

The activity of Cissell and Jeffries, however, does not mean that Bush has forgotten temperamental Bill Hunnefield. If Bill will throw off his several mental complexes and play the kind of ball he knows how to play, Bush will take good care of his interests, it is said.

All of the pitchers, pitcher-like, have been telling Bush what demons they are with ball bats. Tomorrow he will humor them by devoting the day to "hit-and-run" exercises.

Savannah, Ga., Feb. 19.—(AP)—More than two score professional and amateur golfers, led by Bobby Jones, national open champion, took a practice swing around the country club course here today in preparation for the 72 hole $3,000 open tournament starting tomorrow.

The Atlanta lawyer-golfer, playing his first tournament round of the 1930 campaign, stroked his way over the difficult par 74 layout in 70, four under standard figures. However, Bobby required two strokes more than did Horton Smith of Detroit and Ed Dudley of Wilmington, Del., who were members of a five-some which also included Al Espinosa, veteran Chicago pro, and Dr. C. F. Holton, Savannah amateur entry.

Eighteen holes will be played tomorrow, with another 18 Friday.

Chicago Normal Quintet Defeats Thornton, 41-16

By defeating Thornton Junior college yesterday, 41 to 16, Chicago Normal college tied North Park for second place in the Northern Illinois Junior college conference. Paul Erickson and Capt. Dave Barder divided scoring honors for the winning quintet, the former making 16 points, and the latter 12.

Murphys May Renew Rivalry in Game Here

BY HARLAND ROHM.

The battle of the two Charles Murphys, centers of Purdue and Loyola, which entertained basketball fans two weeks ago, may not be over. Rumors yesterday were to the effect the two will hook up again in Chicago after both complete their athletic allegiance to their schools at the end of the basketball schedules.

The rumor was definite to the point that both Charles Murphys had agreed to the game; it would be played at the Stadium Sunday night, March 30; each Murphy was to receive $3,000 for the game, and each would be supported in so far as possible by former players of their own schools. The rumor even went so far as to name George Halas, principal owner of the Bruins, Chicago professional basketball team, as the promoter.

Halas admitted last night he would like to promote such a "natural" as a clash between the two Charles Murphys, but said he had not made a move to do so as yet. However, he said it sounded like a bright idea.

Denials of any such contemplated game, especially from the two Murphys and their schools, are to be expected, much as Red Grange's turning pro was almost savagely denied until he had played his last college game. Admission of a contract or even verbal agreement might bring charges of professionalism, so the denials should blossom immediately. What may happen after each has completed his college basketball career is something else.

The only game in which they have met, at Purdue two weeks ago, resulted in a victory for Purdue, 25 to 20, in overtime, after the score had been 20 all at the end of the regular time. But the game left the supporters of each Charles Murphy vehemently arguing that it had proved their Murphy the better.

Aces of Indians' Hurling Staff Reject Club Terms

Cleveland, O., Feb. 19.—(AP)—The Cleveland American league baseball club announced today that Willis Hudlin, star pitcher of last year's team, has returned his 1930 contract unsigned. Wesley Ferrell, another ace of last year's hurling staff, also is a holdout.

Le Gros Defeats Tebee, 50 to 47, in Cue Meet

Charles Le Gros defeated Herman Tebee, 50 to 47, in 85 innings, in the Chicago all star three cushion billiard tournament at Kieckhefer recreation room last night. Each player garnered a high run of four. Reily Monks will encounter Paul Levin in tonight's game.

New York, Feb. 19. — [Special.] — Chicago's amateur boxers are assured stiff opposition March 19, when they face New York's 16 best which were determined at Madison Square Garden tonight. It was the fourth annual Golden Gloves tournament of the Daily News A. A., and it was run off before a throng of 21,000 fans. The crowd paid $41,264 to see the show.

The exhibitions put up by the battlers had the Garden in an uproar throughout the card of twenty events in the open and subnovice classes. A total of 3,120 entries were received for the tourney which were narowed down to 1,210 through the medical examinations and the elimination contests held over New York and Brooklyn. Then further semi-final fights sent 40 boxers into tonight's battles seeking the right to make the trip to Chicago.

In spite of the hard milling only five knockouts were scored in the 63 rounds of boxing.

Maten Best of Heavies.

Chester Maten, undefeated U. S. coast guardsman, metropolitan champion heavyweight, loomed up as the best looking product in the simon pure ranks for some time. The big sailor boy took the judges' decision in the semi-finals through beating Sylvan Taylor and went on to stop Pat Mulroy, a hefty hard walloping Irishman, after two minutes and 40 seconds in the first round of the finals.

Jim Siciari, smart and clever 112 pounder, was the only one of last year's Golden Gloves to come through, which he did in a masterful way in handing Jimmy Hughes a good stiff pasting to earn the decision.

The upset of the evening was when Charley Alvarez, recently crowned metropolitan champion, a clever, fast stepping Porto Rican of 18 years, was outpointed by Patsy Fasculli of the Ascension parish house. The verdict was quite close and the customers disagreed entirely, so much so that the booing continued for five minutes.

Melia K. O.'s Fuchs.

Arthur Rodenbach, also of the Parish house gained the popular award by getting the decision over Tommy Ronayne of the Good Shepherd A. C., after three sizzling rounds in the 175 pound open class. Both boys stood toe to toe and slugged each other continually but Ronayne was mighty glad to hear the bell as he was tottering and was about at the end of his tether.

In the subnovice 126 pound class, Jerry Mazza, handled by Doc Bagley, staged a remarkable comeback after being floored by Al Leport in the opening round to come on and easily outpoint his rival in the remaining two sessions.

112 POUND CLASS.
Jimmy Siciari and Al Razos.

118 POUND CLASS.

126 POUND CLASS.

STECHER LOSES TO SONNENBERG ON FLORIDA MAT

Coral Gables, Fla., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Gus Sonnenberg, recognized in some states as world's heavyweight wrestling champion, won two of three falls from Joe Stecher, the Nebraska veteran, here tonight.

A crowd estimated at 12,000 paid about $50,000 to see the match, Promoter Elwood Rigby said.

Hickey Leads Attack with Four Goals.

Pro Basketball

Fort Wayne, 27; Paterson, 23.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Chicago's Bruins, home from their long road trip, took up the pursuit of the league leading Rochester quintet last night by defeating Cleveland at the Stadium, 21 to 15. The Bruins are two and a half games out of first place and since they have three games yet to play with the leaders, and four more with the second place Cleveland team, they still believe they can win the second half championship.

That belief is justified by the style of ball they played last night. The Bruins stepped out in the lead soon after the initial whistle when Honey Russell scored from underneath the basket on a snap pass from Nat Hickey, and they kept that lead and more all the way.

Cleveland Threatens Twice.

Twice Cleveland threatened, once at the close of the first period and again in the early minutes of the second session, but on each occasion Chicago pulled away, the last time, gaining a seven point advantage. For the final ten minutes Chicago's deliberate and clever control of the ball settled the issue.

Hickey's four baskets topped Chicago's attack but all the Bruin players added to the total with the exception of Al Kellett. The Bruins' regular center was forced from the game in the first ten minutes on five fouls most of which he acquired preventing lanky Joe Lapchick from breaking free. Tillie Voss took up the center duties and was more than satisfactory the remainder of the route.

Chicago Leads at the Half.

It was Voss when Cleveland was within a point of a tie with seconds remaining in the first half who drove through to the basket and shoved in a short shot that gave Chicago a 12 to 9 rest time lead.

Hickey next stepped to bat in the next pinch. Husta's field goal on an out of bounds play, his second of the game, had brought Cleveland within two points of a tie at 13 to 11. Hickey scored with a running shot from the side and repeated immediately with a long basket to relieve the tenseness.

In the final ten minutes Ely added two free throws and Nat Holman scored from under, the result of the Bruins' delayed attack. Barry and Dehnert got the other points for Cleveland.

Referee Calls 33 Fouls.

Both teams were united in razzing Chuck Salador, the referee. Holman carried on a running fire of criticism after Salador had taken away a field goal in the first half, ruling that Nat had traveled. Lapchick handled the Cleveland end of the verbal barrage with the aid of Pete Barry.

Lapchick evidently had the better vocabulary, for Salador handed the big boy two technical fouls for his remarks, fouls which helped Chicago along, for Gil Ely scored on each.

Salador passed out 33 personal fouls during the evening, 17 being called on Chicago. Five players were within one of ejection at the conclusion. Most of the penalties did not involve free throws. Cleveland secured three points by the free throw method in as many attempts. Chicago had six opportunities, Ely getting three and Holman missing as many more.

The second game of the series will be played tomorrow night.

BRITISH THREAT ELIMINATED IN RACQUETS MEET

Boston, Mass., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Stanley G. Mortimer of Tuxedo, N. Y., eliminated Dr. H. William Leatham, one of the strongest English contenders, from the American racquets championship tournament here today. Dr. Leatham had squared the fourth game when the referee called a "fault" on his serve. Mortimer, three times national titleholder, then rallied for the game and victory. The scores were 13-18, 15-6, 15-7, 17-14.

Peter W. Kemp-Welch, young British star, had better luck, for he defeated Constantine Hutchins of Boston, 15-5, 15-6, 15-9. Charles J. Coulter, Tuxedo, N. Y., vanquished W. Palmer Dixon, New York, 3-15, 18-14, 15-15, 17-15, 15-0.

The final match of the day advanced Huntington D. Sheldon of New York, the defending champion, into the quarter finals. He defeated Stanley W. Pearson, Philadelphia, 15-3, 15-9, 15-9.

AMATEUR BOXERS GET READY FOR LONGER FIGHTS

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Chicago's 96 boxers, who will meet as many more from towns and cities of five states in the grand finals of THE TRIBUNE'S third annual amateur Golden Gloves tournament at the Coliseum next Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, resumed training yesterday at various gymnasiums.

On Tuesday and Wednesday of the Coliseum meet two rings will be in operation. The first bouts will start at 7 o'clock. A bell will be used in one ring and a horn in the other. The rings will be two feet apart and placed in the center of the hall.

Each night will be featured by semi-final contests. Inexperienced boxers have been eliminated. The best of the local amateur boxing world will mingle with the best from the central states. On opening night, first round semi-final bouts in the 112, 118, 126, and 135 pound classes will be held. Matches in the other four weights will be staged the second night. Second and third semi-final rounds are on the program for the third night.

Finals will be decided on the fourth night, when the Chicago team, which will meet New York's Golden Gloves team at the Chicago Stadium March 19, will be picked. Duration of each round at the Coliseum and Stadium shows will be three minutes. In the trials the contestants boxed two minute rounds. This means, of course, that the boxers must train faithfully to become accustomed to the longer rounds.

As proceeds of the four day show go to the Forty and Eight club for the maintenance of its disabled world war veterans' camp in the forest preserve, all branches of the service are taking a keen interest in the tourney.

much impressed. She fell to telling the lady with me what a zealous devotee of sport she was. This was after she had told all about her second butler and her personal maid and of the governess that she was going to send kiting back to New York, bag and baggage, the next day, for dropping an aitch, spang in the middle of the nursery floor.

"I love to sail yachts," she stated. "I have only three yachts down here, but up at Newport I have four more and I sail them all. Yachting is such keen sport, don't you think?"

"Yes," replied the lady who was with me. "I have quite a few myself. My favorite is the Flying Erie, but I am also partial to the Lackawanna. These are my Hudson river yachts, but I have another lovely one in the lower bay, the John F. Hylan. I inherit my love of yachting from my grandpaw, out in Caldwell, Idaho. He had a whole fleet of yachts."

Now You Tell One.

"How interesting," said the society lady with what I took to be refined skepticism. Did he ever sail in big regattas?"

"O, dear no," said the lady with me. "He was very exclusive. He used to hold private regattas. Nobody else was allowed."

"In Idaho?"

"Yes, you see, grandpa had his own ocean out there, but it was so private that you probably never heard about it. Grandpa was so exclusive,"

N. B. A. WANTS TO KNOW IF DEMPSEY WILL FIGHT AGAIN

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 19.—(AP)—The National Boxing association, through John W. Driskill, secretary, today asked Leonard Sachs, manager of Jack Dempsey, to obtain a statement in writing from the former world's heavyweight boxing champion as to just where he stands in the fight picture.

Driskill said the N. B. A. would not recognize the winner of the Sharkey-Scott encounter as world's champion, and would not recognize a champion until at least one more fight after that. In the meantime, Driskill said, the N. B. A. wants to know whether Dempsey intends to fight again, whether he is willing to fight again, or whether he is through.

Driskill said N. B. A. officials feel Dempsey and Max Schmeling, German contender, are entitled to consideration before a champion is decided and that even if Schmeling should fight and defeat the winner of the Sharkey-Scott go, he would not be declared champion by the N. B. A. if Dempsey still intended to fight.

BABE RUTH ONLY YANK HOLDOUT; CONFER MARCH 4

New York, Feb. 19.—(AP)—With Babe Ruth classed as the only holdout, the Yankees today announced the signing of 34 players, who will be taken south for the spring training trip.

Col. Jacob Ruppert will leave for St. Petersburg, Fla., March 4 for a conference with the home run king. The signing of Babe may be expected within a day or two after the conference, Ruppert predicts.

New York, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Harking back to the days of 1921 when Behave Yourself and Black Servant ran one, two in the Kentucky Derby, a speedy colt and as equally fast filly scored a double victory for E. R. Bradley over the Fair Grounds track, New Orleans today.

The colt was the three year old Brother Rank, while the filly was the three year old Blackberry, both of which were aired by Black Servant. The victory of Brother Rank was more satisfying to the Bradley interests as it came in Pointe Coupee purse—a dash of one mile for three year olds.

Kincsen Runs Second.

Running second to the son of Black Servant was J. Haughton's Kincsen, the favorite, with Harry Payne Whitney's Nisto, a Derby candidate, third. Blackberry came through with her triumph in the third number, which was a mile and sixteenth jaunt for fillies and mares, back of the Bradley mile were such good routers as Donzalita and Chattahoochie.

Charm Pays $118.50.

One of the longest shots of the Fair Grounds meeting went over with the victory of Arsonia, stable's Charm in the fourth race—which was carded as the Antoinine's Restaurant purse for older horses at six furlongs, with J. W. Frye giving the five year old mare one of his good rides, Charm romped home in front of Old Dutch and Dinah Dig Quest, the public choice, to pay $118.50 to a $2 Mutuel ticket.

STOCK EXCHANGE SWEEPSTAKE MAY BE ABANDONED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 19.—The famous Stock Exchange Derby sweepstake, which presents to the lucky holders of tickets bearing the names of the winner of England's most famous race with a small fortune, may be abandoned this year. If it is held it will be strictly limited to a comparatively small amount.

The great sweepstake, which is almost as well known as the Calcutta sweepstake, amounted to $5,000,000 last year, of which $500,000 went to charity.

The sweepstake was first organized in 1909, when it was only $500, with the first prize only $200, but before the war the first prize was worth $25,000 of the total of $50,000 subscribed. This last year there were two first prizes of $1,250,000 each.

The organization of the sweepstake, which is a private affair, is not a permanent organization, and it is with some difficulty to find organizers this year. The sweepstake reached such a monstrous proportion that it received considerable attention.

Sea Trout Easy to Catch Along Florida Coast

BY BOB BECKER.

Charlotte Harbor, Fla., Feb. 19.—[Special.]—The sea trout are running down here on the west coast, so all the disciples of Izaak Walton, ranging from those who use cane poles to the group with high priced casting and trolling rods, are happy. This fish is a universal favorite because it is a bold biter, fairly easy to catch and delicious eating. The northern angler coming down here for salt water fishing should not overlook the sea trout.

Here at Punta Gorda, where an old bridge projects across the harbor, you will see scores of sea trout fishermen of both sexes exerting every trick to snag a mess of fish. Some use bait and old fashioned cane poles, others trot out good looking speckled, gold, red, and white underwater minnows which they cast and then retrieve with a jerky motion which brings the little minnow toward the caster in short spurts. Trolling with small spoons and a single hook also gets the sea trout. We tried this method the other day when our boat was cruising over the grassy beds on the sand bars just as the tide was coming in. After catching a few with spoons, we put on one of the small speckled gold and white casting minnows and snagged a few with it.

Although called sea trout, this popular fish is really a weakfish. It should be called spotted weakfish instead of trout, which is a misnomer. We have two well known members of this family in our coastal waters: the common weakfish and the spotted variety which everybody calls sea trout. Both are dandy game fishes and good eating.

Blackhawks and Ottawa End Season Series Tonight

The Blackhawks close their season's series with the Ottawa Senators at the Stadium tonight in the Chicagoans' third game in five days. The Hawks twice have failed to make use of their chances to move up into a tie for second place in their division with the New York Rangers. Tonight they have a third opportunity, for the Rangers are idle.

The Hawks' four games with Les Canadiens, which ended Tuesday night, were disastrous, as the Chicagoans got only one tie and lost three. Against the Senators they'll finish with a better percentage, however, as they won the two games played at Ottawa, and lost the one at home by a score of 6 to 5 in overtime.

The race for second place in the American division between the Rangers and the Hawks is one peculiar to hockey. At the moment the Rangers are two points, or one full game, ahead, but they have played two more games than the Chicagoans, so a double victory would put the Hawks ahead of the Rangers. Furthermore, the Hawks have a slight advantage in the remaining games.

The Hawks have eleven more contests, six at home and five away, while the Rangers have nine, six away and three at home. Home ice means a much in hockey as a home floor does in basketball. The Hawks' remaining home games are with Ottawa, Toronto, Detroit, Pittsburgh, Montreal and the Americans. The Rangers play Boston, Chicago and Les Canadiens at home and Boston, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Les Canadiens and Toronto away.

With Detroit, which was threatening a few weeks ago, beaten off to a point where a place in the playoffs for the Hawks is almost a certainty—the Hawks have a three and one-half game lead, and Detroit has only eight games to play—another angle develops in the battle for second place. From present indications the team which finishes third in the American division should have a better chance in the playoffs for the Stanley cup than the team which finishes second.

As it appears now, Les Canadiens should finish second in the Canadian division and Ottawa third.

Stung by their defeat by the lowly Americans, the Hawks can be expected to regain their spirit and drive against the Senators tonight, but Ottawa isn't a team to be taken lightly.

CHARLEY WHITE COMES BACK TO RING TOMORROW

Charley White, one of the best lightweights ever developed in Chicago, and Henry Perlick of Kalamazoo, Mich., who meet in the windup of Promoter Jack Dempsey's boxing show at the Coliseum tomorrow night are ready for the bell. Both fighters have completed the strenuous part of preparation without injuries to their hands or faces.

White, who has met some of the greatest fighters who ever held the 135 pound title, including Bennie Leonard, Freddie Welsh and Willie Ritchie, is attempting a come back. The eight round bout will be his first appearance in the ring in over a decade, but he has kept in shape by managing a physical culture school.

Boxing fans will recall that White nearly knocked out Willie Ritchie in Milwaukee when the latter was champion. They will also remember that Charley had a clear margin on points when he met Bennie Leonard in Benton Harbor, Mich. Near the close of this fight, White got careless and Leonard knocked him out. In both fights, White's left hook piled up points and rocked his opponents on several occasions.

Herman Perlick and Emery Cabana, the French-Canadian, who clash in the semi-windup, are ready for what should be one of the best fights on the card. Both are solid punchers.

C. A. A. RELAY SWIMMERS BEAT LAKE SHORE A. C.

Chicago Athletic association tank stars took first place in the 200 yard relay race for men, feature event of the Central A. A. U. swimming and diving championships held at the Medinah athletic club pool last night. The Lake Shore athletic club swimmers, composed of Walter Laufer, Cyril Nelson, Emil Erickson, and Sam Siegel were second.

Jane Fauntz of the Illinois Women's athletic club, successfully defended her title in the women's high springboard diving event. The women's 300-yard medley swim, in which five mermaids of the I. W. A. C. competed, was captured by Isabelle Smith. Dagny Van Maarth won second place, and Marian Dose, third.

CHICAGO STOCK LIST DEVELOPS EASIER TONE

Consumers Co. Advances on Income Report.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

An easier tone prevailed throughout the Chicago stock list yesterday. The session was devoid of spectacular price movements.

Volume of trading amounted to about 312,000 shares, most of which represented sales in a few of the more popular issues, including Grigsby, Field, and Middle West Utilities. Grigsby led the other two issues in point of sales by a narrow margin and held steady around 17½, where it closed. Middle West sold off a fraction, while Field finished its second day on the board at 52, 1⅝ under its previous close.

Among the specialties, Consumers company sold up more than a point, following the release of earnings figures for last year showing a substantial improvement over 1928. Marks Brothers advanced 1½. North American Car was up one.

Kalamazoo Stove Net.

Announcement by the Kalamazoo Stove company that earnings last year were the best in the history of the firm had little influence on the action of the stock, which sold down a fraction on light trade. The news in the report had been largely discounted before the actual release.

Net for last year was $637,463, equal to $5.76 a share on the common stock, compared with $636,527, or $5.49 a share in 1928. The balance sheet of the company as of Dec. 31 shows current assets of $2,788,335, against current liabilities of $398,633.

Libbey McNeil was fairly active, but slightly lower. Street estimates say the company will show earnings of at least $3.50 a share on the common stock for the fiscal year which ends March 2.

The board of governors of the exchange, meeting yesterday, approved the listing of 853,230 additional shares of common stock of the Central Public Service company. The additional shares will be used to split the present common stock 5 to 1.

Approval was also given to the listing of 50,078 shares of certificates of the corporation Securities company. Insull Utility will acquire the Corporation Security certificates and in return will transfer certain holdings to the latter firm.

Additional Listings.

Other additional listings approved were: Insull Utility Investments, 2,078,670 common shares; Atlas Stores corporation, 3,851 shares common stock; Associated Telephone Utilities, 423,000 common shares. The additional listing of the telephone company is to provide a reserve for meeting the conversion of debentures and series A preferred stock and for common stock dividends if and when declared.

Midland Steel Products company common stock, amounting to 75,000 shares was removed from the list. The eight per cent bonds of the Oval Wood Dish corporation were reduced by $200,000.

GASOLINE AND LINSEED OILS.

PICK NEW HEADS FOR CHICAGO'S 2 BIG UTILITIES

Insull Will Hold Chairmanships.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Chicago's two big public utilities, the Commonwealth Edison and Peoples Gas Light and Coke companies, will have new presidents next week. Samuel Insull, who has been president of both companies for a number of years, will become chairman of both companies and his son, Samuel Insull Jr., will become vice chairman.

Edward J. Doyle will become president of the Commonwealth Edison company and J. H. Gulick will become chairman of the finance committee. Both have been vice presidents. They also will become directors, together with L. A. Ferguson and J. F. Gilchrist, who also are vice presidents.

George F. Mitchell will become president of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, being elevated from vice president. Samuel Insull Jr. and Edward F. Swift will be added to the directorate.

These changes will be made at the annual meetings of stockholders and directors of both companies next Tuesday. Mr. Insull announced the proposed programs last night, but at the same time emphasized that he is not relinquishing any activities.

Provides for Future.

"These changes are being made in pursuance of a policy to bring the younger men forward in the responsible offices of executive management in all of the companies of the so-called Insull group," he explained. "I hope and expect to be the active executive head of the various companies for many years to come. But in suggesting to the directors these various changes I have in mind, at my age, my duty to the investors in the properties and also to the personnel of our various organizations to provide as far as possible for continuity of management."

Mr. Doyle started his career as an office boy with the old Chicago Edison company in 1906, when he was 17 years old. He was Mr. Insull's secretary for a number of years. Since 1911 he has been assistant secretary and assistant treasurer, secretary and treasurer and vice president. He also is a director in a number of companies of the Insull group.

Another merger of downtown Chicago banks was announced last night. The directors of the Congress Trust and Savings bank and the Transportation Bank of Chicago voted to consolidate, retaining the name of the former institution and enlarging its present quarters at Wabash avenue and Congress street. The capitalization of the combined institutions will be about $1,050,000 and total deposits will approximate $5,500,000.

William F. Gregson will continue as president, and George C. Jewett, president of the Transportation bank, will become vice chairman. Philip F. W. Peck will remain as chairman. The banks will retain their present quarters until the Congress Trust quarters are enlarged. The Transportation bank was organized in 1920, and the Congress Trust in 1927.

Plans Stock Split.

The Jefferson Park National bank will split its capital stock on a five-for-one basis about March 1, exchanging the present $100 par value shares for new $20 par value shares, according to President Fred H. Esdohr. Its capital stock will remain at $300,000.

Although steel production has made a further slight gain, it has lost the momentum that caused it to rise so rapidly in January, according to the Iron Age. Demand is uneven, with declines in some districts offset by increases in others. The Chicago district is faring best with output at 51 per cent of mill capacity, in spite of some letdown in new orders. The eastern districts are around 80 per cent, and production for the whole country is about 82 per cent.

The railroads and heavy construction are giving the steel market conscious support, but current automotive consumption is only 60 per cent of normal. Finished steel prices are holding about steady, while heavy melting scrap has advanced 25 cents a ton at Chicago.

M'KELVIE STRIKES AT SPECULATION IN GRAIN FUTURES

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Reiterating his charge that 40 per cent of all grain sales are speculative, and that this volume of speculation results in tremendous expense and loss, borne eventually by the farmers, Samuel R. McKelvie, grain member of the federal farm board, today replied to a challenge of his statement by the private grain trade of Minneapolis.

In a statement to newspapers Mr. McKelvie, a former governor of Nebraska, had declared that the annual sales of wheat in the United States through future trading are 25 times as great in the aggregate as the country's actual production of wheat.

Forty per cent of this volume of wheat sales represents "pure speculation" and costs the speculators from $20,000,000 in commissions or fees, he asserted. The speculation, he said, involves a loss of not less than $200,000 a year to those who engage in it, and both the costs and the loss are charged indirectly against the farmers who produce the wheat.

"If speculation is necessary, as the grain trade claims, the country has a right to know what it costs. We charge that commissions and losses from speculation amount to 25 cents a bushel on all wheat raised in this country. And the farmer is bearing the costs of our present marketing systems."

Reading Company Has Net Profit of $15,508,741

WHEAT PLUNGES 4 CENTS IN HUGE WAVE OF SELLING

U. S. Visible Supply Sets Record.

With sixty million bushels of wheat dumped on the market—most of it within twenty minutes of the closing hour—the Chicago grain market yesterday took on the aspect of the stock market during last autumn's crash. Wheat, which has been falling steadily for weeks, took another dive, closing prices being 3¼ to 4 cents a bushel lower than at Tuesday's close. The price is now the lowest since last May 31.

As wheat made its spectacular plunge oats, corn, and rye went along with it, the last named falling below the previous low mark for the season.

Supply Largest in History.

Behind the crash was one explanation—the old economic law of supply and demand, which operated to offset stabilization efforts of the federal government through grain marketing organizations. While Europe was maintaining its policy of hand to mouth buying from Argentine and Russian supplies, at prices below the American and Canadian, the visible supply of wheat in the United States was the largest in history. Yesterday the supply was 159,000,000 bushels, whereas a year ago it was 114,000,000 bushels.

The average supply for the last ten years has been only 47,000,000 bushels, or about 100,000,000 bushels less than is now on hand. Adding to the woes of the farmer, whose potential wealth has been seriously reduced by the decline in grain prices, the harvest of a new crop is only four and a half months away. Traders pointed out that even if the visible wheat supply were decreased as much as 3,000,000 bushels a week until May 1, it would still be more than twice as large as the average which has been maintained since 1920.

Canadian Pool "Disappointed."

In the face of this statement, it was pointed out that yesterday's export business was only 200,000 bushels.

With that situation prevailing on the market, a last hour selling rush was precipitated by a message from

Sees Benefit to Lake Ports in Nine Foot Waterway

BY SCRUTATOR.

Little attention has been given the benefits that probably will accrue to lake ports other than Chicago when the nine foot waterway to the gulf is opened to commerce.

There is an impressive list of goods to be used either as the basic materials of industry or for direct consumption which can logically be handled on the completed Mississippi-Great Lakes system. It is difficult to see why, with barges of the proper type, delivery cannot be made directly by water from New Orleans or St. Louis or anywhere else in the valley to any ports on the upper lakes.

Barges of this type have proved their practical value. A number of cargoes came to Lake Michigan cities last year from Philadelphia by way of the New York barge canals. Sugar was brought in and condensed milk was taken out; the barges navigating the open sea, the canals and the lakes with equal facility.

Extensively Handled.

Sugar is one of the commodities most extensively handled by the barge lines on the lower Mississippi. It is used in the lake states about as much per capita as anywhere else. Savings were made on some 300,000 tons handled by the Inland Waterways corporation in 1926, of which some 150,000 were passed to railroads for further distribution in northern Illinois and Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota. Much of it will move farther north by water when that is possible.

Extensive surveys have been made in an attempt to discover what the available tonnage for the gulf waterway will be in the communities, including Chicago, which are actually between the lakes and the mouth of the Mississippi. The Illinois chamber of commerce some time ago queried a number of firms in Illinois towns and the results caused the state division of waterways to assume that a traffic of twenty-five tons was indicated. Of this, about nineteen million tons was fixed as Chicago's grain, coal and sand movements, both inbound and outbound.

The switching district at La Salle, Ill., was figured to furnish about 1,300,000 tons when the nine foot depth is established. Among the items mentioned as to be shipped or received were coal, cement, zinc ore, sulphuric acid, sheet zinc, zinc oxide, clay and gypsum. A senate committee was informed that half of more than a million tons of cement annually would move by water from that district, if service were dependable.

Taken Direct.

Lumber could be taken direct from the southern forest regions to points near the Michigan furniture factories. Paper mills, which use large amounts of sulphur, could get it from Louisiana. Delivery for plants in Wisconsin probably could profitably be made by water to ports in that state. Lumber even from the Pacific coast is destined to come into the lakes from New Orleans. Sisal hemp, coming in through the gulf ports, is extensively used in the lake section. Canned goods by the tens of thousands of tons are already being handled by the barge and rail joint-rate system.

The railways are going to share in the handling of the vast majority of the shipments by barge. They do already. But under the present rate arrangements the shipper profits most when the water haul is longest and the rail haul short. The northern terminals of the gulf waterway may well be anywhere on the lakes.

Erie Railroad Traffic Shows 10% Decline to Date

New York, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Traffic on the Erie railroad so far this year has shown a decline of about 10 per cent from the corresponding period of 1929, C. E. Denney, president, said today. He expects, however, that the road will show a net for 1930 equal to that of last year.

New York, Feb. 19.—Things began to go wrong with the stock market today. The general news appeared bad, the weekly trade journal reviews were pessimistic, the car loadings statistics disappointed, there was further anxiety over the performance of the commodity markets, and withal bullish enthusiasm dropped a couple of octaves lower all around the circle.

Up to around noon leaders of the constructive element kept up a show of aggressive activity by concentrating on a number of groups and individual favorites, but as trading went into the second half of the session the reactionary trend became too general to be coped with and virtually the whole list gave way.

The close found the more active stocks down from a fraction to more than 5 points. A number of individuals managed to keep up a front, Otis Elevator, for instance, running up a Quality Bonds—

The Backbone of Your Investment Account

EVERY well balanced investment account should include a certain proportion of high grade bonds. Because of the very nature of this type of security, bonds essentially provide stability and safety and also fixed income return.

Your problem as an investor is not so much whether you should include bonds in your investment account as it is to know how much of your funds you should place in this type of security, and how your funds invested in bonds should be diversified.

The proportion of your funds that should be placed in bonds will be determined by your particular investment needs. Some investors should limit all their investments to bonds; others are in a position to include sound stocks. The requirements of every investor present a problem demanding individual consideration.

We invite you to consult with our Analytical Department and Advisory Committee in regard to how your investments should be proportioned and diversified.

What Return on your investments can you reasonably expect?

From capital invested in bonds or mortgages, the investor has a right to expect a definite, fixed and prior return. That return is ordinarily reflected by current interest rates. On capital invested in common stocks, his return is based on different factors. He is a partner in the business in which the stock represents an ownership.

Normally, the business man does not expect his business to perform miracles over a short period. The investor who buys into a business through an investment in its common stock should take the same attitude. It takes time for growth to take place and returns must, therefore, be measured over a period.

The large rewards of common stock investment have always gone to those who have bought into sound situations and stayed with them. That is buying on an investment basis. The record is full of evidence that such an attitude is the most profitable one.

For example—

ACME STEEL COMMON

At present prices around 80, this stock yields about 5% • The business has grown steadily • Earnings were equivalent to $3.42 per share in 1926, $4.12 in 1927, $6.34 in 1928, and $7.44 in 1929 on the number of shares now outstanding • Over a period, the common stockholder has shared generously in the steady growth of the business through cash and important stock dividends • In February 1928 there was a 50% stock dividend • This February there was a 25% stock dividend • An investment in Acme Steel Common has been very profitable • In our opinion, a purchase at present prices will give very satisfactory employment to a portion of your funds. Top yesterday, $12.00; average, $11.00.
Estimated receipts at Chicago today, 7,000 cattle, 30,000 hogs, and 10,000 sheep.

In spite of the fact that hog receipts were small for Wednesday buyers yesterday cut quotations 10@35c more on one of the most unsatisfactory markets of recent weeks. Both the top and general average prices went down 20c at $11.30 and $10.60, respectively, showing the widest spread since early in October.

Small packers and shippers were the principal buyers, but carried limited orders. Buying on speculative account was unusually small, and with larger houses filling very small orders at the full reduction, the close was the low spot of the day.

Hog Grades Poor.

There has been a decided change in quality of hogs during the last two weeks, and yesterday's offerings graded about the poorest of the season, which partly accounts for the wider range of prices.

The few well finished steers and yearlings on the market yesterday held firm, while plain quality lost 10@15c more, with some of the poorest grades off more on a dull close. Choice 1,336 lbs averages reached $15.10, highest since last Thursday. Fifteen dollars was paid for 1,110 lb averages, and bulk of cattle of beef merit brought $11.00@14.00. Some plain quality 1,296 lb steers were bought as low as $11.00. Butcher stock was pounded lower again and finished 50@75c under the close of last week. Calves tumbled 50c to $1.00. Stockers and feeders were scarce and firm.

Sheep Receipts Smaller.

Sheep receipts were smaller again yesterday and salesmen succeeded in duplicating the previous day's quotations. Trading was slower than on Tuesday's market, however. Choice light and handy weights at $12.00 equaled the highest in more than a week's time, while bulk of the supply of good handy weights brought $11.75@11.50, and medium weights sold at $10.50@11.00. Only extreme weights rejected from load lots sold below $10.00.

Aged sheep ruled strong to 25c higher, best light ewes reaching the $6.00 line. Yearlings were steady, and feeding lambs firm. Sheep receipts at leading markets this week show a 20 per cent decrease compared with a week ago.

STOP LOSSES IN LARD

Lard broke yesterday on stop loss selling, due to a decline of 10 to 15 cents in hogs, and weakness and lower prices for grains. Buying support was limited and closing prices were the lowest of the day, with net losses of 25 to 30 cents. Bellies were off 15 to 20 cents, with more pressure and less demand. Packers were buyers of product on decline. Hog receipts were in excess of a week ago, but slightly under a year ago. Liverpool lard was unchanged to 3d lower, while bellies in Liverpool wore off 2s and long cut hams also were 2s lower. Exports of lard were 1,290,000 lbs and of bacon 151,500 lbs. Prices follow:

WHEAT PLUNGES 4 CENTS IN WAVE OF HEAVY SELLING

Winnipeg stating that Canadian pool officials are returning from London "disappointed men" after failure to reach any agreement with British government heads for organized buying of American wheat.

As the last hour rush got under way wheat prices were depressed from $1.16⅝ to $1.14 for May wheat, while profit taking by previous sellers rallied the market slightly, sending the price back to $1.14⅝@1.15⅛. Earlier in the day May wheat had sold as high as $1.18⅛.

March finished at $1.09⅞ to $1.10¾ and May, $1.14⅝ to $1.15⅛. Liquidation credited to country longs was regarded as largely responsible for the decline in Winnipeg where net losses were 3⅜ to 4⅛ cents. Buenos Aires dropped 1⅛ to 2 cents for the day, with Rosario 1 to 1⅜ lower. Liverpool failed to reflect the strength in North American on Tuesday and finished only ¼ to ⅝d higher.

The closing prices put wheat 50⅝ cents below the high of last July and at the lowest point prices have reached since May 31, 1929, when there was a temporary drop below $1 a bushel. At the close yesterday May wheat was relatively lower than Liverpool, and was 8 cents under the price which the farm board has attempted to maintain for cash wheat.

New Low on Corn Futures.

March and July corn sold at a new low on the crop, while the other futures equaled the inside figures of Tuesday, the break in wheat and selling by cash houses being responsible for the weak undertone, and the finish was at the bottom with net losses of 1⅝@1⅞c, March being 83⅝@83⅞c and May 87⅛@87⅜c. Cash corn was off as much as 2c as compared with the May, with buyers disposed to go slow in taking on additional supplies due to the lack of storage room.

Seeding of the new oats crop is under way as far north as Oklahoma and Arkansas. Some seeding has already been done in southeastern Kansas. Liquidation was on in futures in sympathy with the break in other grains, but the market showed fair resistance to pressure due to new investment buying, and the close was at net losses of ⅛@1¼c with March 41⅝c and May 41¼c.

Spreading operations furnished a good part of the trade in rye, with all deliveries except March selling at a new low on the crop. The finish was 2⅝@3⅜c lower with March 80½c and May, 73¼c.

While there were reports on the board of trade that eastern capitalists who tried to corner the rye market several weeks ago, and almost succeeded, had lost heavily in their speculations, there was another report that they began selling wheat in both Chicago and Winnipeg when they realized the impending disaster and thus cut down their losses.

CHARGES CHAIN BANKS AFFECT RESERVE POLICY

Threaten to Control System, McFadden Says.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Three measures affecting banking were passed today by the house in a session which brought from Chairman McFadden of the banking committee a charge that groups engaged in branch and chain banking were threatening to gain control of the policies of the federal reserve system.

The legislation passed included a bill by McFadden to permit cancellation of federal reserve bank stock held by a national bank which has discontinued its banking operations but has not undergone liquidation. Along with this the house passed and sent to the senate another bill by McFadden to permit state banks or trust companies to withdraw from membership in the federal reserve system without giving the six months' notice now required.

Shareholders' Liability.

The third measure was a senate bill to authorize receivers of national bank associations to compromise shareholders' liability. The bill, which is designed to expedite the settlement of the affairs of failed banks, now goes to the President.

McFadden, whose committee has been authorized to investigate the activities of branch and chain banking, said there was a question whether these centralized groups of bank resources might not, through the election of officers, gain control of the federal reserve system and its policies. The Pennsylvanian added that many banks have been drawn under the control of parent organizations giving holding companies control of hundreds of millions of dollars in capital. This great centralization has been accompanied by a decline in independent banking, he declared.

Cites Tendencies.

The reserve system, instead of limiting the growth of branch banking, has tended to increase this growth, he added, until the reserve system was being overshadowed. Turning to group banking McFadden said there was a steady growth toward organization of groups of banks in trade areas. He said this development was occurring in St. Paul and Minneapolis, San Francisco, Seattle, Boston, Cleveland, Detroit and other large cities. In the face of the centralization of capital, he asserted, a banker must either form a connection with one of these great systems or attempt to operate independently against "gigantic and overpowering competition."

THREATS FORCE FARM PRODUCTS TARIFF BOOSTS

Senate Votes Higher Rate for Dozen Items.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—[Special.]—Threats of farm organizations to bring about the defeat of all tariff legislation unless increases are made in duties on a number of additional agricultural commodities are bringing results.

The senate today approved amendments increasing duties on a dozen or more farm items without those who have heretofore opposed the upward trend even insisting upon roll calls. Reports were in circulation that the senate will reverse itself on a number of important farm proposals which have already been voted down.

The effort of corn growers of Illinois and Iowa to obtain a high duty on blackstrap molasses as a means of forcing the use of corn in the manufacture of industrial alcohol figures in the present situation.

It is now likely that a slight increase in the duty on sugar will be approved, the senate already having defeated the finance committee amendment increasing the rate.

Duties increased today on the motion of individual senators included those on cheese, dates, dried beans, unripe peas, crude chickory, and pineapples.

Passage of the tariff bill within two or three weeks is the best that the leaders hope for.

PROSPERITY TO FOLLOW '33 FAIR, REALTORS TOLD

Fear of Slump Later Called Baseless.

BY AL CHASE.

Chicago's World Fair of 1933 will bring an era of prosperity in its trail according to A. Lawren Brown, director of public relations for George F. Nixon & Co., in a speech delivered yesterday at the annual meeting of the Berwyn-Cicero Real Estate board.

Mr. Brown called attention to the fact that many people believed that a world's fair would bring a period of hard times. He outlined conditions in Chicago both before and after the 1893 exposition and pointed out that the Chicago after the fair depression was merely part of an international crisis, and that the local world's fair had nothing to do with hard times in this locality.

Says Fair Made Chicago.

"Samuel Insull, when he accepted the chairmanship of the finance committee of the World's Fair for 1933, stated, 'Chicago's position today as an industrial center is due to the stimulation of the world's fair of 1893,'" said Mr. Brown.

"Franklyn Hobbs, statistician of the Central Trust company concludes: 'The fear of a slump following an exposition is a mental ailment and hallucination rather than a thing of substance. The fact is that the world's fair of 1893 made Chicago.'

"Chicago today has three times the population, three times the unmber of factories, three times the number of wage earners she had in 1893. Chicago has eight times the amount of bank clearings, eight times as much in wages paid and eight times as much in manufactured products.

Lists Some Increases.

"The value of new buildings erected annually is 12½ times those of 1893. The post office receipts are thirteen times as much per year as in 1893.

"Our bank deposits are fifteen times as much as the bank deposits of 1893. And the wealth of Chicago today is twenty times the wealth of 1893.

"By just so much as the Chicago of today is bigger and better than the Chicago of 1893, should the effect of the World's Fair of 1933 be bigger and better than that of 1893."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 19.—The action initiated by the Standard Oil companies and followed by other large oil concerns in the midcontinent field, whereby the price of crude oil was reduced, was unwarranted according to W. H. Fitzpatrick, chairman of the Prairie Oil and Gas company.

"The fact that our company continued to pay the old prices for crude oil for thirty days after the Standard Oil made its cuts is the best evidence we could furnish that we did not consider those reductions to be justified," said Mr. Fitzpatrick to a reporter today.

"We do not think that economic conditions or statistics in the oil industry warranted the cuts and we made them with great reluctance because we were forced to do so to protect our own customers.

"We could not afford longer to maintain the price paid by the Prairie Oil and Gas company for crude oil while our competitors in the field and the competitors of our customers were able to secure adequate supplies at a price less than we were paying. We do not believer, however, that such reductions were either necessary or advisable and now believe that the evils complained of might more easily have been corrected by the various units in the industry making the same effort before that will have to be made now."

Mr. Fitzpatrick ascribed the reduction in the first instance to competitive conditions existing in the eastern gasoline market and referred somewhat sarcastically to "the sham battle" between the Standard Oil company of New Jeresey and the Shell Union, which is controlledd by the Royal Dutch.

MINING FIRM MAKES CUT IN DIVIDEND RATE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 19.—Calumet and Arizona Mining company stock has been placed on a $6 annual basis, compared with the $10 rate paid in the previous three quarters. The directors declared a quarterly payment of $1.50 a share, compared with $2.50 a share previously paid quarterly. According to a statement issued by the company the reduction was considered advisable "because of the large sums of money that have been set aside for improvements and modernization of the plants." About $7,000,000 has been expended in this work.

Mergenthaler Linotype company declared an extra dividend of 25 cents and the regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 a share. The same dividends were declared at the prior meeting, which marked a change from a regular dividend of $1.25 each quarter and an extra of 25 cents.

John J. O'Brien, president of Standard Gas and Electric company, announces the appointment of an executive committee by the board of directors. The committee is composed of Mr. O'Brien, chairman, and A. C. Allyn, Victor Emanuel, Halford Erickson, Robert J. Graf and B. W. Lynch.

Completion of the reorganization of Middle States Oil corporation was announced yesterday. The new company will be known as the Middle States Petroleum corporation and its president is to be Joseph Glass, a receiver of the old company. Norris T. Gilbert of Tulsa, Okla., is first vice president and general manager.

T. A. Kenney and E. A. Yates, who have been vice presidents and directors, respectively, of the Commonwealth Power corporation, and the Southeastern Power and Light company, have been elected directors and vice presidents of the Commonwealth and Southern corporation.

RAILROAD NOTES

Application was filed with the interstate commerce commission yesterday by the Rock Island lines for the construction of a new railroad out of Vega, Tex., for a distance of seventy-six miles south and west through the western part of the Texas pan handle and the eastern part of New Mexico, to serve an agricultural section at present without railroad facilities. The estimated cost of the new line is in the neighborhood of $2,250,000.

Fast overnight freight schedules between Chicago and St. Louis will be inaugurated by the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railway on Monday, Feb. 24, according to an announcement made last night by J. B. Ford, vice president. The new schedule will enable merchandise shipments loaded in Chicago during the day to be delivered to St. Louis consignees early the following morning.

United States railroads established a new freight car movement record in 1929 at 32.4 miles a day and a new average freight train speed record at 13.2 miles an hour.

CONSUMERS CO. HAS INCREASE IN NET INCOME

Severe competition in the building material industry caused the Consumers' company to suffer a slight decrease in earnings from that branch of the business last year, President Stuyvesant Peabody says in the annual report to stockholders issued yesterday.

Net income of the company showed an increase over 1928. After charges, including federal taxes, the net amounted to $859,035, equal, after preferred dividends, to 28 cents a share on the common stock. In 1928 the company earned $587,964, or 1 cent a share, on the common stock.

Conditions in the building material industry showed no improvement during 1929, Mr. Peabody said. "At present any improvement in the operating results for 1930 depend on the number of economies that can be made in operations of new properties acquired through unified operations and the savings in distribution costs."

The balance sheet as of Dec. 31, 1929, shows current assets totaled $7,299,688, and current liabilities of $2,727,355, against $5,081,699 and $1,635,576, respectively, at the close of 1928. Profit and loss surplus was $2,419,851 on Dec. 31 last, comparing with $2,403,211 as of Dec. 31, 1928.

PERCY WILSON BUYS 15 ACRES FOR SUBDIVISION

The fifteen acre tract between Lowe avenue and Wallace street, extending from 167th street south to 171st street, has been bought by Percy Wilson & Co. from Kryn and Nellie Van Milligan, and will be added to the Washington Park subdivision of the Percy Wilson organization. It will be placed on the market this year, it was announced. Anthony Trenning, of South Holland, was broker for the sellers.

News and Gossip of Stock Marts

Earnings Improve.

Loft stock moved up somewhat yesterday again and apparently this movement was on the news that Charles G. Guth, who has been fighting the present administration in Loft, has been removed as vice president. Loft's earnings statement for January, however, showed a good sized increase.

Prospects for Dividend.

The buying in United Aircraft is due to the report that it will probably show around $4.50 for 1929 and that a dividend of $2 is in prospect.

Radio's Outlook.

According to the talk in Wall street, Radio is being boomed on the theory that it will do a big business in the second half of the year. It is said that there has been an unusual demand for the overproduced radios in the latter part of last year and that inventories are being cut down rapidly so that the pickup should come in the second quarter.

May Resume Payments.

According to private advices United Electric Coal earned $270,000, before depreciation and depletion, on its common capitalization in the quarter ended Jan. 31. This would mean about $1 a share. Should this rate of earnings be maintained it would be possible for the corporation to resume dividends at an early date.

The Ace of Spades

By WILLIAM MACLEOD RAINE

SYNOPSIS.

Jim Rutledge, accompanied by Sim Hart, is sent out with a herd of cattle to fulfill a contract made by his father, Chandler Rutledge. On the trail they are overtaken by nine men from the Moss outfit, enemies of Rutledge. The Moss men start a stampede and drive off some of the Rutledge cattle. Jim recovers them, but in doing so shoots and kills one of the Moss raiders. The men of the Moss outfit swear to be revenged for the killing and pursue him. Jim takes refuge in a ranch house, where he finds Ellen Lawson alone in the house. She hides him when the Moss gang comes to the house inquiring for him and sends them off on another trail, even though she learns that he has injured her brother. Jim rides on into town, after saving Ellen from the unwelcome attentions of Pete Moss. Shear, the town marshal, threatens to arrest him for the attack on Steve Lawson, but Harrison Pendleton, an old trail driver, arrives on the scene in time to save Jim from arrest. Shortly afterwards Shear kills Doc Brown, who he claimed had threatened his life. This causes a great deal of excitement in the little cattle town. Jim goes to the local gambling den and is astonished to find Ellen Lawson there. She tells him she has come to speak to her brother, Steve. Jim guides her to where Steve is sitting in a poker game with Shear, Buck Roe and others. As they reach the table the lights go out and when the room is again lighted Shear is found crumpled in his chair dead with a knife in him. Ellen's right hand is covered with blood. She had become separated from Jim in the dark and some one had jostled her. In putting out her hand for support she had touched the crumpled figure. Jim and Ellen are questioned by the sheriff, Manders, and Jim is arrested.

INSTALLMENT XXII.

GIRLS MUST MARRY.

Jim asked Jerry Denver if he thought Devil Dave Moss had Shear killed.

"Fletcha! I dunno whose hand held the knife that did the job, but it's a plug of tobacco to a herd of longhorns Dave's brain guided the hand. They patched up their difficulty in a way, the old man an' Shear. Maybe that peace talk went for Joe, but it didn't for Devil Dave. He figured Shear was too domineering an' too dangerous a guy to be walkin' around sore at him. So he just trimmies down."

"May be so. Shear had a lot of other enemies."

"The Jeb's branded with a Moss running iron. Course he had luck. Yore bar owners helped him out, but if it hadn't been that way it would have been another."

"We don't want to shut our eyes just because the Moss gang are my enemies. Any one may have done this. For instance, that gambler, Black. I'd like to know more about him. Could you go to Newton and make inquiries? Find out whether he and Shear ever had a run-in, and if so, details."

"Sure," the cowboy agreed. "I'll go today."

Pete Moss grinned malevolently at Ellen.

"Dad wants to know why you didn't come when he sent for you," he said.

Ellen did not let the flutter stirring in her bosom reach the brown eyes. "What does he want with me?" she asked.

He was jubilant. She could see that, and it was a weight on her heart. Whatever it was old Dave and his sons wanted would be something hateful to her. No need to tell her that. She knew it already, just as she knew by some bell of warning within her that it had to do with Jim Rutledge. For her happiness was involved in his safety, and the surest way to disturb one was to strike at the other. That was her shameful secret, that she was in love with a man who had never given her two thoughts except when her presence forced her on his attention. She blushed at her abandon, flogged herself with her own scorn, and rejoiced brazenly at the floods of emotion that engulfed her. It was unmaidenly. All the maxims of her upbringing told her so much. But she would not have had it any other way, for never before had such exquisite tides of life flowed through her.

"All right. I'll come," she said quietly.

"Tell him right away."

"You can tell him yoreself that you have come. I'm going with you."

"I don't need yore company, Pete Moss," she told him with resentful spirit. "I know the way to his house."

"You might get lost," he said impudently. "You might stray off into some place where it isn't fitten for a lady to go. You might meet that Texas man an' get insulted by him again."

"If you mean Mr. Rutledge, he has never insulted me. He saved me from being insulted once."

"Much obliged, missie. I'll remember that one. You've got so you don't mind when you are insulted. What you need is a guardeen, an' I aim to be one, permanent. When a fellow goes to stick a bowie in another guy an' make a grid'on a screen, I'd call that 'most an insult."

"He never did that," she flared. "He didn't kill Joe Shear."

"So you say." A spurt of rage boiled up in him. "What call you got to carry on with a scalawag who shot yore brother?"

"I'm not carrying on with him just because I want fair play for an honest man, an' if I were it's none of yore business, Pete Moss," she cried. Her charge had whipped the color into her cheeks and her eyes were starry with anger.

"I'll show you about that. Get yore bonnet, girl."

He seized him, the fingernails biting into the pink palms of her hands. A flame of outrage rode stormily through her veins. He talked as though she were not a woman, and she was sure she would die before that day ever came.

"I'll get it when I'm good an' ready," she said.

"You'll get it now."

The passion died within her. Why fight with him about this trifle when she ought to be saving her strength for the ordeal before her? She would need all she had to stand up to Devil Dave.

"I think you're the most hateful man," she burst out, and turned on her heel.

Two minutes later they were walking side by side down Front street. Presently they turned up the hill toward the residence section, following a road not flanked by sidewalks. The houses were of frame, unpretentious and unpainted. At one of these they stopped.

Pete moved aside with mocking politeness to let Ellen go in first. "This is home, turn to the right," he said.

She knocked on the door. A husky voice said, "Come in."

There were two men. One of them was Sam Moss. The other was his son. Sam lounged in a rocker reading a newspaper.

Jerry Denver's figure of speech had been an apt one. Dave Moss, sitting before the table, his head sunk down into the broad, rounded shoulders, clawlike fingers at the end of the long arms, more than suggested a beast waiting patiently for the victim fly. He turned his eyes slowly and looked at the girl. She shuddered. It seemed to her the look of a creature without a soul. There was no warmth in them as obsidian.

"You sent for me," Ellen said. She could hardly keep her voice from trembling.

"I was busy."

"No, I was just ready to come when Pete got to the house," she added. "That was thoughtful of you—to come and see a poor old man, my dear. I'm glad you have come. I've been thinking about you—quite a lot." He laughed deep in his throat, making almost a rumble of his mirth. "Of yore self, my dear. You need a protector, some one to love and cherish you. I want to keep you under my own eye. Can you blame me for that? I've a daughter, since I have none of my own?"

There was something dreadful to her about it. The purring voice, the unwinking eyes that told her nothing, the long claws tapping on the table: they seemed to belong to a creature less than human.

"I don't want to marry Pete, please." She heard another girl, a stranger, speaking. So it seemed to her.

"Indeed. Pete has the bad luck not to please you? Too bad for Pete. But it can't be helped. I have other sons. Here is Sam, a likely boy. I've been hearing he is a favorite with the ladies." Again his husky mirth rolled out. He was perhaps thinking of Mamie Dugan. "How would Sam suit you, my dear? He's gentle, kind, warranted to pull in double harness. I can recommend Sam."

"I don't want to marry any one," she burst out.

"Girls must marry, my dear," he chided. "Male and female created them. Shall we say Sam, my dear, since poor Pete is out of favor."

She took a step forward to protest, but his father stopped him with a gesture.

"Please, I—I'd rather not marry," the girl cried.

"Nonsense! Just maiden modesty, my dear. Sam, put down that newspaper. How can you expect young ladies to be interested in you if you don't pay attention to them?"

Sam lowered the paper he had been reading and grinned. His gaze traveled over the girl coolly and went back to the old man.

Good Morning!

This screen adaptation of the musical comedy that had such a vogue a few years back, is one of the most handsomely staged and ensembled pieces to come among us. The excellently drilled choruses are strikingly costumed and technicolor effects are exquisite. A most unusual illusion of depth and width has been obtained by the simple expedient of painting converging black stripes on the stage floor and by cunning work with a moving camera.

Then—still dilating on the production's good points—Alexander Gray, who on the stage sang the lead in "The Desert Song," is present with his beautiful voice. Lucien Littlefield is amusing as the innocently entangled Bible publisher. Louise Fazenda gives a fairly adept performance as his prim, economical, and adoring wife, who, finally, gets hep to herself—and her husband—through the proddings of her worldly-wise friend, who is wife of the publisher's attorney. Miss Tashman is skillful as this satirical adviser. Zasu Pitts entertains as the maid who is always on the point of leaving, and a pair of gold diggers are well enough portrayed by Mildred Harris and Jocelyn Lee.

The story drags a bit at the start and I could work up no enthusiasm whatever over the work or the voice of the widely heralded new leading lady, Bernice Claire. If the truth must be told there is little glamour to the romantic episodes in which she and Mr. Gray figure, for neither of the two has much of the thing called "it."

The picture would have been better if shorter, I think, and the songs, "Tea for Two" and "I Want to Be Happy," have been proven far more effective if introduced after the manner of their stage presentation. But the pleasing parts of "No, No, Nanette," decidedly outweigh the other sort, and so—I advise you to see the show.

See you soon.

Find Golden Flowers in Tomb of Egyptian Priest

Cairo, Egypt, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Further finds in the ancient tomb discovered recently near the sphinx were made known here today. Archæologists were quoted as expressing the belief the chief prize was a large gold vase containing flowers fashioned from gold. This vase is thought once to have adorned the dining room of the high priest Rawer.

A number of additional necklaces have been found. One is composed of 4,000 rubies mounted in a magnificent gold chain. It probably belonged to the mother of Rawer.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

The Answers.

George Mathaeus Mayer, 3500 Ellis avenue, industrial engineer.—The parents don't know enough about the child's qualifications. Youths of a career choosing age know their own minds and should be aided by parents and instructors along the paths selected.

Mrs. Rae Stebbens, 2024 Indiana avenue, housewife.—I know from experience that parents should not. All young persons should decide careers for themselves. I wanted my daughter to be a musician. But she was married when she was 17 years old.

R. L. Genning, 809 Lexington street, Oak Park, Ill., salesman.—What parents wish and what the boy or girl is adapted for often are different. I was sent to Lane Tech to become a civil engineer and I turned out to be a salesman. Few can succeed in careers into which they are driven.

Miss Grace Chapelle, bookkeeper.—No. My parents wanted me to be a music teacher, but I wanted to be a bookkeeper or a stenographer. After my musical studies collapsed, at the end of seven years, they picked out an art career for which I studied for three years. Then I became a bookkeeper, so now I am happy.

Meyer Morwitz, 3648 Ainslie street, salesman.—Let young people choose their own careers, but let parents be advisers. In my case I picked my own career. With the many trades, professions, and businesses the child of 16 or 18 should choose his own field.

Plan to Aid Hospital.

General Gives Prizes; Fort Sheridan Has Annual Baby Show

Children of officers and non-commissioned officers carried off all of the prizes at the first annual baby show held yesterday at Fort Sheridan. The show was sponsored by Brig. Gen. Casper H. Conrad Jr., commander of the post, who donated the prizes.

All babies were judged by numbers, their identity not being known to the three judges, Rear Admiral Walter S. Crosley, commander of the Great Lakes station; Mrs. R. E. Wood of Highland Park; and Carter H. Fitzhugh of Lake Forest.

Edward T. Hayes Jr., son of a first lieutenant in the 3d field artillery, was first prize in the class for babies from 1 to 3 years old, with Violet Grace Olson, daughter of Sergt. Gilbert Olson of the 14th cavalry, second. John Minard Keeley, son of First Lieutenant John T. Keeley, infantry, was first among babies from 3 months to 1 year, and Betty Rethmeyer, daughter of Sergt. Walter Rethmeyer, infantry, second. Twenty-two babies were entered in the show.

Ground Is Broken for Crippled Children's Home

After ten years of planning, trustees for the Chicago Home of Destitute Crippled Children yesterday witnessed ground breaking ceremonies for two units of the home at the University of Chicago. The two buildings were made possible through the gifts of $300,000 each from Mrs. Gertrude Dunn Hicks and Mrs. Elizabeth McElwee. One building will be known as the Gertrude Dunn Hicks memorial and the other as the Nancy Adele McElwee memorial. Robert F. Carr, president of the home, and Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, headed the procession to the site, where Mr. Carr broke ground.

Three Experts to Award Ten History Prizes

Results Are Expected by March 2.

James Alton James, professor of American history and dean of the graduate school, Northwestern university; A. O. Craven, Ph. D., professor of American history at the University of Chicago, and a representative of THE TRIBUNE acting under their guidance, will be the judges in the American history contest which was started by THE TRIBUNE on Jan. 21.

Out of the thousands of replies received from all over the United States, the first eliminations were made by qualified members of THE TRIBUNE staff. The finals will go up to Dean James and Prof. Craven, with the results, it is expected, ready for publication on March 2. There are ten prizes to be awarded for these 500 word efforts at writing a history of this country. The idea of the contest came from the announcement that Calvin Coolidge had consented to write a historical outline in that space to be engraved on Mount Rushmore in the Black Hills of South Dakota.

Dean James is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and of Johns Hopkins. He delivered ten lectures in 1922 on American history at the University of Prague. He served for nine years on the Illinois State park commission. During that time the present park system was started. He has been called as a witness at the Hughes hearings on the historical facts of navigation in the Illinois waterways. His major work in history has been on the revolution in the west, and he has written a biography of George Rogers Clark which is considered by historians as the first authority on that subject. He now is engaged in writing a biography of Oliver Pollock, financier of the American revolution in the west.

Prof. Craven took his A. M. degree at Harvard and his Ph. D. at Chicago. He was professor of American history at the University of Illinois for four years, coming to Chicago two years ago. He is a member of the Council of the American Association of History in Schools, and on the executive council of the Mississippi Valley Historical association.

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

HERE is proof submitted that the repertory company at the Goodman theater can handle the comedy of modern manners, the flossy, up-to-date, worldly stuff of the commercial stage, as deftly as you please. Until now their plays, although varied in form and material, have run consistently in the "art-theater" vein; but in "Holiday" they compete with Broadway (in its more literate phase) and they make good.

Their performance of Philip Barry's piece, which flew the flag of Arthur Hopkins in New York last season, is crisp, alert, and vivid. Judged by the most exacting standards, it is sound workmanship in acting and stage direction.

"Holiday," of course, is not typical box office playwriting; Mr. Barry's comedies never are. His "Paris Bound" and his "You and I" were somewhat literary affairs; they sparkled with the self-consciousness of a fluttering phrase maker trying to make his characters too clever to be true. Nevertheless, they proved to be satisfactory fodder for playgoers in New York and Chicago and had runs that managers could respect. "Holiday" is the same type of piece, and it has had the same kind of career. And if its interpretation at the Goodman isn't nearly on a par with that of the Broadway original, then Arthur Hopkins must have engaged a cast of geniuses. In other words, the young folk who practice the art of acting in Grant park have clicked in this production.

The play itself is an odd thing, smoothly chattering its way toward unreality in a line of dialogue that is Mr. Barry's idea of smart talk among our smartest people. Most of the characters sound as if their only purpose in life was to get quoted in the New Yorker. They speak an artificial dialect which, although based upon the current vernacular, is almost as elaborately mannered as the banter of Richard Brinsley Sheridan's beaux and belles. They are allusive, metaphorical, fantastic and freakish in their eternal quest of cleverness; and when they can't be prodigies of wit and wise-crackery, they fall back upon the last resource of the ultra-clever and exclaim, "Darling!"

The story of "Holiday" deals with the family of a rock ribbed financier of Fifth avenue and the young man from nowhere who gets engaged to one of his daughters. She inherits the family tradition of success-worship, and when he announces that he wants to take his modest bank roll and spend it doing nothing but Live, she breaks off the match. Her elder sister, however, fed up with the atmosphere of Mammon, is eager to adopt the discarded boy friend, whose casual point of view suits her exactly.

There is effective comedy in some of the situations and an emotional tenseness in others. "Holiday" has grip, in spite of its artificiality. But the play drifts away from the author's intention; the young man's case, which is supposed to carry the sympathetic interest of the audience, remains to be proven.

His hard little fiancée's verdict upon him seems correct—he was nothing but a lightweight. Mr. Barry's satire of the Money Devil converted me to the side of Big Business. His admired hero seemed to have the futility of the Greenwich Village state of mind. And the two characters whom he emphasizes as ideals for a happy life bear a close resemblance to the irrepressible pests of a studio party.

Ellen Root gets a rôle in "Holiday" that suits her admirably, and she plays it with fine skill. She is the elder, and erratic, daughter who wants to get away from it all. Katherine Krug's characterization of the brittle heroine of the frustrated love story is clean cut and convincing. Neal Caldwell, as a quiet, gentleman drunkard; Roman Bohnen, as the life of the party, and Hale MacKeen [a new "juvenile"], as the easy going young man who didn't get married after all, are also effective contributors to the well balanced performance. The stage direction proves that the Goodman has found a valuable executive in Hubert Osborne.

'Yankees Behind Europe in Aid Given Mothers'

Doctors Here Cite German Clinics as Models.

BY KATHLEEN M'LAUGHLIN.

Progressive America is half a century behind Germany in the science of obstetrics. This country at the present time is just about where Germany was at the close of the Franco-Prussian war, with a maternal mortality rate, in addition, the greatest of any civilized country on the earth.

These statements were made yesterday by Dr. J. Whitridge Williams, professor of obstetrics at Johns Hopkins university school of medicine at Baltimore. They jolted his associates at the annual congress on medical education and hospitals of the American Medical association at the Palmer house.

"Forty years ago, when I was studying in Germany," Dr. Williams informed the obstetrics group, over which he was presiding, "there was a woman's clinic in connection with every university there. It is those clinics which have progressed far beyond anything they were then, and which have taken great strides forward since the war, that are chiefly responsible for the degree to which Germany has surpassed us in this branch of medicine.

"Compared with the graduates of these clinics, our obstetricians are no better than first class midwives—due to the inadequate teaching and training of our men. Now we are just beginning to establish the women's clinics here. There is one at the University of Chicago—the Lying-In-hospital, although gynecology is not taught in conjunction with obstetrics there, as is the case in Germany. It would be better if the two were combined in one building."

Confirmation of these sentiments was forthcoming from Dr. John O. Polak, professor of gynecology and obstetrics at the Long Island College hospital, Brooklyn.

"The teaching of obstetrics in many of our medical schools is wholly inadequate," he said, "and the clinical instruction and experience afforded our students is far less than that required of midwives in the states which license them and supervise their work, and very much less than is required for a midwife's license in any foreign country."

Statistics showing that more childbirth deaths are charged against physicians than against midwives were challenged by Dr. J. M. H. Rowland, death of the University of Maryland school of medicine. Dr. Rowland pointed out that a large number of such fatalities came after the case had been handled by a midwife, who finally had been compelled to call in a physician when the patient was beyond medical assistance.

During the morning session Dr. E. C. Ernst of St. Louis read a paper by Dr. P. F. Butler of the Boston City hospital, Boston, stating that despite the tragedy at the Cleveland clinic last year, in which many patients were killed by fumes from burning X-ray films, there are still many communities in which this danger has not been removed.

"Safety film costs about 20 per cent more than the highly explosive nitrate film," he added, "and is good insurance against fire and explosions."

Malaria, long believed under the control of the medical world, has broken out again in new and even more virulent form, especially in southern Illinois nad northern Missouri, health officials were told last night by Dr. C. C. Bass, dean of the medical school at Tulane university. Dr. Bass talked at the Chicago Medical society meeting at the Medical and Dental Arts building.

Quinine in large doses still is the doctor's best weapon against malaria, the New Orleans authority said, but it must be administered by a physician after a survey of the patient and a laboratory analysis of the type of malaria contracted.

South Side Art Show Offers Some Fine Landscapes

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The South Side Art association has a rather uneven show in its current exhibit of paintings by members in the galleries on the ninth floor of the Fine Arts building. There are enough good canvases to make a fair average, but it is uphill work. The strain of putting over the exhibition falls on a score of paintings.

In the largest room Frank V. Dudley has a sparkling canvas, "Sand Cherry in Festive Array," another painting of the dunes and very beautiful. Louis Jensen shows an effective marine, "Storm on the Baltic." Ruth Scholl has an adorably intimate little portrait, the painting of a child, "Little Daughter." Ethel Crouch Browne offers a very fine "Still Life," with good painting and discriminating composition to bring it into focus. Florence White Williams is represented by a colorful dramatic episode, "Leiria Market, Portugal."

In the smaller gallery there is a remarkably fine portrait, "John B. Hopkins," by Lucille Stevenson Dalrymple; "From My Cabin Window" is one of the most charming paintings Matilda Vanderpoel has submitted this season; William Eppens has a delightful landscape, "Sunset's High Heaped Gold"; Paul Parker shows a gay "Boat Landing"; and Lucie Hartrath gives us an exquisite little intimate glimpse, "In Our Alley"—her alley must be an attractive place, the picture is fascinating.

In the hall hangs a startlingly effective still life, "An Arrangement," by William H. Mosby, a thing of motion and verve depending for its glamorous appeal upon the shining black horse, the tilt of the lamp, the angle of the magazine and the decorative wallpaper, all of these, of course, dependent in their turn on the clever vision and fantastic fancy of Mr. Mosby. Across from it is the cool and well painted "Studio Window" by Increase Robinson, a combination of interior table and fruit and plant and exterior Grant Park, very well manipulated. Josephine Reichman offers a lovely canvas in her warmly colored "Fisherman's Village," with red roofs jewel-like among the green trees. "Play Day," by Mullen, is an amusing sketch. As has been said, "the touch of summer is on it." To an untutored eye, however, summer lags far behind and it is winter that holds the dog and boys in its frosty grip.

The exhibit will continue through the month.

These Don'ts May Be Useful in Avoiding Child's Stubbornness

By Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

After suggesting the two things that do help in preventing or overcoming stubbornness in a child, it's not a bad idea to mention a few don'ts.

Since I'm not an advocate of don'ts for children, perhaps I shouldn't use them. Or I might voice a few don'ts in the spirit in which some one the other day took up a beautiful wedge of homemade pie before the children, and remarking, "This is what you musn't do!" began eating it with gusto, point first. This is what you mustn't do—use don'ts. So here are some don'ts!

Don't try to combat stubbornness with holding out—your will against you child's. Don't, in a stubborn crisis, give ultimatums—or ultimata like, "Well, you shall do it" or, "You can't, and that's all there is to it." This often creates an impasse with emotional effects that are not good—not to mention the fact that the grown ups are often worsted.

Don't make a "scene"—or allow any one else to, if you can help it—over an instance of stubbornness. In fact, avoid these crises. Avoid making an issue of things when you see a stubborn spell in the offing. There are other times when the firm "No"—when an insistence is necessary, but that is not what we are talking about now.

The stubborn child needs quiet, gentle talking to. She or he needs tactful treatment, reasonable explanations and sometimes a change of thought or occupation for a while. Tiredness and hunger may be factors to consider, too. And whatever else you do, try to avoid an audience if you are confronted with a really stubborn spell. People looking on [even those much loved], or worse, putting their word in, make your task more difficult.

But better than all these don'ts, is the prevention that is the result of managing your children so they cease to feel those resistances that cause stubbornness.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY PAUL POTTER

Red raspberries are gaining in favor among small fruit growers. The Latham variety, developed at the Minnesota station, is becoming increasingly popular. It is hardy, produces a large berry, and has met with much success in the state.

Strong, vigorous, mosaic free plants should be planted to insure berries that will find a ready market. At Minnesota this berry produced enough the first year to pay the cost of the plants. By the third year the plants reach their maximum production.

In planting a new patch H. L. Lantz, Iowa pomologist, recommends that the rows be 6 feet apart and the plants 4 feet apart in the rows. The hedge row system is also satisfactory if high cultural methods are practiced.

Raspberries demand a high state of culture to insure maximum returns. They require great quantities of plant food. Weeds and all excess growth must be kept out to insure maximum fertility for the plants. In addition to intense cultural methods, proper pruning must be observed to insure good returns. Only large canes should be saved. In pruning the canes should be cut back to about 48 inches.

Raspberries that are picked clean—ripe fruit gathered each day and packed in neat boxes—will demand a high premium of the market. Unless careful methods of culture, pruning, and harvesting are followed the fruit will be small, crumbly, and worthless.

Bright Sayings of the Children

"My mother-in-law, myself and baby son, 1½, took a trolley ride. The car was crowded, so I got a seat immediately and held him on my lap while his grandmother stood up. He looked up and down the car and said, "Somebody will have to get up and give my grandmother a seat." In an instant she got one. J. A. D.

Society Group Plans for Trip, Taking Children

BY THALIA ——.

Also, in one group of youngsters there is more than historical reason for being glad Washington's birthday is a national holiday. They won't have any school tomorrow, and their respective parents have cooked up a joyful week-end excursion for them to make a delightful hiatus in school term.

Mrs. George R. Nichols Jr., Mrs. Gustavus F. Swift, Lawrence M. Swift, and the Charles D. Freys are parents who have evolved the delightful plan of taking their respective boys and girls all down to French Lick Springs for a few days' outing. They leave tonight and will return Monday. Mrs. Swift's Gustavus Jr. and Mrs. Vilas' son, Lawrence Nichols' George and Frank, Mrs. Freyer Charles Jr. and Barbara will make up the juvenile contingent of the party. Huntley Gilbert will add the nonparent element to the party, which undoubtedly will be enjoyable for the adults as for the young fry, too.

The Thursday morning programs at the Women's Athletic club continue to attract large audiences. Among those who have made reservations for the recital of Negro exaltations and Kentucky mountain songs this morning by Marion Kerby and John J. Hall, and for the luncheon following are Mrs. William Nelson Pelouze, Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank, Mrs. Benjamin Scott, Mrs. W. G. C. Orr, Mrs. Robert White, Mrs. George Craig, Mrs. Joseph Dower, Mrs. Arthur Tutton, Mrs. Frank Gordon, Mrs. Secor Cunningham, Mrs. Edwin W. Sims and Mrs. Joseph L. Watson.

Mrs. Augustus A. Carpenter is to give a luncheon next Monday at her apartment at 1130 Lake Shore drive for members of the board of directors of the Lake Shore League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Ralph Martin Shaw of 1427 Astor parkway went to Washington, D. C., with Mr. Shaw, so she could help him give his speech about prohibition in Chicago before the house judiciary committee.

Mrs. Samuel Insull is now in New York City, and is planning to go to Palm Beach with Mrs. Rensselaer W. Cox at the Everglades club in Florida.

Mrs. D. Mark Cummings and Mrs. George F. Mclaughlin have returned to Florida. There they visited Mrs. Stanley Field at Sarasota, and later were guests of the Albert Blake Dicks at the "Chatlain." The Dicks keep a continuous house party on their yacht. Mrs. William P. Martin is with them, Mrs. Warren M. Sallsbury has just left, and Mrs. C. Morse is on her way down.

Mrs. J. Newton Perry departed yesterday for a stay in Miami and Palm Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Charles M. Kittle of 209 Lake Shore drive returned from a trip to Havana, Cuba, and Punta Gorda, Fla., to spend a day in town before leaving yesterday for a fortnight in New York, she will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jahncke. As Mr. Jahncke is one of the officials for the Grand Opera, she will doubtless attend the colorful, traditional festivities.

Mrs. Ralph H. Wilson of 209 Lake Shore drive and Miss Irene Wilson have returned from a stay of several weeks in the south. They were joined for the last time by Mr. Wilson's son, Mr. Ralph O. Wilson of Winnetka, but Mr. Walter O. and their daughter, Miss, couldn't go on the trip because they fell victims to the mumps.

Probably their new penthouse dominating the top of the 1500 Lake Shore drive building will look all the better

[Moffett Photo.]

Mr. and Mrs. Myles J. Phillips of Wilmette announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothea Elizabeth, to Dr. Daniel R. Cunningham of Chicago. Miss Phillips is a graduate of the University of Chicago and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma and of the Esoteric society. Dr. Cunningham was graduated from Rush Medical school in 1928.

to the George Woodruffs when they return about a month hence from a short trip to Europe on which they set forth yesterday. The process of getting it completed and furnished has been long and wearing, but the results are reported to be impressive. One of the features of the residence will be a perfectly scrumptious roof garden, which is now all set to spring into bloom with warm weather.

Mrs. William S. Monroe, chairman of the woman's auxiliary board of the Chicago Historical society, is to preside at the meeting of the Pioneer Citizens' club at the Drake hotel on Saturday, Washington's birthday, at 11 o'clock in the morning.

The Pioneers, newly organized, is composed of selected students from the public, private, and parochial schools for the purpose of learning how to be good citizens through the lessons taught by our forefathers. The boys and girls are to march from the Historical society to the Drake, where members of the board will meet them.

Parents, Educators Will Hear Children Discussed by Savants

Dr. Otto Rank of Paris, who for twenty years was the student and associate of Dr. Sigmund Freud and for ten years edited psycho-analytic journals in Europe, will be one of the main speakers at the Palmer house March 6, 7, and 8. The conference is sponsored by the Chicago Association for Child Study and Parent Education and is held every two years. Authorities representing American universities will contribute to the three day program on the emotional life of the child.

Dr. M. C. Winternitz, a member of the institute on human relations at Yale, will be the speaker at a dinner meeting on Friday evening, March 7. At that session President Robert Maynard Hutchins of the University of Chicago will preside. It is expected the conference will be attended by about 3,000 parents, educators, and social service workers, and it has the cooperation of twenty-two Chicago organizations.

A concert at Orchestra hall on March 3, at which Martinelli will be the attraction, has been arranged as a benefit for the association. Boxes for the occasion have been taken by Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, Chauncey McCormick, Harold and Charles Swift, Boetius Sullivan, George W. Dixon, Col. A. A. Sprague, Gen. Abel Davis, B. E. Sunny, Clement Studebaker, Samuel Insull, Leo Wormser, and a number of others.

The Rev. Leland Hobart Damforth is to read the service at 4:30 o'clock before a small group of relatives and intimate friends.

Miss Charlotte Hubbart, the bride's sister, is to be maid of honor, and Miss Ashton Wilson of Fayetteville, N. C., is to be bridesmaid. Peter Donchian of New York City will serve Mr. Schweizer as best man. Mr. Schweizer and his bride are to sail on March 7 for a four months' trip to Europe and after July 1 will be at home at the Westchester Country club at Rye, N. Y.

To Aid Scholarships.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—Invitations for Feb. 27 were issued today from the White House for the postponed reception in honor of the members of the house of representatives. The dinner to the foreign ambassadors and ministers will take place tomorrow evening. That was to have been the date for the reception to the congressmen. In consequence of the change the remainder of the functions at the White House probably will be one week later than the original schedule, unless they are cancelled.

Cancellation is not expected, however, though none in the offices of Warren Delano Robbins, ceremonials officer, claims to know what will come after the 27th.

The regular army and navy reception and several receptions, new to the schedule, it would seem, still are to be given.

Mrs. Hoover this afternoon attended the concert of Rosa Ponselle, Metropolitan Opera star. She was accompanied by Mrs. Taft, wife of the former chief justice; Miss Susan Dyer, White House guest, and Mrs. Large, sister and guest of Mrs. Hoover.

Mrs. Lamont, wife of Secretary of Commerce Robert P. Lamont of Chicago, has gone south for a short visit. She will return the middle of next week. Miss Lamont did not accompany her.

Mrs. James Davis, wife of the secretary of labor, held a large reception this afternoon, the last she will have this season. She will go south in a few days accompanied by Mrs. James Elwood Jones to remain until March 4.

Mrs. Samuel Williams Earle of Winnetka, former recording secretary general of the D. A. R., was the guest of honor at luncheon today given by Mrs. Samuel A. Kimberly, niece of the late Mrs. Duff Haynie of Chicago. The commercial secretary of the British embassy and Mrs. Leander McCormick-Goodhart went yesterday to New York from where Mrs. McCormick-Goodhart sailed today for a short visit to Bermuda.

$2,000,000 Flower Show April 5 to 13 in the Stadium

A $2,000,000 flower show will be held in the Chicago Stadium April 5 to 13, according to plans discussed yesterday at a joint meeting of several organizations. It will be called the central states garden and flower show held under the auspices of the Garden Club of Illinois, Commercial Flower Growers' association, and the North Shore Horticultural society. The meeting yesterday was presided over by Mrs. Walter S. Brewster of Lake Forest.

Former Scotch Miner Likely Again to Get High Church Position

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Feb. 19.—James Brown, former coal miner, soon will begin unpacking his gold lace uniform and cocked hat, which he wore as lord commissioner of the Church of Scotland in 1924. The expectation in political circles is that Brown will be reappointed to his old post this year, succeeding the king's second son, the duke of York, as the occupant of Holyrood palace during the meeting of the church assembly.

Brown and his wife, who was once a mill girl, then would drive in state through Edinburgh with a cavalry escort and as the representatives of the king and queen, give state dinners, receptions, and garden parties in the historic palace.

Six years ago Brown's appointment by the first Labor government was popular in Scotland, and he and his wife fulfilled their unaccustomed duties with dignity and efficiency.

Catholic Schools' Students Give Musicale Tomorrow

One year's progress in group instruction in music will be demonstrated by students of the Catholic parochial schools of the Chicago archdiocese in a program to be presented Friday afternoon at the Studebaker theater, under the sponsorship of the Rev. Daniel Cunningham, superintendent of the archdiocesan schools. One part of the program will be given by blind students who are members of the Oxford system piano classes. The remainder of the numbers will be presented by pupils in similar classes who have their sight, all of whom are taught by the nuns in the elementary schools.

Intelligence Test Seems Trifle Short on Intelligence

BY DORIS BLAKE.

It was presented as part of an intelligence test, but use your own good judgment. Don't let me persuade you one way or the other, even if a big university professor did think up the question all by himself!

Anyway, here is what you are supposed to be able to answer intelligently, boys and girls:

"When she is content with expensive entertainment.

"When she permits him to kiss her goodnight.

"When she refuses to let the other fellow make love to her."

"When he gets serious and wants to marry her?

"When he proves that he cannot hold a job of any kind?

"When he gets angry and scolds.

"When he is too free in making love to other girls?"

Who ever heard of a girl throwing over her "best fellow" because he got serious and wanted to marry her? If there hasn't been enough strain on your intelligence already, then try checkings two good checks against the following:

"When she refuses to doll up and look smart.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Mushroom Sauces.

It is considered the height of something to have a mushroom sauce with roast tenderloin of beef, which of itself belongs to high class cookery. Mushrooms have sometimes been described as "game without feet," and perhaps in many cases when used as a sauce they do add a sort of gamey flavor and are particularly recommended for tenderloin steak or filet mignon. But as for that, if we have the right mushroom sauce it could enhance corned beef hash.

As for ourselves, we like to prepare mushrooms in the simplest possible fashion and then add to them a thickened cream, milk, chicken stock or something of that sort to make a sauce. But once upon a time we recommended the following Italian mushroom sauce in writing of the gathering and use of wild mushrooms. There are people who delight in mushroom gathering bees from early spring till frost comes, and this recipe came from one who was familiar with that charming diversion called a mushroom party:

Put into a sauce pan equal parts of unsalted butter and water—a small amount of each—with several onions cut fine. The amount of water and butter will depend upon the quality of mushrooms. It means as a whole a rather thick mass to cook together until the water evaporates, when the onions will brown quickly. Then add the mushrooms in the desired quantity, some fresh tomato and cook. To make this truly Italian we need a little sweet basil put in with the onion, but instead of this we may use chopped parsley or a tiny bit fo celery. Finally add just a little salt.

This mixture of onions, mushrooms and tomatoes makes an exceedingly tempting sauce to use with yellow corn meal mush, which the Italians call polenta or farina or semolina, or it may be used with the finest ground white corn meal. The sauce keeps well. It is a good sauce to use with scrambled eggs on toast. But make it once and you can judge what you would like to use it with, and all such exercises of judgment are profitable.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

The bodice of this chic frock is slightly bloused and emphasizes the smooth fitting hipline with the shirred girdle that hugs the figure. The collarless Vionnet neckline is youthful and becoming, and the dart fitted sleeves make the arm look slender. The skirt, cut with a flaring circular hem, has a fitted line through the hips. Black crêpe satin is always smart and wearable, while Canton crêpe in a rich claret red shade, silk crêpe in a tweed pattern in wood brown tones, and crêpe Romain in a dark purple shade are all appropriate.

The pattern, 2902, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 2¾ yards of 40 inch material with ⅝ yard of 36 inch contrasting.

Present Styles Are Especially Adapted to the Tall Femme

by Antoinette Donnelly

Maybe it's all in the way you look at it. Anyway, the thought has often registered with me that small women were in the minority. Being tall—and envious of the cute little darlings, perhaps, like other tall women, I exaggerated the small ones' predominance.

Anyway, a couple of London medical specialists have been looking the girls over, or to be more exact, have been looking them up and the finding is that taller women are the rule. The prediction is made that presently the Maw of a debutante daughter has to figure in, with her other launching expenses, the high cost of an additional foot length of skirt to cover a six foot child. Happily, though, for Mamma's matrimonial plans, young men are going to be permitted to shoot up, also.

Not only to the widespread playing of vigorous games by girls and boys do our authorities credit the skyscraper trend in human beings, but to the better health propaganda absorbed nowadays.

"Human beings are growing healthier, larger, and taller all the time," we are told.

These peering-into-the-future seances are usually not so disturbing to the current generation as they threaten to be to the following ones, by which time we'll all be fitted into nice white robes of angelic design, so we should worry. BUT the new styles may have influenced the tall girl decision somewhat, for they do make girls look startlingly tall, don't they? I'm inclined to think now my idea of the small girl surplus was based on the shortening frocks of past days.

At any rate, it proves what possibilities do lie in dress, if inches are wanted to stretch figures taller. Also, it ought to bring solace to the already tall women who invariably are given to bemoaning their fate. Their day is here, for height seems to be in current favor, though breadth and thickness keep to their old unpopular place. The tall girls' problem of how not to get completely out of reach is simplified somewhat by the skill of dress designers who give them less extreme skirt lengths to choose from, and hats that are shortening in effect.

Spring Costumes Suggest Flowers

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—The first spring costumes are beginning to appear like little snowdrops peeping through the snow. Fresh printed silks have all the gayety of the first crocuses after the velvet curtained, fur hung winter. Prints will be good again this year despite prophecies to the contrary, but they will differ distinctly from the prints of last season.

Rodier is showing floral silks inspired by the more realistic Chinese and Persian patterns and small flower patterns which seem to have first bloomed on our great grandmothers' cashmere shawls in the forties and fifties. With few exceptions, prints are less splashy than before. They have the delicate perfection of spring flowers. Diamond, diagonal cheque and birdseye patterns are a relief from too many floral motifs, and there is nothing smarter than the regularly spaced tiny dot and larger coin designs.

Blues are staging a sensational comeback this spring. There is more navy blue than has been seen for years. It has its place in the morn to midnight wardrobe of the smart Parisienne, and all sorts of paler blues are here too—violet and gray violet blue, iris blue, sky blue, and stone blue. A leading characteristic of the 1930 colors is that they appear most often toned with their complementary color. Attraction of opposites, don't you know! For example you mix blue and orange and you get one of the new rich peacock shades. Blue and yellow make the popular turquoises and robin's eggs.

Jean Patou uses blue and yellow in this new crêpe de Chine ensemble, which he calls Le Bouquet, but he does not mix them. Yellow coin spots are printed on a navy blue ground. Patou gives his spring bouquet scalloped petals and plaited leaves. April showers are worth the drenching if such sartorial buds as this ensemble are to be the result.

The blouse is enlivened by a plastron and ruffle of yellow plaited crêpe de Chine. The skirt is formed by many small flared gores, scalloped round the bottom, which extend above the belt placed at the natural waist. Six scalloped folds lend gayety to the three-quarter coat. The little gored and scalloped back cape is new and diverting. The yellow is accented in a crêpe de Chine boutonnière to match the plastron.

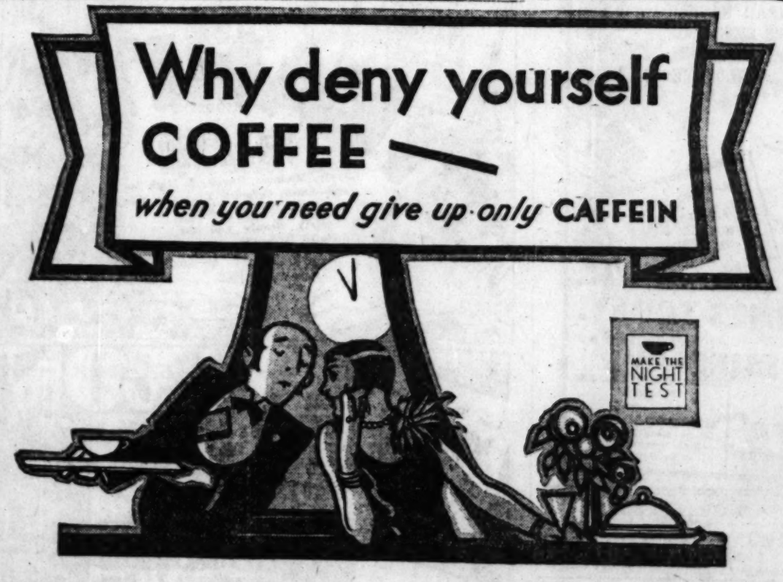
Why deny yourself COFFEE

when you need give up only CAFFEIN



EVEN IF coffee may have affected your sleep, your digestion, or your nerves, you need no longer deny yourself its solace and cheer. For it's caffein—a single ingredient of coffee—that causes the trouble. Drink Sanka Coffee—genuine, delicious coffee from which 97% of the caffein has been removed.

Coffee—steaming and fragrant! . . . . . What a joy to be able to drink coffee again! And what a joy to drink such delicious coffee as Sanka Coffee is! For it is the choicest of Central and South American coffees so skillfully roasted and blended as to bring out the richest flavor, the most tempting aroma. Coffee experts recognize that no other blend is finer—in quality or in flavor.

Physicians endorse Sanka Coffee wholeheartedly. Your grocer carries it—ground or in the bean—in full-pound cans that preserve its freshness and its fragrance. He sells it on this basis: "If, after a thorough trial, you are not fully satisfied, return what's left and we'll refund the full purchase price." Get a can of Sanka Coffee to-day!

Make the night-test! . . . The first time you try Sanka Coffee, drink it at night! It won't keep you awake. Next morning you'll know you've discovered a delicious coffee that you can enjoy morning, noon and night—without regret!

Again?

The unenlightened woman who still suffers every month, receives little sympathy when she could so easily end those pains with Midol. This merciful medicine is not a narcotic, you know. Nor does it interfere in the slightest with the normal and natural process itself. But Midol does banish the pain—in five to seven minutes. Because it acts directly on the organs affected. If taken ahead of time, you may avoid a single uncomfortable moment. Try to realize what a truly wonderful discovery this is; it has made at least one form of suffering quite needless. When every drug store has these harmless tablets, isn't it foolish to be a martyr? Midol costs fifty cents, in metal case.*

* Midol's comfort is not confined to any certain days or age. It relieves at any time of life. Its ease is felt immediately in cases of nervous headache, backache, cramping, hot flashes and all febrile pain peculiar to women.
